WHEAT CLIMBS TO $1.51 IN WAVE OF PROSPERITY

Europe Is Big Buyer in U. S. Markets.

A picture of increasing national prosperity is presented in today's news. In the foreground is the remarkable advance in the prices of farm products. The principal elements in the picture are:

1. Wheat for May delivery rises to $1.51¼ a bushel in Chicago, an advance of more than 4 cents in a day and of 15 cents since Saturday. Rye climbs 25 cents in less than a week.
2. A. G. Genung, department of agriculture economist, says the good old days are back for the farmer, with increasing prosperity for farmers in all sections.
3. Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the War Finance corporation, reports credit machinery and railroads functioning smoothly in marketing gigantic wheat crop.
4. Reports which appear in the financial pages show increased activity of railway equipment, agricultural machinery, and textile plants, while Wall street's traditional interest in stocks switches to grain and cotton.

Phenomenal advances in the prices of wheat and rye were registered yesterday at the Chicago Board of Trade.

In one of the wildest sessions the market has seen in years the price of wheat for delivery next May soared 4⅛ cents above the [illegible] [illegible]. The final price in Chicago was $1.51¼, an advance of 15 cents a bushel since last week. Yesterday's price is among the highest ever recorded at this season in peace times.

Rye's Advance Startling.

The advance in rye was no less startling. Several months ago May rye was selling at less than 80 cents a bushel. Yesterday the market had soared to $1.35, an advance of 25½ cents since last Saturday. Rye is the chief bread grain of all the eastern European countries.

These advances will add millions to the wealth of American farmers. The jumps in price are attributed to immense buying by European countries. Wet weather at harvest time lessened the yield of European farms, which had already suffered severely from a wet and cold summer.

An additional factor making for high prices is the material reduction in Canadian wheat and oats yield from last year's return, grain dealers say. There is little belief in market circles that the reports of crop failures abroad are exaggerated.

World Situation Astounds.

Traders were startled yesterday by the department of agriculture's concise analysis of the world's supply and demand of wheat and rye.

This tabulation was set forth exclusively in THE TRIBUNE and resulted in immediate, immense buying of all grains. Cables from THE TRIBUNE'S correspondent in Germany, describing the acute shortages of food and feed grains there also have been a factor in the advance.

Germany was not the only foreign country in the market yesterday. In the last few days, heavy orders from France, Italy, Greece, Austria, the United Kingdom, Latvia, Sweden, Norway and Denmark have been filled. After the close of the market, Germany and France were trying to pick up wheat and oats.

Expect Political Reflex.

Political forecasters talked of the grain market and nothing else last night. Republican leaders are convinced that the higher prices will cut heavily into the vote La Follette expects in the grain growing northwest.

Reports had been widely circulated among the farmers that the recent advance in the price of grain had been arranged by "Wall street" in order to influence their votes. Republican leaders now assert that there no longer can be any doubt that the previous advances, as well as that of yesterday, are the direct result of foreign buying in the face of world shortages.

Greater Advances Outside U. S.

While the advance in the Chicago market was almost unprecedented, it actually is small compared with the marking up that has been going on outside the United States. May wheat closed in Winnipeg yesterday at $1.51¼, 20 cents a bushel above the low price of Saturday. October wheat at Liverpool has jumped 17 cents a bushel in the same time and closed at $1.70.

The uncertain element in the situation is the crop of the southern hemisphere. Unless exporters in Argentina

Cops of Zion Roughhouse Dry Agent

Brice Armstrong, widely known as the "cowboy prohibition agent," has put the law on three of Zion City's cops because, he says, they tore off his revenue badge, his shirt, and his best trousers.

And that's not the half of it, according to Armstrong. The policemen locked him in Prophet Voliva's "boob" and made out that he was drunk and a speeder and pretended they never had heard of Armstrong, his gun plays with Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake, or his testimony before senate investigating committees.

For Zion Cops to Learn.

All these things constitute obstruction of federal justice, interference with a government officer, and many other high crimes, according to a decision reached yesterday in a conference attended by Mr. Armstrong and Legal Adviser Elbert Lloyd of the prohibition department.

Following the conference, warrants for the arrest of the offending policemen were demanded by Armstrong, and arrangements made for their immediate incarceration.

Knowledge of Brice's humiliation came as a surprise to local prohibition agents and a shock to beer hustlers, because it had been understood that Armstrong had been sent far, far away. Instead, the Zion mixup revealed, he has been "working under cover" in the Chicago territory.

Armstrong's troubles began Monday night, but because of his secret assignment details were suppressed at the federal building until yesterday afternoon. Then arrest warrants were decided on.

Gets Scent of Beer.

Here's about what happened, according to a digest of several versions, including Brice's:

Most of the good beer that has been reaching Chicago has been run in on alternate days from Wisconsin breweries controlled by a ring headed by the O'Donnell brothers.

Monday afternoon Agent Armstrong picked up an empty O'Donnell truck in Chicago which he suspected was to start after dark to Wisconsin for a load of "amber."

Of course Brice trailed the truck. And, sure enough, it eventually headed north.

The truck dashed along at a steady thirty-five miles an hour, with the doughty dry sleuth a short distance behind.

Trails 'Em Into Zion City.

As the pursued and pursuer reached the southern outskirts of Zion City, Mr. Armstrong decided it would be a smart thing to slow down to twenty miles an hour while passing through the city.

The truck continued to rush along at thirty-five (this is from the Armstrong version) and swished by the police, scarcely noticed. But when Brice came along the three policemen, whom Armstrong identified as Officers Perry, Barry, and Bailey, seized him.

Armstrong told them that he guessed they didn't know who he was and that if the annoyance didn't cease he stood in a position to "shoot his way out" of the difficulty.

After many hours of strong language Mr. Armstrong brought about the return of his credentials and his release and left the Zion calaboose, his raiment and dignity in shreds.

HOLDUP PAIR TAKE $8,000 FROM 'BOOKIES'

Edward Linde and Guy Lane, 118 North La Salle street, bookmakers at the Aurora race meet, reported to police last night that they were held up and robbed of $8,000, used in the day's play at the track, by two young men who leaped on the running board of their machine at Jefferson street and Jackson boulevard last night. Both the bandits had revolvers, they said.

Cloud Climber Scales Tower Staff Today

James Wiedersberg, 34 years old, of 3045 South Canal street, who became the most famous steeplejack in Chicago overnight, will climb 587 feet above Michigan boulevard at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon when he repairs the pulley at the top of the flagpole on The Tribune Tower.

He was chosen from fifty-two applicants for the job because of his experience, ability, and speed. For seventeen years he has painted and repaired high flagstaffs and smokestacks. His record is free from accidents.

Splices New Rope.

All day yesterday Wiedersberg worked on his apparatus. He spliced and braided new manila ropes that will grip the smooth surface of the 112 foot steel pole he must ascend. One rope will form the stirrup in which he stands; the other will make the saddle in which he will sit. It is to those two ropes that he will trust his life.

At 11:45 o'clock he will leave the street level and start his half hour climb to the thirty-fifth story. In half an hour more he will reach the top of the flagpole.

Cameras to Follow.

Photographers will follow his movements with cameras mounted on the tower of the Wrigley building. Police will guard against traffic tangles on the link, for spectators over an area of six square miles will be watching the climb.

Michael Kelley of Negaunee, Mich., was a fifty-third applicant yesterday for the honor of climbing the flagstaff. His application was made by wire.

PERSIA EXECUTES 3 FOR MURDER OF MAJ. IMBRIE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

TEHERAN, Persia, Oct. 2.—Three Persians, one an officer, were executed by a firing squad this morning on the parade grounds here for the murder of Maj. Robert Imbrie, American vice consul, last July.

Maj. Imbrie was beaten by religious fanatics when he attempted to take photographs of a "miracle fountain." Melin Seymour, another American, accompanying Maj. Imbrie, was severely beaten by the mob.

JUDGE ADVISES CRITICS TO KEEP THEIR SHIRTS ON

And Tells Reporter to "Go to Hell."

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—"This is a good time for gentlemen in baseball who are not clothed with responsibility to keep their shirts on."

In this characteristic fashion Commissioner of Baseball K. M. Landis tonight indicated that he was seeking no advice as to the proper course to take as regards the playing of the world's series as the result of the bribery scandal that caused the banishment of Outfielder Jimmy O'Connell and Coach Cozy Dolan of the champion Giants from organized baseball.

The commissioner made his terse statement without mentioning the names of persons he might have been shooting at. In the next breath, however, he did say that he had read what Ban Johnson, president of the American league, and Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club, had said about the advisability of canceling the post-season classic.

Series Will Be Played.

"Then the series positively will be played as scheduled?" was asked the supreme arbiter of the game.

"Yes, it will be played as if this matter had never come up," was the reply. "Inside of four days after the attempted bribery of Sand of the Phillies had occurred, the guilty persons had been placed on baseball's ineligible list. Surely our speedy action in the matter must indicate that the game is being kept clean."

"What about world's series games of the future? In view of what happened in New York, would you consider it advisable to abandon the classic for all time?" was the next question given the commissioner.

"World's series games will be continued," was the emphatic reply, the gray haired jurist meanwhile giving his soft hat another ruinous twist and pounding the floor with his cane.

As to the advisability of the White Sox and Giants abandoning their proposed tour to Europe this fall, the commissioner said that he could not answer. His uncertainty in this matter as compared to his positive answers to other questions indicated that he might suggest to the interested parties that the jaunt be abandoned.

Finally "Opens Up."

Landis' willingness to talk on the bribery subject this evening was in direct contrast to his attitude when pressed for information this morning when he arrived in New York. In a pre-luncheon interview he said that he had nothing with which to supplement the statement given out in Gotham.

It is possible that the change in attitude was brought about by the actions of a newspaper man who stood up before twenty-five other members of the fourth estate and informed Landis, in effect, that the press wasn't satisfied with the way he was dodging questions on the O'Connell case. The speaker's inference was that Landis hadn't told the entire story of the bribery. The inquisitor said he was speaking for all the newspaper men present.

Landis, apparently taken aback for a minute, inquired as to the identity of the man addressing him, and then, upon learning the complainant was a writer who in the past had taken sundry shots at him, the commissioner bellowed forth:

"You can go to hell. I don't give a damn what you write about me."

Asks Only Fair Criticism.

Later in the evening Landis explained to a few newspaper men that he had no objection to being criticized unfavorably for anything he might do in his official capacity. He said that all he asked was that the critics be fair.

When Landis arrived here this morning apparently with a wish to add no information to what he had given out in New York, the first question put to him was whether he had made any effort to learn where the $500 was to come from. He replied that he did not know about that angle. He did add, however, that the investigation was closed, as he was convinced O'Connell and Dolan were the sole participants.

Wine Graft 'King' Seized by U. S. Men

David Wexler, 928 South Claremont avenue, was arrested last night by federal officers, charged with being the "pay-off man" of the sacramental wine graft ring now under investigation.

Wexler, ostensibly a junk dealer, is said to have handled thousands of dollars monthly in his rôle as go-between for fake congregations, Jewish "benevolent societies," and other wine bootleggers on one side, and wine wholesalers and alleged crooked members of the prohibition department on the other.

Violated Bootleg Etiquette?

Although many of Wexler's operations are said to have been ingenious, he committed the unpardonable bootleg error of doing business with checks, it is said.

Some of these checks are said to be in the hands of Patrick Roche of the special intelligence unit. They are reported to form the most important piece of evidence uncovered thus far, indicating "where the money went."

The arrest of Wexler followed immediately a "grapevine" bulletin from the federal building yesterday afternoon that "somebody way up in the wine racket has squawked."

As the rumor circulated through the prohibition office, speculation fixed on Frank Loveland, Irving Friedman, and Harry Ex, wholesale wine agents, as the men who had "talked" when confronted with threats of "trips to Leavenworth."

U. S. Agents Seize Wexler.

While there was trembling at the probability that Loveland, Friedman or Ex had decided to tell "who got the big money," United States Deputy Marshal Murray, Special Intelligence Agent Stout, and General Prohibition Agent Niehof dashed out into the Ghetto and placed Wexler under arrest. He was taken directly to the federal building and questioned in the special intelligence unit's office.

Broadway Store Raided.

During the day Hyman Traeger, president of the North Shore Beth-El congregation, 1101 Bryn Mawr avenue, and Joseph Frankelstein and Benjamin Cohen, distributors for the congregation, were questioned for hours. The distributing store at 5054 Broadway had been raided earlier and 450 gallons of wine from Harry Ex's company seized.

"President Coolidge and Attorney General Stone are the only men who can halt this investigation now," Assistant District Attorney William F. Waugh said.

WALES COMING HERE AFTER ALL, CANADA REPORTS

Society was astir with speculation last night as word was received from Canada that the Prince of Wales, after all, will visit Chicago on his way back east from his ranch, and that he is likely to arrive in the city on Oct. 13.

While the reports, which came from Ottawa and from Montreal, indicated that the prince doubtless will visit Chicago, there was no official word from the British consul.

But the prince himself in a telegram indicated in a tacit sort of way that he will be here. This telegram was in response to an invitation to Wales to referee a polo game to be played Oct. 9 between teams picked by Col. R. R. McCormick and Frank Behring. In the dispatch the prince said:

"Thank you very much for your kind invitation, but regret it is impossible for me to be in Chicago on that day."

It was the phrase "on that day" which proved the most hopeful to the committee; for they interpreted it to mean that, while Wales finds it impossible to be here on Oct. 9, he will be here later.

LEAGUE ADOPTS ARBITRATION BY JAPANESE RULE

Many Sign, but Not British.

BY VINCENT SHEEAN.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

GENEVA, Oct. 2.—The league of nations protocol of compulsory arbitration, disarmament, and security was adopted by the fifth assembly today. By 9 p. m. it already was signed in the names of France and nine small European nations.

LORD PARMOOR.

The assembly finished its work in an atmosphere of great mutual felicitation, but there was one small fly in the ointment. China, which demanded a seat in the league council, did not obtain it and the Chinese delegation arose and left the assembly hall. They expected to receive definite instructions tonight to withdraw China from the league.

Now to Disarm World.

Today's session of the assembly will be remembered as one of the most important and historical occasions in the league's life, although, like the league's last plan for universal peace that was adopted, today's result is interpreted according to taste.

It is pointed out, however, that whether a majority sign or not, the protocol is not intended to be really effective until after a great international disarmament conference on June 15 next, to which every nation of the world is invited.

The British dominions directly interested in the immigration question, which Japan succeeded in including in the sphere of compulsory arbitration, refrained, apparently, in unity, from signing for their governments in Geneva. Lord Parmoor, the British delegate, also postponed signing the document.

A Woman's View.

Mrs. Swanwick of Great Britain, the last delegate to speak, expressed this characteristic view of the league's most ambitious efforts in the following words:

"You have been making a great machine. It is a formidable and complex machine and will depend entirely on the spirit that moves that machine whether the machine is for good or evil."

The dimensions of this formidable machine seemed greater than ever today when the council was informed that Germany is ready to sign the protocol and soon to become a member of the league. The peace plan becomes effective for the whole membership as soon as signed by three out of four of the permanent council members (France, Great Britain, Japan, and Italy) and fifteen smaller powers. France, with its allies, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, and Jugo-Slavia, signed immediately on the full authority of their governments, and were followed by Albania, Bulgaria, Esthonia, Greece, Latvia, and Portugal.

Japan, Italy, and Great Britain will postpone their signatures until their governments make up their minds thoroughly. The signature of Great Britain will bind only the United Kingdom and north Ireland. The Irish Free State and all the dominions will ratify or refuse to ratify separately.

Appeals to United States.

Paul Boncour in a glowing speech this morning raised the assembly to the highest pitch of enthusiasm for the league's peace plan. He made three separate appeals to the United States to approve it. He said it was the desire of the peacemakers here to have this protocol ratified also by governments not members of the league. This reference to the United States was wildly applauded, nobody apparently seeing the irony of asking the United States to approve a much stronger and more dangerous version of the already rejected league covenant.

M. Boncour said the league had made a binding alliance against "a nameless enemy, who only would become known when he is declared an aggressor by impartial judges, who then will direct against him the whole machinery of the protocol and the whole force of war.

Defense of Canada.

Senator Dandurand of Canada, however, took the rostrum to discuss in part this Japanese proposition, defending the dominion delegation's posi tion by quoting Secretary of State Hughes.

"The three chief pillars on which this structure has been erected—arbitration, security, and disarmament—have long been accepted by my country," said Mr. Dandurand. "It may be worth while to refer to the fruits yielded us, for they are the results you are seeking here. We not only have had 100 years of peace on our borders, but we think in terms of peace, while Europe is an armed camp and thinks in terms of war."

Then the senator said the permanent international joint commission between the United States and Canada had settled more than a score of important questions in a friendly manner during the last twelve years.

Britain Refuses to Sign.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—J. R. Clynes, leader in the house of commons, answering questions today, said the Geneva protocol was not binding on anybody until formal approval had been given by the governments concerned. He promised that full opportunity would be given for discussion by parliament before it would be ratified by Great Britain. There is no chance of ratification while the clause allowing league intervention in domestic affairs remains in the protocol.

Not Us—Australia.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 2.—Declaration that Australia will not accept a compromise reached by the league of nations on a demand by Japanese for submission of racial disputes to arbitration, was given to the public today by William Hughes, former premier of the commonwealth.

Premier Bruce promised a statement on the issue.

Mr. Hughes said that it was evident that Japan was determined to bring under the jurisdiction of the league any action taken by another country against immigration by Japan.

"Shall Holland Disarm?"

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

THE HAGUE, Oct. 2.—The pacifists today drowned out Gen. C. J. Snyder in a full dress debate when arguing in the negative on the proposition, "Shall Holland Disarm?"

Prof. Dirk van Esveden, radical senator, argued that the army and navy were not serving the end of defense, as they were insufficient, as the next war would be a chemical bomb war. He contended that not only did the Holland army and navy not prevent war but they were a temptation to an enemy power.

Gen. Snyder said that only in theory was it possible to kill a population like London by gas bombs. To do this he estimated that 76,000,000 pounds of bombs would be required, and if an airplane were able to carry two tons, 19,000 airplanes would be necessary, or 200 airplanes would have to work full capacity for eighty-five nights.

At the end of the speech the pacifists were shouting "Scoundrel," and finally made so much noise that Gen. Snyder was unable to continue.

FRANCE O. K.'S GERMAN ENTRY TO BIG LEAGUE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Following a cabinet meeting held in Elysée palace upon President Doumergue's return from Rambouillet, it was understood that Germany's entrance to the league of nations had been approved "in principle."

The cabinet session was chiefly devoted to an analytical examination of the German memorandum outlining the conditions upon which the application would be made. This document is still withheld from the press, but it stipulates, for one thing, that Germany be absolved from obligation to support any war directed against Russia because of the provisions of the Rapallo pact.

Though France has given virtual approval of Germany's terms, it was stated that Germany would not be granted privilege or exception.

Biggest Meeting of Campaign in Kansas City.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Kansas City tonight gave Gen. Charles G. Dawes the greatest meeting of his campaign. For a state that is in the doubtful column, with the Democrats supposedly in the lead, the Republican organization made a surprising showing.

Convention hall, which seats 13,600, was filled, with standing room gone and more people at the doors and in the streets listening to the amplifiers. It was perfectly staged, with soloists, song leaders, flag demonstrations, and all the campaign tricks.

The audience was worked to a high pitch of expectation by all this, and by the florid introductory remarks of Sam Baker, candidate for governor, and Mayor Albert I. Beach.

Dawes Ignores Democrats.

Gen. Dawes responded to this by ignoring the Democratic party and candidates except for a tail end reference to them as of no consequence, inhabitants of "no man's land" in the political battle as Dawes sees it. "Straddlers," he called them, and let it go at that.

Those who had expected to hear strong language directed at John W. Davis, who was the center of the biggest political gathering of the year during his recent trip to Missouri, were disappointed. Gen. Dawes clung to his strategy of affirming the menace of La Follette and the Socialist experiment in government which the third party would inaugurate. He bore down on this harder than ever. The result may be to hold Republican votes now swinging in the La Follette direction. The prediction is made here that La Follette is losing ground and that, while the Democratic state ticket is likely to be elected, Coolidge and Dawes have a fair chance of pulling through in Missouri.

Missouri Seems Friendly.

There was no evidence of any particular Democratic sentiment in the section of Missouri visited by Dawes on his way to Kansas City. At Trenton a crowd of five thousand met him, and there was a regular riot to get hold of Coolidge-Dawes buttons and pictures. Where Iowa crowds had been silent and attentive, Missouri was vociferous and shouting its friendship. This, however, was the Republican belt of the state.

Gen. Dawes pays no attention to state lines or state conditions. "There is no wrong country for a right issue anywhere," he told his convention hall audience, as he related how "pussyfooting politicians" had advised him not to mention reclamation or Ku Klux Klan and "to go light on the question of La Follette," "be careful not to hurt his feelings." He despises the fear of "reactions" and the fear of minorities.

Bares Socialist Alliance.

Leading into La Follette again, Dawes brought new evidence of the alliance between La Follette and socialism. He read the following from a resolution on relations to the conference for progressive political action adopted by the Socialist party convention at Cleveland July 7:

"The conference for progressive political action was organized with the assistance of the Socialist party and our party coöperated with it in its work and development."

He then read from an address from Eugene V. Debs taken from the official organ of the Socialist party, July issue, as follows:

"Though he is not a Socialist we need not blush or apologize to give our support to Robert M. La Follette in the life giving and hope inspiring struggle of the present hour."

"Can anybody doubt the menace to American institutions and the constitution of the United States of this organized attack of the forces of discontent?" shouted Dawes.

"That is the overshadowing, the overwhelming issue; where is business if this thing succeeds? The attempt to amalgamate the west with this eastern radicalism will fail."

In his Iowa speeches today Gen. Dawes did not refer to Senator Brookhart's demand that he withdraw from the ticket and did not refer directly to the senator, although he consigned him by implication to the "Peewit club."

He did not agree with Iowa politicians who fear that if Brookhart comes out against the national ticket tomorrow the Republicans will lose the state.

FIRM'S WELFARE FUND FREED OF TAX BY RULING

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Contributions by corporations to promote religious activity among their employés are a proper deduction from gross income, according to a decision handed down today by the board of tax appeals.

The taxpayer in the case was the Poinsett mills of Greenville, S. C., manufacturing cotton goods, which in 1920 contributed $1,006.49 to a Baptist church in the mill village.

The board in reversing a ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue held that the contribution was an allowable deduction as an "ordinary and necessary" expense in "carrying on its business."

She Gave Him Start; Now He Must Support Her

He's 23; she's 37. And yesterday Mrs. Carl H. Hasterlick, 1943 Birchwood avenue, told Judge William L. Morgan in the Court of Domestic Relations that, despite the fact that she started him with $5,000 in business and pawned her diamonds for $600 more to keep him going, he now will not support her. The court ordered Hasterlick to pay his wife $18 a week.

SOUTH AFRICA CLAMPS TIGHTER LID ON ASIATICS

(Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.)

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, Oct. 2.—It was only today that the news of Japan's victory at Geneva and the South African representative's protest reached here. During the last week, however, leading articles in the newspapers here have been pointing out the danger to South Africa if the principle of the Asiatic immigration clause was accepted.

"There is no doubt," says the Cape Argus, "that all Japan's protests and amendments to the disarmament protocol had one definite object in view—the insistence of Asiatics to emigrate to and populate the white world."

Interviewed on the Asiatic question by THE TRIBUNE correspondent, Minister of the Interior Malan said:

"There is a strong feeling throughout South Africa concerning the Asiatic menace, and that feeling cannot be ignored by any government. The other dominions of the empire had to pass legislation to keep Asiatics out, although not one has a situation which approaches in seriousness that of South Africa, where there are 161,000 Asiatics resident. If other countries keep out the Asiatic element, South Africa is justified in doing the same, and legislation for this purpose already is being discussed."

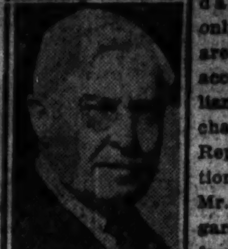
BRYAN IS MOST MENACING FOE OF CAL—BUTLER

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—There are four principal presidential candidates, although only three tickets are in the field, according to William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee. Mr. Butler regards the most formidable of the contenders against President Coolidge as Gov. Bryan of Nebraska, with Senator La Follette next and John W. Davis at the foot of the list.



WILLIAM M. BUTLER.
[Copyright: Harris & Ewing.]

Mr. Butler sees evidence in the west of a coalition between the Democrats and La Follette forces for the purpose of deadlocking the election and then possibly putting Gov. Bryan, Democratic vice presidential nominee, in the White House by senate action.

Mr. Butler, who came to Washington today for the first time in several weeks, took luncheon at the White House with President Coolidge. Other guests were Senator Medill McCormick [Rep., Ill.], who came from Chicago to discuss the situation in the middle west, and Frank Stearns of Boston, the President's intimate friend.

Mr. Butler predicted that, in spite of the apparent purpose of both the Democrats and the La Follette forces to prevent an election Nov. 4, President Coolidge would be elected.

KLAN MUDDLING UP PARTY WATERS IN OKLAHOMA

Who Will Emerge with 10 Votes Is Puzzle.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 2.—With many cross currents of sentiment muddling the political waters, Oklahoma, with ten electoral votes, seems to be in doubt as between Coolidge and Davis, while La Follette looms as a close third.

J. C. WALTON.

Party lines have been more thoroughly shattered in this state, perhaps, than in any other. La Follette will get the votes of a multitude of Germans and discontented farmers who are normally Republican and of thousands of workingmen normally Democratic. Coolidge will receive the votes of thousands of pro-klan Democrats and conservative Democrats fearful of the danger of "Brother Charlie" Bryan getting into the White House. Davis is destined to receive the votes of thousands of anti-klan Republicans.

Democrats Admit Doubt.

It took the Harding landslide to wrest Oklahoma from its traditional Democratic moorings and ordinarily the advantage would lie with the Democrats this year. As the result of the unusual conditions, however, Democratic leaders admit the outcome is in doubt.

The storm center of the fight is the United States senatorship, for which former Gov. Walton, impeached and forced out of office by the klan on charges of crookedness, is the Democratic candidate, again defying the invisible empire, and W. B. Pine is the Republican candidate, with the backing of the klan. There is going to be an interesting showdown on the klan in Oklahoma in this election.

Klan Once Democratic.

Until a year ago the klan in Oklahoma was largely a Democratic organization. It controlled both houses of the legislature, and both branches were Democratic. It played a leading part in the proceedings that led up to the impeachment and removal from office of Gov. Walton. It was able to dictate the nominations for seats in congress and it controlled the election machinery in most of the counties.

Having obtained what appeared to be a strangle hold on the Democratic party in the state, the klan decided to take over the Republican party also. The test came in the recent primaries. The senatorship was the prize. The klan lost the Democratic primary by nearly 200,000 votes, but Mr. Pine, the klan indorsee on the Republican ticket, was an easy winner.

G. O. P. Inherits It.

The result was that overnight the Republicans inherited the klan—that is, that part of it which can be controlled by the wizard and his dragon, in this instance the dragon being N. C. Jewett, a Republican of Oklahoma City.

This was the situation when John W. Davis came out with his unqualified repudiation of the klan and all it stands for. This unquestionably lost to the ticket that part of the klan organization which follows blindly and without question the orders of the dragon.

On the other hand, it gained for the ticket the support of a large number of anti-klan Republicans, and the Democratic managers declare that the anti-klan accessions will easily offset any advantage the Republicans may have as a result of the failure of the Republican national and local leaders to follow the example of Mr. Davis in denouncing the hooded order.

Where La Follette Stands.

La Follette has the indorsement of the Oklahoma State Federation of Labor, the Oklahoma State Farmers' union, the Farmer-Labor organization of the state, the state units of the railway brotherhoods, the various Socialist elements, and probably the bulk of the German vote, the latter variously estimated at from 25,000 to 40,000.

Well informed Republicans are authority for the statement that the La Follette vote may exceed 100,000.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

George Munding, riding master, was held to the grand jury yesterday for murder at the inquest into the death of his fiancee, Mrs. Julia Abb Douglass. (1) Attorney Ben Short, counsel for Munding; (2) Mrs. George Abb, mother of slain woman; and (3) Coroner W. V. Hoff of Du Page county.

Held as Slayer.

A coroner's jury at Hinsdale yesterday held that George Munding, north shore riding master, shot and killed Mrs. Julie Abb Douglas, owner of a riding academy at Hinsdale, "with murderous intent." Munding will be held at Wheaton until the meeting of the October grand jury.

Munding did not attend the inquest. His attorney, Benjamin Short, did not care to put him on the witness stand. Sheriff John S. Hesterman said that since Munding's testimony was not to be used, it was not thought wise to take him out of the Wheaton jail in view of the feeling against him.

Mrs. Joseph Abb, the dead woman's mother, testified that she saw Munding shoot her daughter as the couple emerged from the barn on the Douglas farm. They had been quarreling.

Munding, she said, was not married to her daughter and had been ordered off the place six weeks ago.

Policemen said Munding was unable to walk straight or talk coherently when arrested. From his cross-examinations it was evident that Benjamin Short will bring bootlegging into the defense of his client.

COURT RELEASES SELF-CONFESSED BANK ROBBER

EUGENE ISAACSON.

Though, by his own confession, a bank robber, a participant in a murder, and an automobile thief, Eugene Isaacson, 21, of Morton Grove yesterday was liberated by Judge William J. Lindsay.

The judge held that Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman, whose men had captured Isaacson, had no right to hold him unless warrants were produced immediately. He was told by the sheriff that Judge Irwin Dilg in Morton Grove had issued the warrants, but declared he had nothing to prove it. The sheriff's plea for a few hours' delay was denied.

Isaacson, according to the sheriff, confessed that he and Steve Madaj, escaped lifer from the Marquette, Mich., prison, had stolen automobiles and robbed a bank. On one of their expeditions Madaj shot and killed a farmer, Isaacson declared.

IDENTIFY TWO AS $200,000 LOOP JEWEL ROBBERS

'Beau Brummel of Crooks' Denies Guilt.

VINCENT DIUCCI.

With Vincent Diucci, known to the police as "the Beau Brummel of Chicago Crookdom, in a cell last night, detectives believe they have almost completely cleared up the loop taxicab robbery early yesterday in which $225,000 in jewels was taken from Louis Harlib, New York diamond salesman.

Taken along with Diucci, and like him positively identified by both Harlib and Miss Bee Fink, attractive young divorcée, who was with Harlib in the cab at the time of the robbery, was Frank Guesenberg, alleged gunman and robber, and brother of Peter Guesenberg, now serving time at Leavenworth in connection with the Polk street station mail robbery several years ago.

Seek Third Robber.

The third and last member of the band, whose identity police admit they are not yet quite sure of, is still being sought.

Arrest of Diucci, also known at times as "Drussie" and "Drussy," and Guesenberg, both of whom are said to possess lengthy criminal records, followed identification of their photographs yesterday afternoon at the bureau of identification by Harlib, Miss Fink, and John W. Gatter, 228 South Wood street, driver of Harlib's taxi.

Protesting, the immaculately clad Diucci was taken to the detective bureau and turned loose in the "bull pen" with a dozen other prisoners. Then Harlib and Miss Fink were hurriedly summoned from the Hotel La Salle.

Prisoner Denies Guilt.

"You're all wrong," he growled. "My racket's the booze. I've been a peaceful bootlegger in Chicago for three years. I'm pulling down $1,000 a month. Why would I want to mess myself in a job like this?"

JOHN J. SLOAN.

Demolition of buildings in the path of a widened and double-decked South Water street began yesterday afternoon. With none of the fanfare which has attended the initiation of even minor projects in other years, the greatest street improvement in the city's history got under way when wreckers moved upon the ramshackle structures at West South Water and Lake streets.

Work began at once after Federal Judges Page, Cliffe, and Wilkerson had refused for "lack of jurisdiction" to interfere with it and before complaining commission merchants could file a petition elsewhere. Before the plaintiffs could seek a writ in the Superior court of Cook county the wreckers had torn the roof off a building at 346-352 West South Water street, despite the protests of the startled occupants. The court will hear arguments this morning.

Wreckers Climb Fire Escape.

Meanwhile, denied admission to the building by officials of the Waskow Butter company, Omslaer's Motor Express company, and J. Dybiska, a café owner, the wreckers yesterday climbed fire escapes to the roof while John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements, and six policemen stood guard below.

In a few minutes showers of tar paper, gravel, and boards from the roof proclaimed that the $25,000,000 improvement was under way at last. The building's tenants telephoned frantically for their lawyers and declared they would not leave the building.

"We'll pull the building out from under you if we have to," Sloan said to the angry occupants.

Wacker Glad It's Started.

"I consider the start made today the most important event in Chicago's history," declared Charles H. Wacker, chairman of the Chicago Plan commission. The improvement was first advocated more than twenty years ago.

Bonds to a total of $13,000,000 have been authorized at the polls and the remainder of the cost is to be assessed against the adjacent property.

Indicate They Expect a Coolidge Vcitory.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

From the camp of the Democrats and the lair of insurgency came quick rejoinders yesterday to the charge of Republican National Chairman William M. Butler that there is a combination between the Democrats and La Follette to throw the presidential election into congress.

"Absurd and untrue," said Lincoln Dixon, Democratic western campaign manager. "Davis' chances in the electoral college are better than ever."

"I think," said John M. Nelson, La Follette-Wheeler manager, "somebody is consulting his fears for his facts. We are not concerned about throwing the election into the house. We agree with both the Democratic and the Republican leaders that that at least is assured. Now the fight is on between Coolidge and La Follette for the election."

Expect Coolidge Victory.

Despite all their claims, it is an open secret that the La Follette camp expects a Coolidge victory and is making plans and looking forward to four years of troublemaking for the President. Before the campaign is over they look for open support from the insurgent Republican senators Brookhart [Ia.], Norris [Neb.], and Johnson [Cal.].

Brookhart already has cut himself loose from the G. O. P., but in his own state he is taking the position that the party, instead of himself, is out of step with Republican principles—that the party, and not he, is "bolting."

At the psychological moment, in view of the Butler statement and accusations that Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska has let his dreams of the presidency lure him into deals with the insurgents, William Jennings Bryan yesterday came forth with a statement that the fight is where it should be—in the electoral college selected by the people.

Elder Bryan Gives Observations.

The elder Bryan expressed himself in a telegram to Manager Dixon and included a resumé of his observations on a tour of fifteen western states.

"However much Mr. La Follette's followers may desire to see him president," Mr. Bryan said, "they know that he has not the slightest chance in the electoral college. He can not hope for even half of the necessary votes to give him a majority.

"Mr. La Follette's strength is very small, and the uncertainties of the situation are many. It is the part of wisdom for the progressives of all parties to unite on Mr. Davis and thus make the election in the electoral college. It is much better for the people to elect in the electoral college this year than to permit congressmen elected two years ago to decide the presidency for the next four years."

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi will speak before the Executives' club at Hotel Sherman today and Gov. Silzer of New Jersey at Carmen's hall, Ashland and Van Buren, Monday night. Both will make downstate speeches, Gov. Silzer probably at Quincy and East St. Louis, on Oct. 7 and 8, and Senator Harrison at Mount Vernon and Cairo, Oct. 13 and 14.

STATE'S ATTORNEY TRIES TO SOLVE POLICE PENSION CASE

MILTON SMITH.

Several persons concerned in collections of pensions for policemen's widows will be requested to appear at the state's attorney's office for questioning today in regard to certain alleged irregularities in distribution of the fund, it was announced yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Milton Smith.

"It certainly appears as if an injustice has been done, but whether there is criminal liability here I am not so sure," Mr. Smith declared, following statements made to him by two women beneficiaries of the fund.

"I'm not out to 'get' anybody, but intend to find out the truth of all these stories," continued Mr. Smith.

Mrs. Margaret Ryan, 918 West 71st street, and Mrs. Winifred Cooney, 1043 North Karlov avenue, both widows of policemen, were the two women questioned yesterday.

"WHISKY, JOBS AT CUT PRICE"; SELLER PINCHED

Phillip Mendelsen, 4935 Henderson street, canvassed the city hall offering a line of rare old whiskies at $4 a quart and places in the police or fire departments for from $50 to $100 each. Last night he was in a detective bureau cell. He "didn't deliver."

Almost any day he could be seen joking with well known politicians or slapping department heads on the back in a good natured and familiar way. He always was to be found in or near the civil service rooms. It was only natural that when he offered disconsolate applicants for berths in the police or fire departments immediate action for "a small sum and I'm losing money at that," he should find willing customers. And with equal success he promised city hall clerks "whisky like the boss buys for only $4 a quart," cash in advance.

'Other Woman' Named by Wife Seeking Divorce

The "other woman" in the life of Edward MacHette, a credit man, paid the bills for their entertainment, according to a divorce bill filed yesterday in Superior court by Mrs. Ethel MacHette, 322 East 57th street. The bill alleges that Miss Thelma Aldridge, 4211 Lake Park avenue, spent a lot of money showing MacHette a good time.

DAVIS GETS 3D PLACE IN TEST ON SOUTH SIDE

Democrats Fail to Give Normal Vote.

Totals	5,847	2,220	8,067	99.99

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The first presidential poll of the south side by THE TRIBUNE adds more evidence of the present Democratic opposition to John W. Davis, the candidate of that party. It indicates that 40 per cent of the south siders, who voted for Mayor Dever last year, do not now like Davis. Thirty-three per cent of these same voters, who cast a ballot for the late James Dailey for Sheriff in 1922, do not now care a whoop for Davis, according to the poll. No Democratic presidential candidate in twenty years had so few south side supporters as the poll indicates are now for Davis.

Taken on Street Corner.

This straw vote was taken on street corners. Of the 2,220 straws collected Foster received thirty-five. The number obtained for each of the other three leading candidates at each location was as follows:

Ward.	Coolidge.	Davis.	LaFollette.

Andy Gets Two.

Also in this poll one man voted for Debs, who is not a candidate, two more for Andy Gump and three for William Hale Thompson. Possibly the last three have some significance. Certain Democratic leaders explain their failure to lead the sons of Jefferson to Davis on two grounds. One of these is that the votes against Davis are intended by Democrats as a criticism of Dever, mayor of Chicago. The other reason is La Follette's statement against the Ku Klux Klan at the beginning of his campaign.

But the south side poll only emphasizes the unfavorable light in which many Democrats hold their presidential nominee. Some of this opposition will probably be swept aside before November, but it is so strong that only Al Smith or some other equally popular leader among Chicago Democrats can eradicate a large part of it. It is questionable, however, whether Davis can be painted bright enough to make him popular with the rank and file of Democrats in this city.

As between Coolidge and La Follette, the south side poll is much like that of the north side. The number of Coolidge straws is unexpectedly large. It is so large that another poll will be taken which will include some of the spots canvassed and others.

Coolidge Vote Normal.

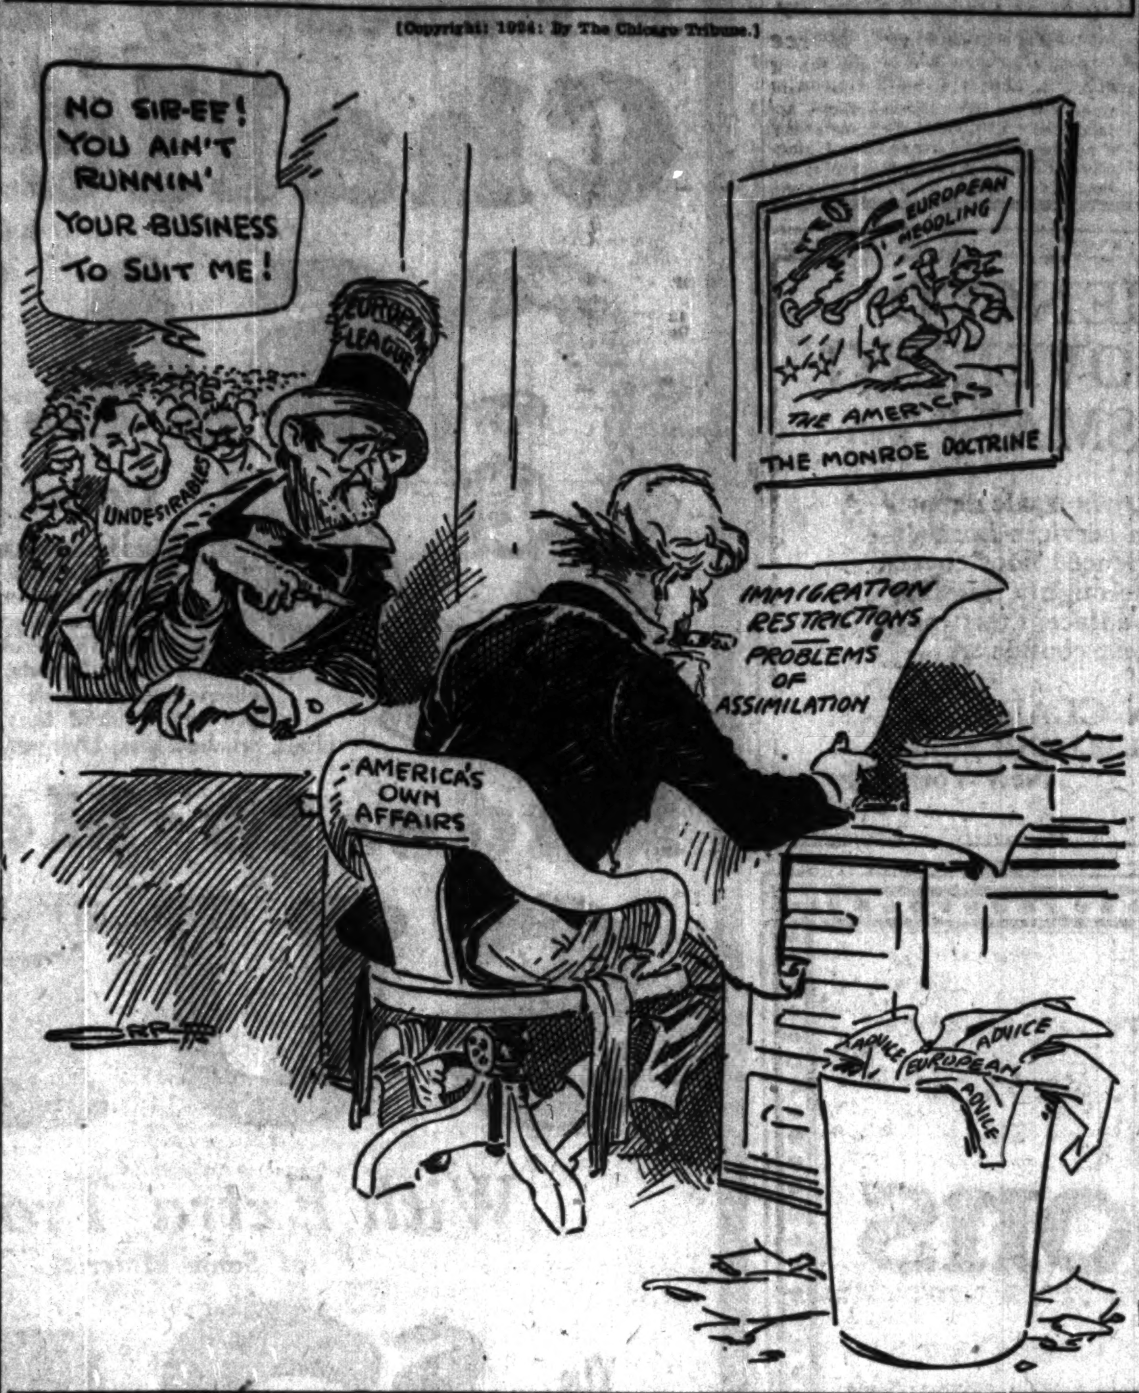
This poll shows Coolidge with approximately a normal Republican vote, regardless of the candidacy of La Follette. The followers of Davis and La Follette combined give a percentage something like that usually obtained by the Democrats alone.

Coolidge received a flat 55 per cent of all of the straws collected, Davis 15.18 per cent, La Follette 22-23 per cent, and Foster 1.58 per cent.

The Davis straws, totaling 15.18 per cent of the aggregate cast, is not half the percentage Wilson received on the south side in 1912. His percentage then was 33, and in 1916 it was about 45. Even Bryan, brother of Charlie, who was not popular with Chicago Democratic leaders, received 38 per cent of the south siders in 1908.

MEDDLING AGAIN

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]



WOMEN OF G. O. P. FOLLOW MEN IN HARMONY PLAN

Following the example of the men, women ward leaders of the three local Republican factions held a harmony meeting at the Hotel Sherman yesterday.

They, too, echoed one another in brief announcements that they will support the entire Republican ticket.

Alexander Fyfe, chairman of the triple masculine alliance's campaign committee, took over the chairmanship of the women's meeting to avoid any possible factional jealousy.

Chairman Fyfe announced the names of eight of the nine women members of the executive committee, the Deneen faction having one still to name. The Brundage-Barrett representatives are Mrs. L. A. Brundage, Mrs. Mabel G. Reinecke, and Miss Margaret Barrett. The Small spokeswomen are Mrs. Mayme Grandberry, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Buchhalter, and Mrs. Irene P. Mantonya. The two Deneen representatives already named are Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge and Mrs. Jane Haas-Hoff.

State's Attorney Crowe's office made public two indorsements of his candidacy. One was by State Senator John Daily, chairman of the Dailey commission. The other was from Municipal Judge George B. Holmes.

AL GIVES "PEACE" PARTY FOR DAVIS; 15,000 HOARSE

All's Serene in Tammany as Campaign Starts.

BY DONALD EWING.

[Copyright: U. & U.]

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Out of the nooks of New York some 15,000 Democrats tonight poured into Madison Square Garden to yell for John W. Davis and Al Smith and to hoot at mention of the Coolidge administration and of Theodore Roosevelt Jr.

It was New York's "peace meeting"—to cement broken factions of democracy, to boost Smith for governor against young Teddy, and Davis for President against Coolidge. If cheers mean harmony, all is now serene in Tammany hall.

And, in between the cheers the Democratic presidential nominee sandwiched some new campaign pledges—notably one to get America into a "real world disarmament conference" in 1925 if elected next November.

On the same platform with Smith and Davis was Mayor Hylan, who recently threatened to run against the governor. Tonight the mayor was shouting for Al.

It's All "Al" with the "Boys."

With all the harmony, however, there were threats of possible embarrassment at times, for many of the "boys" didn't seem to know the Democratic convention had ended. When John W. Davis entered they gave a good cheer and then started yelling, "We want Al! Where's Al!"

Al entered and he and Davis stood together for joint ovations.

Mr. Davis found his audience already warm through listening to preliminary talkers, who called Coolidge "the farmerette" and T. J. Jr. "a statesmanette," and he kept up that line of cheer-inciting talk. He kidded, joshed, and then swung into satire and sarcasm.

At the end of Mr. Davis' speech came a long cheer. As it died down Smith stepped to the nominee's side and up went the shouts again.

Smith Urges All to Vote.

Gov. Smith combined his attack on President Coolidge with a plea for every one to vote Nov. 4.

"The man or woman who refuses to register and vote displays no interest in ridding us of a government at Washington that seems to be unable to function.

"The President himself, with a congress made up of a substantial majority of his own party, was unable to display the qualities of leadership required in his office. He had but to send word to them of what he thought was in the interest of the country and they sat up all night figuring out how to do the opposite thing."

START DRAFTING ORDINANCE FOR SUBWAY IN LOOP

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A group of "start digging" aldermen were seized with the idea yesterday of taking the various expert surveys and reports on subways and drafting a separate subway ordinance to give the city council something to work on when it reconvenes Oct. 22.

JOSEPH McDONOUGH.

For at least eight years fat volumes written by commissions on the rapid transit problem have been making the library shelves bowlegged. To date the only ones to profit have been the printers and, of course, the experts.

The aldermen point out that no further study of the subject by engineers is necessary, and it is time for the city to do what the experts for years have been telling it to do.

Provide $20,000,000 Tube.

The tentative plan is to get up an ordinance for quick consideration to cover the initial subway.

This State street rapid transit subway would be a high level tube four or five feet below the street surface. It would be dug as an open cut instead of being bored like a tunnel. It would extend from 18th street on the south to North avenue on the north, and thence westerly to a connection with the Northwestern "L" near Orleans street.

At each end it would have two tracks, but from Randolph to Harrison streets it would have four tracks, so that loading could be carried on simultaneously on two tracks in each direction. This subway would cost $20,000,000, it is estimated.

A subway under the loop, connecting the north and south sides, was recommended in the Parsons-Arnold-Ridgeway report of 1916 and in the Kelker report of 1923, and in the Insull plans for fast transit. There have been differences of opinion as to which loop street should be used as a route, but the idea of a loop subway has been accepted as a fundamental.

The Rip Van Winkle City.

"Everybody who comes back from New York, Boston, and even Philadelphia, which is supposed to be the sleepiest hamlet in the country, wonders why Chicago is still fast asleep, so far as rapid transit goes," says Ald. Joseph McDonough.

"Chicago is the greatest city in the world, bar none, yet in the matter of transportation it is the Rip Van Winkle among the great cities.

"It is generally conceded that a subway would more than double the rapid transit capacity in the loop during the rush hours. Think how that would ease up the strain in districts farther out. All over the city we'd be making better time.

"A subway simply means expanding a street vertically instead of laterally. Chicago doesn't hesitate to raze buildings and widen streets such as Michigan avenue and Grand boulevard. Why should it hesitate to increase carrying capacity by expanding underground?

"A subway under the loop amounts to the same thing as adding three or four streets through the loop. Chicago has collected as much data on a subway as the government did on the Panama canal, but the canal has been built."

LANDSLIDE KILLS WILLIAM PRICE, NOTED CANADIAN

Quebec, Que., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Sir William Price, world war veteran, head of the firm of Price Bros. & Co., lumber prince, and the principal partner of J. B. Duke, the American tobacco king, was instantly killed this morning at Kenogami, 120 miles from here, when he was buried under a landslide. The body has not yet been recovered.

Detective to Adopt Boy He Found in Cemetery

When Chester Klawinski, 14 years old, Chicago, was found sleeping in a cemetery at Eau Claire, Wis., by Isaac La Chappelle, city detective of Eau Claire, the detective took pity on the lad. The boy's father was notified, but wrote back that he couldn't be bothered. La Chappelle will adopt him.

Exhausted Carrier Pigeon Falls Into Kind Hands

Exhausted, hungry, and thirsty, a homer pigeon fell at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the garage door of F. R. Lew, 116 South Homan avenue. BOY HITCHING ON TRUCK KILLED; HE'S VICTIM 501

Secretary Hoover, Here, Lauds Collins' Fight.

LESTER KITCHING.

"Hitching" yesterday caused the death of Lester Kitching, 10, of 2630 Flournoy street, 501st motor victim in the county since Jan. 1.

According to the police report, Lester was killed when he jumped on a Hydrox ice cream motor truck. One of his feet slipped and one leg was caught in the spokes of a wheel, drawing him underneath.

Ferdinand Seucan, 2307 North Karlov avenue, driver of the truck, was not held.

Catherine Jakozick, 8, of 2715 Wentworth avenue, was probably fatally injured when struck by a "vampire" motor truck. She was taken to the Wesley hospital.

Mrs. B. O. Wallace, wife of the personnel officer of the Speedway hospital, was injured when struck, while at 4th avenue and Madison street, Maywood, by an automobile driven by Ray Kassell, 315 South 7th avenue, Maywood.

Hoover Lauds Collins.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover was here yesterday and praised the campaign of Chief Collins. Mr. Hoover placed the motor death toll in the country last year at 16,000, and declared 400,000 more persons were injured severely.

The Chicago Motor club denied charges by Coroner Oscar Wolff that the club had issued false figures to put blame on pedestrians rather than motorists.

"The report referred to by Mr. Wolff is correct in every minute detail," President Charles M. Hayes of the club said.

Corner Wolff had declared that a special investigation, made by his statistician, had showed every figure cited by the club to be erroneous.

CHICAGOAN KILLED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—Grover J. Hale of the Hale Window Shade company, 2009 West 69th street, Chicago, was killed when the automobile in which he was riding overturned here today. Joseph Luth, 5835 South Troy street, Chicago, was injured slightly.

PYTHIAN HOME HEAD OUT.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 2.—The Illinois Pythian home board announced today that the resignation of Clifton Hatch, superintendent of the Orphans' home here, offered one year ago, has been accepted. A new superintendent has not been selected.

THE DEATH CLOCK

Auto Accident Victim Gets Award of $17,000

Damages of $17,000 were awarded yesterday to Charles Feldman, 21, who for fifteen months has been a cripple, unable to leave his hospital bed. A jury in Judge Jesse Holdom's court held Arthur R. Jones Jr. of Glencoe, manager of the Continental Credit Trust company, responsible for the automobile accident on July 16, 1923, in which Feldman was injured while at Sheridan road and Aldine street.

Wife, Winning Divorce, Lets Him Keep Child

Harry Guy Cameron, Rogers Park contractor, yesterday won his fight for custody of his daughter, Harriet, 3. Judge Harry A. Lewis, after listening to charges of cruelty by Mrs. Cecile Jacqueline Cameron, 6417 North Oakley avenue, granted her a divorce, but she consented to give the custody of the child to Cameron, who, she said, was an ideal father. She accepted $1,000 cash alimony.

TOOK ALL BUT WALLPAPER.

Freeport, Ill., Oct. 2.—Everything except the wallpaper was carried away by burglars who raided the restaurant of Thomas Ellery in the village of Woodbine last night. Furniture, food, stoves, and $400 were included in the loot.

A FAIR WARNING BY MEN WHO KNOW.

The broadside against radicalism fired by speakers at the American Bankers' association convention is, we suspect, of dubious effect. It was the utterance of men of affairs sincerely concerned for the country, its prosperity and progress. A banker or corporation president has, theoretically, as much right to say what he thinks as a politician or professional reformer. But the radical thrives on abuse and anything like a united attack from men of wealth or business prominence can be easily seized upon by him as evidence of a sinister conspiracy. Practical men of affairs ought to take this into account and not lay themselves open unduly to misconstruction.

As a matter of fact, making some discount for excited feeling and its extreme phases, the consensus of this convention deserves the fair and serious consideration of all citizens, especially the farmers who have suffered and are tempted to follow a political leadership that is going to present them with more trouble, and also the worker at good wages who wants to keep his job.

The bankers' convention was a gathering of employers and men in touch with employers from all over the country, sound Americans, active leaders in the business affairs of the nation, self-made men who know as well as any self-advertised professional friend of the people what the people need and aspire to. No saner, abler, cleaner, more representative gathering of Americans could be had in the United States. They had a real message to the people of this country and one which the people of the farms and the workshops cannot afford to ignore. This message comes direct from the general good sense of the American business man, the man who manages the vast machinery of our industrial and commercial life, who has to sell the goods and meet the pay rolls and provide the leadership out of hard times into good. These men are giving straight talk to their fellow citizens and full warning that the return to prosperity is going to be sharply checked if discontent puts political power into radical hands.

It may be very pleasant to break political heads, to bolt your ticket, and vote for some candidate who has pleased you because he has voiced your discontent. But the American business men are saying truly, if perhaps not always tactfully, that this is going to be an expensive pleasure for all concerned, except the politician who gets into office by catering to it.

The wage earner who votes radical may get a thrill out of it, but later, when he is out of a job or working part time or at reduced wages, he will wake up and realize too late that he has made a fool of himself.

The farmer who does the same thing is going to find himself in the same situation as the mistaken wage earner. American business men, the managers of the great enterprises whose employés make a good deal more important market than any foreign buyers, are telling the farmers that business is alarmed by radical nostrums and radical proposals and cannot bear up under the threat of confiscation, unjust taxation, government ownership, and the line of experiment proposed by the radicals.

If the farmer who has been gaining ground steadily for months wants to lose it, if the high paid wage earners of the nation want more cuts in employment and wages, more shutting of factory doors, they will listen to prejudice and passion and not to the warning of the men who have the responsibilities of American business on their shoulders.

MAKE CHICAGO AN AIR PORT.

Dayton intends to be the air center of America. An air field of 5,300 acres has been completed. Stands a mile long are being built. A model air way from Washington, D. C., to Dayton has been finished. Great manufacturing plants for airplanes and accessories are located in Dayton. This week Dayton opens the greatest air meet in the history of aviation.

Dayton has 153,000 population. Chicago has more than 2,900,000 population.

Chicago, too, has air ambitions. It, too, would like to be aviation's capital. With its lake and land facilities for land or sea planes, and its more central station, it is superior in natural advantages to Dayton. But that is all.

Chicago has no landing field within the city limits. There is not much outside. It has no airways, even to Milwaukee or St. Louis. The effort to get through a project for a landing island in the lake 160 acres in extent will take more struggle than Dayton requires for a 5,300 acre field. To get Chicago's needed 2,500 acre field will be much harder. There is some talk, and only talk. Chicago is dead from the neck up.

Dayton plans to capture the air as Detroit captured the automobile. Detroit is now the fourth city in America. Dayton, it may be, will be fifth. But Chicago, dead from the neck up in this respect, waits in a traffic jam while potential populations and businesses go elsewhere.

The initiative in making Chicago the nation's air port lies primarily with the Association of Commerce. If our Association of Commerce could do for Chicago air interests what it has done for Chicago railroad interests, the focus on the nation's air would soon be on our lake front. But that is hard to do. It requires coöperation.

Meanwhile Dayton welcomes us to her grand air meet on her 5,300 acre air field. There will be $50,000 in prizes. There will be competitors from all over the world. Records will be broken. Dayton welcomes Chicago to her air.

THE FATAL TAX.

Nearly a page of THE TRIBUNE was given yesterday to pictures of the victims of auto killings in the first nine months of this year. It is a pathetic, a tragic display, bringing home to us, with an emphasis statistics cannot give, the human story of our death toll. Little children, young girls in the first bloom, youths on the threshold of useful life, old men and women, fathers, and, most tragic of all, mothers of families.

What a tax to pay for the benefits, the great benefits, of the automobile! We cannot hope, in our congested streets, with our nervous energy and passion for movement, to abolish this tax. There will always be careless drivers, careless pedestrians, and the unavoidable accidents for which unforeseeable circumstances combine. But the tax we pay today is far too high and must be cut. The community should be grateful to the mayor and Chief Collins, and all who are assisting in the effort to correct conditions, and pedestrians and motorists should show their appreciation actively by using care. The maxim "better be safe than sorry," hasn't taken hold of us very well thus far, but it will in time.

Reckless driving must be curbed by severe punishment. That is up to the courts and juries. The police are not responsible for penalties. The magistrates and the public, in the last analysis, are responsible for them. With a determined public opinion, sooner or later, pull will be defeated and certainty of punishment will put a stop to inconsiderate motoring, at least on the present scale.

THE CASE OF THE TEACHER.

Is teaching labor or professional? There is a difference. The teachers of Chicago are at the crossroads.

On the one hand Maggie Haley and Supt. McAndrew, joined in effect if not in intention, are driving the teachers into federation and militant discontent. On the other hand a professional conservatism, an academic background and a natural bourgeois individualism in teachers bend them towards professional standards.

They are an amphibious group in our public schools, with professional standards and day laborers' pay. Their average income places them economically in the labor and skilled labor groups. The impersonal organization of great city schools, in which teachers more and more are handled in terms of quantity and unit efficiency, places them emotionally in tune with labor. Their training, the character of their work, their outlook on affairs, on the other hand, places them socially in the professional groups. Where they eventually will be, if not in both, is hard to tell.

In Chicago teachers must pass a rigid examination. They must have years of academic education and more years of professional training. For high school teaching they must be college graduates. For grade teaching they must be Normal college graduates. Judgment and tact are expected of them and some social experience.

The teacher's work is nervously exhausting, and it is never done. Ten hours a day, as Arthur Evans says, is not too high an estimate of the time spent on their work. There are recitations, conferences, general exercises, reading papers, correcting examinations, preparation work, teachers' meetings and teachers' institutes requiring their time. They work hard. They give their lives to the job. Their compensations are not great.

What are those compensations? One is the dignity of the profession and relative freedom from detailed supervision. It is work of much intrinsic interest and creative possibilities. There are those who value the cultural values of teaching over questions of salary. If relatively low salaries must endure, and they probably will, those less tangible compensations of teaching must not be destroyed. The discipline of a steel mill will not help Chicago schools. Discipline must be secured more by coöperation than by rule.

For the pay is not attractive to high grade men and women. In Chicago the medium salary for kindergarten teachers is $2,057 a year. For elementary teachers $2,505, and for senior high school teachers $3,080 a year. In New York salaries are a good deal higher. In Philadelphia they are about the same.

The average teacher's salary in 1913 was $630 and today the average salary for experienced teachers is not more than $2,000 a year. It is a fixed salary. The average income of physicians in a small town is from $2,000 to $5,000 a year. Others may earn much more. The average income of a lawyer in private practice is from $3,000 to $8,000 a year. Bricklayers, plasterers, painters, iron workers, and other skilled labor at $55 to $66 a week earn from $2,000 to $3,000 in good years. That is more than teachers get.

It is clear that economically we value those who train our children rather less than those who paint our houses. And it is only natural economically that teachers will gravitate to labor circles. The professional character of their work draws them the other way. Their treatment by their administrative superiors will be more than likely the determining factor in their alignment.

Teachers should have pay enough to free them from serious financial worries. And with that pay they should show an efficiency and wholeheartedness characteristic of the best professional practice. If the pay is the main compensation, that is labor. If the work has an intrinsic interest, which makes it worth while regardless of the pay, that is a profession. Teaching should be maintained as a profession.

Professional work is no better than labor, though it is often more attractive. Nor are the ideals of the profession better than those of labor, though they may be different. There is no tragedy in the teachers' joining labor, if that is where they belong. But do they belong there? A teaching force driven into a defensive and antagonistic frame of mind towards the management will not help the Chicago schools. Schools are not steel mills. Chicago's children can be rightly taught only by the voluntary coöperation of all the force. A conquered teaching force will be worse than useless.

ROAD MAKING AND TREE PLANTING.

[Illinois State Register.]

Over in France, when the government lets the contract for a new state road, it includes in the specifications the setting out of the trees that are to grow on either side of the road.

The contractor is bound to care for the trees for a period of two years and to replace any that die within that time. As a guaranty that this work will be done, part payment of the contract is held back until the expiration of two years. There are nearly 3,000,000 trees growing along French highways.

In other European countries no permit is issued for the cutting down of a tree unless another is planted in place of it.

These are suggestions that well might be followed in this country. Road making and tree planting should go forward together.

STEARATE OF ZINC SUFFOCATION.

In reporting fifty instances in which babies were suffocated by stearate of zinc dusting powder, the mothers writing offered a fair number of suggestions. Most of them related to the size of the holes in the top of the dusting can. Of those who made suggestions on this phase of the subject, all reported that the holes in the can were too large. One woman thought, aside from the danger, the large holes permitted an excess of powder, resulting in waste. Where the whole body is to be covered possibly the present type of can top could be excused if it were safe, but where the indication was to limit the application to one part of the body the present can was a poor one. All wanted can tops with smaller holes.

A fair number of the people whose babies had been suffocated by stearate of zinc powder had written to the manufacturers in protest. Some of the replies had been sarcastic; some had been kind; a few had explained that stearate of zinc was too prone to stick in mass to make the use of small holes practicable. (Dr. Herman, in reporting twelve cases of suffocation from stearate of zinc, referred to the fact that it was apt to clog small holes.)

The parents of two of these children took no stock in that. They had not discontinued the use of stearate of zinc powder, but since their accident they had always transferred the powder to cans with small holes in the top and they had found the plan worked satisfactorily.

Some of the parents thought the can should not be bright and shiny because, as they now are, they tempted the baby.

Some proposed that the can have a babyproof cover. The evidence seems to be against the can rather than against the chemical composition of the powder.

Cases of suffocation due to talcum powder, starch powder, bismuth, and even simpler powders, have been reported. The excess of danger in the case of stearate of zinc powder is due not to the zinc but to the use of a certain type of can. Nearly all of this group of parents wrote that they had discontinued using stearate of zinc powder. Some wrote they were doing what they could to stop others from using it.

Here are fifty cases and eight deaths. Forty-six cases have been previously reported. If this is not evidence enough to convince the manufacturers it may be advisable to take it before legislators.

BABY FED TOO OFTEN.

Mrs. H. H. writes:

1. My baby is 9 months old. I feed her prepared milk powder, seven ounces every three hours during the day and one night feeding. I also give her one feeding every day of cereal instead of the milk and sometimes a feeding of vegetable soup when she will take it. Is she getting enough food or should she have more? Is there any other food she should have? She is constipated and has been since birth.

2. How much should a boy weigh who is 6½ years of age and 46½ inches tall?

REPLY.

1. A 9 month old baby should not be fed at three hour intervals. Nor should she be fed after 10 o'clock at night. Give eight ounces at a feeding. In addition to milk and cereal, give fruit juice, soup, finely mashed, well cooked vegetables, and bread.

2. Forty-eight pounds, about.

DON'T BLAME COLD CREAM.

D. writes: I read every word of your column every day, even what to give the baby in hot weather [although I am a lonely spinster]. Now I want to ask you something. A beauty doctor told me never to wash the face with water but with cold cream instead. I've used it now for six months and my usually clear skin is a network of little whiteheads under each eye. Could the cold cream cause this?

REPLY.

I don't think you can charge the whiteheads to the use of cold cream. Whiteheads are merely collections of grease in the grease glands. They differ from blackheads in that the latter are capped with dirt. As a rule, the reason why whiteheads are not capped with dirt is because the mouth of the gland is closed.

Whiteheads develop especially around the track of spectacles and in other locations where something presses on the skin.

LET THE NEEDLE STAY.

A. C. writes: I sat on a needle and half of it remains in my flesh. I have had an X-ray taken which shows the needle. I had a surgeon operate on me that very day, but he didn't get it.

1. What would you advise me to do?

2. If the needle remains in the flesh would it develop blood poison?

REPLY.

1. Nothing.
2. No.

TAKING CHANCES.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If real estate is held under the joint title of a husband or wife, can one of the parties make a loan with the property as a security without the permission of the other party?
M. H. S.

Yes, if he can find a lender, but most lenders would not be satisfied with such security upon ordinary terms.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A COSTLY MISTAKE.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Because of certain conditions I have had to give up my Chicago residence and remove to another town. Two Chicago moving concerns applied for the job of packing and shipping the furniture, one firm giving me the price of $175 and the other $120. Both were given verbally. I gave the job to the lowest tender—$120. On completion of the work I received a bill for $250, and in explanation thereof he denied tendering $120 and claimed that if he did so he must have made a mistake. He demands $250. I have the word of my wife and children, who heard the arrangement. Would a defense on these lines stand good if he sues me? T. B. S.

If he sues you the result will depend upon whether his witnesses or yours are believed in court. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FOREMAN FINDS AN EXCUSE.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—On Defense day, Sept. 12, at 2 p. m., the foreman where I work came along and said that they had to close immediately, as the Chamber of Commerce had notified them to close. Would the Chamber of Commerce have the power to make us close if we hadn't wanted to? G. W.

No. It has no such power.

NEW HAND LOTION.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Please tell me if one has to have a special permit to place on the market a "hand lotion" and a salve or ointment for rheumatic pains. If so, where do I apply for it?
H. H. B.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 3, 1864.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A dispatch says that advices by the City Point boat report that Union forces cut the South Side railroad. If this is true, the action intercepts communication between Petersburg, Lynchburg, and Danville.

NASHVILLE.—Gen. Sherman has stopped furloughing officers and ordered some back who had started for home. This change in policy was caused by Hood changing the rebel base and moving over toward West Point as if to cover Mobile.

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. — [From Our Own Correspondent.] — I have lately traversed a region innocent of railroads and telegraphs and have been dependent upon the old fashioned stage coach for conveyance for myself and on the mails for transmitting news. Jerseyville is the shire town of Jersey county. You can't reach it by river, telegraph, or rail. I arrived here from Carrollton by stage and shall leave by the same conveyance. Union men in Jerseyville are as scarce as hen's teeth, but their quality can't be improved.

CHICAGO. — The Western Marine and Fire Insurance company closed its doors not to reopen them. Following the closing there was a riot in which many blows were struck. It occurred when the Twelfth ward heard of the failure. On the previous day residents of the ward had deposited $7,400 which had been collected to procure substitutes for drafted men in the ward. It was feared this was lost and a crowd surrounded the bank. Fred Tuttle, president of the bank, was roughly handled until security for the payment of the money was furnished. Maj. Williams and the provost guard stopped the riot.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 3, 1899.

NEW YORK.—Fair weather with brisk northeast winds is predicted for today when Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock and the Columbia race for the America's cup. One of the greatest surprises in connection with the race was the announcement by the New York Yacht club that the Columbia will have to allow the Shamrock 6.31 seconds on a thirty mile course. It was generally supposed the Shamrock would have to give the Columbia something like a minute for the course. The race today will be fifteen miles to windward and return.

MANILA.—The Fourth infantry regiment, Maj. Price commanding, has had a series of brisk engagements with the Filipino rebels during the last few days near Imus and several of the Americans have fallen.

CHICAGO.—All plans are completed for Chicago's Fall festival, which will commence tomorrow night with the preliminary illumination of the Court of Honor and will continue until Oct. 11. Monday, Oct. 9, will be "Chicago day" and on that day President McKinley will lay the corner stone of the new federal building. The corner stone laying will be followed by a grand military and civic parade.

LONDON.—Late reports are that the Boers are rapidly concentrating at strategic points along frontiers of the Transvaal. Nine generals will command these forces. "What are we waiting for?" is the general query heard in London, for it is the consensus that for some time after war is declared the Boers will have the better of the military operations.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 3, 1914.

CHICAGO. — Charles D. Rounds, president of the State bank of West Pullman, killed himself by gas in the bank's offices at 635 West 120th street. One of the bank directors announced that State Bank Examiner Harkin will be asked to investigate the bank's condition. Cashier Henry Paul declared he believes the institution is sound.

LONDON.—Twenty-one days of the battle of the Aisne closed last night without either side appearing to have any decided advantage. French war office bulletins claim the allies have progressed under terrific fire, but the Germans contend the great battle remains a draw.

ANTWERP.—The Lierre and Waelhem forts were again attacked by the Germans. The Belgians made a sortie from the former and in a bayonet charge drove the enemy back with severe loss. Termonde was also attacked and the Germans were repulsed.

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson will set the example to the nation tomorrow in praying for peace in Europe. Throughout the nation "peace Sunday" will be observed in the churches.

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Nellie Higgs was acquitted of the murder of William Walter Willis, a conductor, whom she shot in the back last April on an Illinois Central train. She is the seventeenth woman to be freed by juries on murder charges in the last ten years. State's Attorney Hoyne branded the verdict a miscarriage of justice.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

TO A LADY SINGING.

How beautiful in the noon is one I love,
How radiant in the midnight! I will beat
With silver hammers on broad gongs of gold,
I will give ear to the tongues of delicate bells

Storm roared in the wind, the trees were voices of storm
And thunder like many elephants of old kings
Charging in war, like trumpets blown from chariots
Wherein were singers chanting deeds of heroes.

I will build up towers in marble, towers
Whiter than hot clouds over windless Junes,
And they shall be for a sign of her and a symbol,
They shall be for a likeness of her body
Slender and strong and gleaming and most proud.

Men of the world, I sing you a laughing challenge!
Ho now! Let it be known among you
I am come down from the mountains, I am come down
Out of the haughty hills, laughing with song,
And I will boast in your streets and in your halls.

How is the one I love like the sound of harpstrings!
Her locks are as red banners above the dusk.
There is no poem like her, there is no beauty.
Her mouth is a glad word. Through the world forever

THE KING OF THE BLACK ISLES.

A DELEGATE to the Methodist Rock River Conference made a motion yesterday that the church condemn Defense Day. You'd better try to get that resolution rushed through, brother, because it will take more argument if the Japs grab the Panama canal.

It's Got 64 Pages Now.

R. H. L.: It has taken considerable thought, but at last I have hit upon the name for your 60 page volume. First let me explain it, and then I think you'll agree that it is by far the most appropriate. Every contributor to your column has or develops what is commonly called the Line fever. Therefore, why not call it "Fever Blisters," for contributions are but the fever breaking out. I'd advise you to refer this title to Doc Evans and I'll wager a pretty that he agrees with me.

DISMAL DAVE.

We Don't Want Cross-Words in It or About It.

R. H. L.: Just thought of a dandy name for your book. Really, it's a peach, but I won't tell you what it is unless you tell me whether you're going to have any cross-word puzzles in it. You're first.
ALICE BLUE.

THAT BASEBALL SCANDAL gets bigger and blacker. It makes us suspicious of everything. We aren't positive and we don't want this to go any further, but we think old Bill Wisner sneaked in an extra pawn on us at chess yesterday.

This Really Belongs in Vox Pop.

Rhl: That's all wrong about Chicago needing elevated sidewalks to lessen the automobile danger. Sixty-seven per cent of loop accidents are caused by sidewalks already too elevated. Nice girls simply won't step up those curbs. They walk in the street and the drivers smile sweetly at them and forget where they're going and they bump into me—into you. No elevated sidewalks, they've done enough. I am vice president of the Curb on Curbs club.
OLD MAN GLOOM.

WE DON'T THINK there is near as much public interest in the climbing of the Tribune flag pole today as there is in another great event which takes place tomorrow at Tribune Square. Colorado Pete is going to drive us out to the hospital to witness the unveiling of the Line Buddies' Radio. The parade forms at Tribune Square at twelve sharp and lovely young women who wish to toss flowers at Colorado Pete are reminded that he is the blonde, handsome giant driving the first (and last) machine in the column. The poor, sad thing on the back seat will be us.

THE BATTLE WAXETH WARMISH.

TO MAYOR SANFORD: Your scathing comments have roused my ire, and, typical of your sex, you can't participate in a friendly discussion without bringing in that useless argument of men's intellectual superiority over women. Naturally, I could say plenty along that line, but inasmuch as that isn't our subject, I'll just pass up the unfair reference to our mentality.

The modern man—not merely the Sheik, answers my description of you. The modern flapper, not the girl, answers your description of us. You'll have to do better before I'll buy your Line book. Come on, all you Sages of the Line, my offer is still open!
MISS ZEKE.

Not a Darned Thing.

A sunny afternoon in October—kind of hazy with a smell of wood smoke in the air—golden-rod and asters abloom—a soft breeze that rustles and shakes loose the leaves—a low-hung roadster—a long white road that winds into the purple hills and leads to—we are sure—a magic land of romance, adventure, and happiness. What more could one wish for?
R. C. H.

PUT 'EM ON! Fevvens sake, put 'em on! Five and a half inches of snow fell yesterday! Oh gee! oh gosh! The snow fell out in Wyoming, but that doesn't make a bit of difference. If it could fall in Wyoming it could fall in Chicago. Put 'em on! Put 'em on! KEEP 'em on!

GET YOUR FIRE READY.

R. H. L.: Reading Philip Gibbs' new novel, "Heirs Apparent," I chanced upon my now favorite bit of wistful poetry. Perhaps there are others who cherish this illusion—

She whom I love is hard to catch and conquer,
Hard, but oh the glory of the winning were she won!

I look forward to seeing Dorothy Dow's "Masque" and Francis Hope's "Aw, Kid!" in your book of "pi-ed pourris." If I could have written those two I'd burn up my Rubaiyat (save the verse about heeding the rumble of a distant drum), "The Sainted Courtezan"—and not another of Mencken's soporific invectives would ever cross my lips. I appeal to your editorial mercy!!!
GALLEY WAMPUS.

LOOK! LOOK! LOOK! ROBERT! Big baseball scandal and the Washington team won the pennant. Why, Battling Bob, if you can't link the Republican party up with this then you must be sick or something.

And Chews and Chews and Chews.

Rhl: I have a puzzle to which I demand an answer from you p. d. q.: What is the difference between the contributions you choose and those that Vangie chews?
DESPERATE WOMAN.

AGAINST GATEWAY AMENDMENT.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Regarding the so-called gateway amendment to the Illinois constitution to be voted on at the election Nov. 4, 1924. The crowd, who were balked in their efforts to impose an offensive new constitution upon a free people a year or two ago, have not given up hope; they are determined to put the chains on liberty by back door methods and piecemeal work.

There is a dangerously growing movement by enemies of personal liberty to legislate by constitutional amendment rather than through the regular channels of legislative enactment.

Every thinking man and woman who is opposed to having his life, property, personal habits, religion, and education regulated by the mob or by the tools of the English autocracy should make it a point to vote and work against this gateway amendment. The present organic law fairly states the basic principles of freedom which should not be easily torn down. T. W.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS ARE A MISTAKE.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—About the worst tommyrot La Follette has advocated yet is the making of a constitutional amendment to have presidential candidates nominated in primary elections.

Primary elections in any form are a great mistake. Take, for instance, when there are four candidates for a party's nomination for governor and A receives 40 per cent of the votes, B 35 per cent, C 15 per cent, and D 10 per cent. There the candidate nominated is only the choice of a minority. Besides, a primary campaign results in much personal prejudice arising between the party's candidates, and probably means the one who is least equipped for the office receives the nomination. It appears the convention method of nominating candidates results in better choices being made, as a convention consists of delegates chosen by the party in each district chiefly (or at least should be) on their merits and judgment of public and private affairs.

Democracy! Yes, by all means, democracy! Just the same, like all good things, democracy can be carried too far.
R. M. E.

BOB AND THE CONSTITUTION.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Well, I note that a "Johnny Bull" Socialist has broken into your column again with a question: Why is La Follette's proposal to virtually abolish our Supreme court by letting a temporary majority in congress override decisions an assault on the constitution? Further he says his England doesn't have a Supreme court; but he doesn't add, neither does it have any written constitution to be interpreted. He implies this change is in the same class with our past amendments. Really, any one but a Socialist could see the answer without "specs."

La Follette's proposal is a real "assault" on the constitution because it proposes doing away in vital matters with one of the three fundamental divisions of our government. Our government is founded on the principle of three divisions: executive, legislative, and judicial. Having prospered even more than "dear old England," we propose to keep these fundamentals and our constitution in spite of the "Reds," and "parlor pinks."

COLD SCHOOLS.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Would it be proper to suggest to the W. G. N. that an investigation be made concerning the efficiency of the engineering department of our public school system, as a result of which upwards of a dozen buildings throughout the city find themselves with no heat during such temperatures as those which prevailed today?

Not only does such a thing make for poor class work, but it is also decidedly perilous to health of pupils and teachers. Should not schools be dismissed under such circumstances, rather than run such risks? PARENT TEACHER.

HE LIKES INSULL.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—If Samuel Insull is ready to build a subway he should be given the permit with the least possible delay. Fortunately the public ownership Fata Morgana has finally fallen flat, but unfortunately Mayor Dever and his political and high cost expert advisers still seem to be "digging" at some competitive scheme of transportation.

As to improvements of the "L" system, some better connections between outlying districts are especially needed. For instance, on the northwest side we have two east and west going branches—namely: along North avenue and Wilson avenue. If from the first named line you want to go to the north side you will have to go all the way downtown and around the loop, and from the second you have to go all the way southeast to Belmont, while straight east connections only would take one and one-half miles from Robey to Halsted and less than a mile from Ravenswood avenue to Sheridan station.

Likewise the two Northwestern lines should have cross connections south, say along Kedzie avenue to Lake street, Garfield park and Douglas park lines. But by all means good speed to Sam Insull and his subways! C. B.

BEFORE NAPOLEON.

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 26.—It may interest Mr. Charles W. Phillips, whose letter appeared in today's TRIBUNE, that while the treaty of Paris guaranteed to Quebec the French language, religion, and laws, the treaty was signed in 1763, some five or six years before the birth of Napoleon.

WHO DISCOVERED AMERICA?

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The editorial in today's TRIBUNE on the subject of Lief Ericson's visit to America in the year 1000, and the Swedes, Norwegians, and Danes as citizens, is good, and the writer has no blood of these nationalities in his veins.

That the people referred to make good citizens of the United States, there is no doubt. They are clean, industrious, law abiding, and patriotic, contrasting greatly with immigrants from some of the other countries.

To Lief Ericson, the Norseman, belongs the credit for the discovery of America. He actually visited its shores, so we are informed by authentic history. Why not give credit where credit is due? Why should Christopher Columbus be referred to as the discoverer of America when he never even touched its shores, but landed on the island of San Salvador, which is a long swim from the coast of North America? Let's keep history straight in justice to those who made it.

THOSE WACKER WAY CATS.

Chicago, Sept. 25. — As some of the South Water street houses have already moved away, I notice that they have left their cats behind. What is to become of these animals who have been so useful to their owners in the past, by keeping the big river rats away from destroying their goods?

Thanking you in advance for any suggestion with reference to this condition, I am, MRS. GEO. R. HOOPER.

BOND THE MOTORIST.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—If minimum fine for speeding were $300 and court costs the people's safety on the streets would be greatly increased. Every firm or owner should be made to give $300 bond with the truck license to cover fine and court cost.

The police arrest speeders by the thousands, the courts let them go with a few dollars fine, and the speeding and killing go on indifferently. Drunken joy riders might have a Bridewell colony to sober up on additional impression of thirty days' hard labor.

To think that those vulgar creatures have killed 489 children, women, and men in less than nine months is worse than barbarity. The small delivery truck drivers need special attention to send them to the Bridewell.

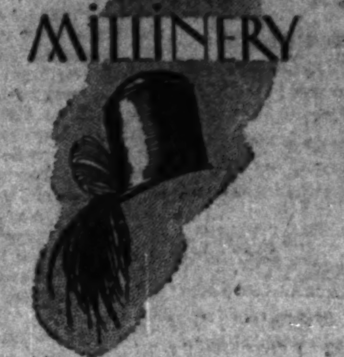
The AUTUMN EXPOSITION

Emphasizing the Ensemble
In the Costume · In the Home

SO close are we to Paris, as the mode flies, it is to be expected that these first sparkling autumn days should find on our boulevards the selfsame models that are even now adding zest to the fashion promenade of the Bois de Boulogne. Costumes, such as these illustrated, as complete to the least detail as the smartest Parisian wears . . . .

Because the importance of the costume ensemble is greatly stressed this season, we are displaying various interpretations of it throughout the Store. The interpretations differ according to the wearer as well as to the time and place of wearing, but agree in the innate harmony, the subtle finish essential to the success of every costume . . . .



Hats still prefer smallness, but brims appeal for the justice due their capacity for variation. Velvet, felt, hatters' plush lead and Paris likes feather fancies for trimming. . . . . . . Fifth Floor, State

A PARIS cable gives news of the very latest style tendencies every day of the Exposition, in the French Salon. . . . Fifth Floor, North, State

Compensation for severity of line everywhere else is here evidenced by the almost universal use of decorative cuffs. . . First Floor, South, State

The emphasis here is on flatness. Smaller sizes, too, than formerly. Petit point Aubusson, Beauvais, black silks and leather are most prominent. . First Floor, Middle, Wabash

LACE CLOCKS return to prove the transfer of decoration from Shoes to Hose . . . . . First Floor, North, State

They are conspicuous for the absence of elaboration of cut and decoration. Vamps shorter, pumps or one-straps lead; patent leather dominant. . . Fourth Floor, South, State

Distant Tunes Keep Elmer Twirling Dial

He Traps Choo Choos and Some Arias.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Found the early evening hours full of orchestra music suitable for every taste. The changed hours of W-G-N and WEBH made us do a little more dial twirling than usual, but it was pretty much of a dial twirling evening anyhow.

One of those twirls at 7:10 brought in the "Sunset" orchestra at W-G-N. This unloosed a flood of jazz, choral, and solo numbers that were pleasing.

In this good mood we stumbled upon something like this at WLS: "Choo-choo, chug-chug"—locomotive engine bell, exactly imitating Bert Davis' familiar stunt. It was a new introduction to Ford and Glenn's "lullaby time." That uncopyrighted imitation didn't fit at all in this wonderful lullaby time, so we moved—

To the Drake ensemble and Blackstone quintet at W-G-N for the harmonies that bring poise and equilibrium.

Soon we found ourselves on Westminster bridge with Clara McLaughlin at WMAQ, viewing Westminster abbey and other scenes as we swept the horizon. The one trouble with Miss McLaughlin's talks is that she always makes us want to be actually there, and we can't go.

Hazel O'Neil's lovely soprano voice called us back to W-G-N. A few minutes later we at last, after a three month's wait, had the pleasure of hearing Pattie Alspaugh a 17 year old pianist of Glenn Ellyn. Miss Alspaugh succeeded in putting much color in Greig's "To Spring" and much of the heroic in Chopin's "Military Polonaise."

Swinging to KYW for luck—another piano selection; unfamiliar. . . unique effects. . . symphonic. . . probably modern. . . a minor trend that held one in suspense. . . Announcer, "a Brahm's Intermezzo, played by Robert Metzler." That was like finding gold, partly, as we have previously stated because radio simplifies the complex.

We had a hunch to be on the lookout for Dorothy Talbot, a soprano from San Francisco, at WMAQ. Her first number was the familiar mad scene from Lucia. Voice smooth, pure, and with character in it. "Home, Sweet Home," her next number, was apparently sung merely to show off the voice. One just listened, intently, knowing that every tone and turn was under absolute control. The high notes were unusually round and full. Here's hoping we may have a change to again hear this artist.

TEACHERS HOPE FOR 5,000 TODAY AT "TEA PARTY"

Supt. William McAndrew and the board of education will be able to witness a test of the teachers' attitude toward them over the abolition of teachers' councils and meetings during school hours this afternoon at the Auditorium theater.

The teachers, through three organizations, have called a massmeeting at the theater to reply openly to a statement issued by six members of the board who voted to abolish their council.

There are 5,000 seats in the Auditorium. The teachers hope to fill them and convince the board and Supt. McAndrew that a majority of the teachers are opposed to the council program. Board members have held that previous meetings did not represent a fair proportion of Chicago's 11,000 teachers.

Ald. Oscar Nelson [46th] will be the principal speaker this afternoon.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(Friday, Oct. 3.) (Central standard time throughout.)

The third game of the City series will be broadcast by W-G-N from the Cubs park this afternoon "Sen" Kaney will be perched atop the press box again with his trusty microphone, to give the fans a play by play description of the contest.

Tonight holds an exceptional theatrical treat at W-G-N (formerly WDAP) THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

Alan Dinehart and Claiborne Foster, the stars of "Applesauce," the comedy at the La Salle theater, will present an original dramatic sketch of their improvisation this evening between 6 and 6:30.

Miss Foster is remembered as the pert flapper who broke into prominence in "Two Fellows and a Girl" last season. Mr. Dinehart was the star of the same play, and is also recalled in "The Gypsy Trail," and "One Crowded Hour." Both ingenuous actors, they have compiled a playlet all their own for tonight's broadcasting.

The classic hour, 8-9, will include the latter half of the dinner concert by the Drake concert ensemble and the Blackstone string quintet and solos by Campbell Cameron, William Benson, and Lorraine Luckritz.

The jazz hour, 10-11, will be filled by Jack Chapman's dance orchestra, Jimmy Whalen and Tommy Malie and Jack Little.

"Red Riding Hood," the serial story, will be read at 6 o'clock.

DR. McMICHAEL, WHITE PLAGUE "PASTEUR," DIES

Succumbs After Blood Poison Operation.

DR. O. W. McMICHAEL. [Melvin H. Sykes Photo.]

Dr. Orville Winthrop McMichael, 694 Irving Park boulevard, internationally known as a specialist on tuberculosis and perhaps America's greatest enemy of the white plague, died at 4 p. m. yesterday in the Columbus hospital, of which he was the senior staff physician, following an operation in which his left leg was amputated.

The famous physician passed away after an illness that began on Feb. 13 of this year. In getting into his automobile on that date, he suffered a slight injury to the leg. Blood poisoning followed and complications developed.

Pits Career Against Tuberculosis.

From the time he entered the hospital for a simple operation for a cyst until he died yesterday, Dr. McMichael had to undergo several blood transfusions and three operations, the last yesterday. He grew weaker, despite the blood transfusions and a grim determniation to live.

Dr. McMichael was 57 years old. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Myrtle McMichael, and one son, Leigh, a student at Culver Military academy. Interment will be in Rosehill cemetery. Funeral services are to be announced later.

Born in Canada.

Dr. McMichael was born Feb. 11, 1867, in Ontario, Canada. He was graduated from the University of Toronto with a B. A. degree in 1891 and from the Niagara University Medical college and the Hahnemann Medical college in Chicago in 1890. He took a post graduate course in the hospitals of London and Paris in 1907.

He was a member of the American Medical association and of numerous clubs, including the Chicago Physicians and the Army and Navy.

LOOP TURNS TO THE RIGHT AND BEDLAM CALMS

Cops and Motorists Find Chaos Ironed Out.

CHIEF MORGAN COLLINS.

Marked reduction of congestion at busy downtown corners, with a noticeable acceleration of traffic movement, was reported by police officials and motorists alike as the result of the abolition of vehicular left hand turns in the loop district yesterday. Warning placards were posted Wednesday night and little confusion followed the change, which became effective at 7 a. m. yesterday. Traffic policemen were at their posts an hour earlier than usual to initiate the scheme.

Collins Finds Improvement.

"The long suffering pedestrians are particular beneficiaries of the new plan," Chief Collins declared. "They should be able to cross the streets without having to hop, skip, and jump for their lives. I didn't see a traffic tangle all day."

Only one exception to the "no left turn" order has been made, and that in favor of motor busses operating between west side railroad depots and the loop, which are permitted to make a left turn from Jackson boulevard into Dearborn street.

Postal Service to Conform.

Postal department schedules will be revised so that wagons and trucks collecting and distributing mail will conform to the rule, according to C. P. Scheel, assistant postmaster. An exception will be made at the postoffice runways, Mr. Scheel said.

Postmaster Lueder's request for exemption for the postal service was denied by Chief Collins.

FLOUR MILL BURNS UP.

Paris, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The City Flouring mill, one of the oldest in this part of the country, was destroyed by fire late this afternoon. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

ASKS $4,000,000 BOND ISSUE TO EXTEND LIGHTS

Sprague Tells Mayor They're Needed.

Submission to the voters in the November election of a proposal for a bond issue of $4,000,000 to finance extension and complete rehabilitation of the city's street lighting system was recommended to Mayor Dever and the city council by Commissioner of Gas and Electricity John T. Miller yesterday.

Old Issue Exhausted.

A $2,000,000 bond issue voted several years ago will soon be exhausted as the result of the extension and rehabilitation program entered upon by the lighting department several months ago. Since the program was charted, new territories have been developed and are without lights while defective or obsolete equipment has been found in other sections, Mr. Miller said. The schedule of replacement and extensions covers, for the most part, all outlying sections.

Would Complete It in Year.

Approval of the bond issue in the November election would permit his department to prepare plans and specifications for the improvements during the winter and undertake actual installation early in 1925. The entire program could be realized next year, Mr. Miller said.

WINNETKA MAN KILLED.

Carl Ricks, 53, 615 Orchard place, Winnetka, an employé of that suburb, was killed yesterday when he was hit by a Chicago and Northwestern railroad train at Elm street, Winnetka.

Presbyterian to Speak at Jews' Holiday Service

The Rev. Josiah Sibley of the Second Presbyterian church will be the principal speaker at the Garrick theater today at the noonday services being held by Chicago Jews during their holidays. The last of the services will be this noon. Dr. George Fox of the South Side temple, Rabbi Julius Gussfield, and Rabbi Joseph Stolz also will take part in the services today. So successful was the result of the experiment of holding these services it has been suggested that they be continued, to be held once a week during the entire year.

Mr. Lawrence Graser
No No Nanette Co.
Harris Theatre

Dear Mr. Graser:

Wish it were possible for you to secure one of the new modern Vacuum Cleaners, the Vacuette Suction Sweeper for use in first act. It would save me tripping over cord every performance and also the shocks I get from pulling out the plug.

Sincerely,
Georgia O'Ramey

(A) Miss Georgia O'Ramey, the comedienne of the No No Nanette Company now playing at the Harris Theatre, uses an electric vacuum cleaner with its cumbersome cord for comedy purposes, but (B) at home she uses the latest, modern cleaner—the non-electric Vacuette—notice the difference in her expression. Installation of a Vacuette in your home insures perfect cleanliness.

4. Its light weight makes operation easier than any motor-driven vacuum cleaner.
5. Freedom from repairs. Five-year guarantee backed by substantial company.

CARDINAL GIVES BISHOP'S STAFF TO MGR. KELLEY

440 See Former Chicago Churchman Elevated.

Cardinal Mundelein officiated yesterday at the consecration of the Rt. Rev. Francis Clement Kelley, D. C., as bishop of Oklahoma. The ceremonies were held at 9:30 a. m. at Holy Name cathedral, State and Superior streets.

Assisting Cardinal Mundelein as co-consecrators were the Most Rev. Leopold Ruiz y Flores, D. D., archbishop of Michoachan, Mex., and the Most Rev. Alfred A. Sinnott, D. D., archbishop of Winnipeg, Can.

Forty bishops and 400 priests, present at the consecration, also attended a dinner given in honor of the new bishop in the afternoon at the Drake hotel.

The ceremony of consecration lasted about three hours. Cardinal Mundelein was celebrant of the mass.

The consecration sermon was preached by the Rt. Rev. Emmanuel B. Ledvina, D. D., bishop of Corpus Christi, Tex., for whom Bishop Kelley preached the consecration sermon in 1921 at St. Mary of the Woods, Indiana.

As founder and head of the Catholic Church Extension society, which aids struggling priests and parishes in poor and sparsely settled districts, Bishop Kelley is widely known. His installation in his cathedral church of St. Joseph at Oklahoma City will take place in about two weeks. He will leave Chicago on Oct. 14 for Oklahoma.

A farewell gift of $35,000 was made to Bishop Kelley by the Catholic Church Extension society and former associates of the Detroit diocese. Clergymen of the archdiocese of Chicago, scene of the bishop's labors for nineteen years, made him a gift of the episcopal car.

Cardinal Mundelein will accompany Bishop Kelley to Oklahoma City and will install him in his cathedral church, St. Joseph's, on Oct. 15.

LOOK FOR WOMAN IN MURDER OF DEPUTY SHERIFF

"I have picked the wrong one to love."

That notation was found on a flyleaf in the notebook of Emil F. Tripp, 4069 Kenmore avenue, slain special deputy sheriff.

Tripp was shot to death in a revolver duel with four men in front of his home at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning. His 19 year old son, Willard, left him at 8:30 at Irving Park boulevard and Sheridan road.

The theory is that the deputy spent the time after 8:30 in the apartment possibly of the "wrong woman" and the police believe if they can find her they may clear up the killing.

COP STOLID AS GIRL RETELLS STORY OF ATTACK

Miss Edith Draeger, 27 years old, of 4203 North Spaulding avenue, retold upon the witness stand in Judge John P. McGoorty's court yesterday the story of an attempted attack upon her by former Policeman Thomas Guilfoyle in the city hall on Feb. 2.

During the recital Guilfoyle, who was dismissed from the police force following indictment on a serious charge, sat stolidly beside his counsel, Attorneys William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 2.—Considerable disorder is developing in the native city adjoining the foreign settlement here owing to the enforcement by the Chekiang military authorities of a forced bond issue to raise military funds. It is stated today that the military were only able to raise about $70,000 in two days because the native property owners fled into the foreign settlements to escape the tax.

A military proclamation posted today calls on all house occupants to contribute the equivalent to one month's rent to the purchase of war bonds. Chinese here are appealing to foreigners for protection against their own officials.

During the last two days there has been almost a complete lull on the front north of Shanghai, with light fighting on the south near Sungkiang. Reports by foreign observers here state that Kiangsu province now has 16,000 troops massed in the neighborhood of Sungkiang, south of Shanghai, and is waiting for artillery supplies for a determined attempt to break through the lines of Gen. Lu Yunghsiang in this sector.

Make Ready for Attack.

Chekiang province has devoted the last couple of days to consolidating its lines in the vicinity of Huangtu and Liuho and digging trenches in preparation for another push by the Kiangsu troops.

A Japanese cruiser left Shanghai today for Chinkiang on the Yangtze, near Nanking, with a contingent of marines on board, which it is intended to send to Soochow, on the Kiangsu side, for the purpose of protecting the Japanese consulate in that place as well as Japanese residents and property interests.

A report to THE TRIBUNE from Hangchow states that the native Chekiang people there are lending little support to Gen. Sun Chun Faung of Fukien, who is now established in the Chekiang capital. It is reported that Gen. Sun's officers are trying to raise money by opium sales in Hangchow.

Wu Girds for Battle.

PEKING, Oct. 2.—Increased fighting outside the Great Wall beyond Shanhaikwan, with further units being used and the shifting of additional units here, indicates that Gen. Wu Pei-fu, in command of the Peking troops, intends applying heavy pressure upon the Fengtien left until he is able to complete the formation of a center army, which has been delayed by transportation difficulties. In an effort to complete this army Shantung troops are being relieved at Chefoo for forwarding to Chinwangtao.

The situation due to the troops being unpaid is being relieved rapidly since the issue of $4,250,000 in treasury notes was speedily underwriten by patriotic partisans owing to the development of apparent Russian and Japanese sympathy with Gen. Chang Tso-lin.

Gen. Wu expects to complete his mobilization on Oct. 11, when 450 trains will have conveyed 200,000 men and 23,000 animals east of Peking. Among the shipments was one of 100 monkeys, which were sent to increase the morale of the men.

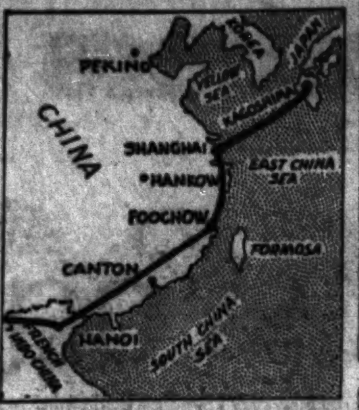
Peking Troops Refuse to Fight.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MUKDEN, Oct. 2. — Private communications smuggled through the Peking censorship confirms claims of the Mukden leaders that the Peking army is largely undependable, many units refusing to approach the front until they are paid their back wages.

The Manchurian headquarters report a number of clashes. At Taipingchuan the Chihli forces were driven back, leaving 100 dead, including a colonel. Another clash occurred near Hsinmiao, where a number of Chihli troops were killed and 100 captured.

GIRDLING WORLD



SHANGHAI, Oct. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Maj. Pedro Zanni, Argentine world aviator, will leave China tomorrow for Kagoshima, Japan, he announced late last night.

Maj. Zanni reached here Wednesday from Foochow, Fukien province, where he had been delayed by bad weather and motor trouble. He previously had been held a month at Hanoi, French Indo-China, awaiting a new plane.

The Argentinian still is determined to try to fly across the Pacific this year, though aeronautical experts have been trying to persuade him that it is too late in the season for the trip.

"GOOD OLD DAYS" BACK

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—After touring the leading agricultural sections of the country A. G. Genung, economist for the department of agriculture, asserted today that the country presents more nearly a picture of balanced prosperity than at any time during the last five years.

"Farmers in the corn belt are in better spirits than for four years—not so much from any great increase in income as from a feeling that the stage is being set for better times," said Mr. Genung.

"Corn prices are up and the expectation is that hog prices are going to ride at higher levels during the coming year.

"The corn outlook is bad enough. Frosts have hit the north. Notwithstanding the poor corn crop the central states are obviously breathing easier.

"The wheat belt is in infinitely better shape than for four years. Yields are splendid, the crop of high quality, and prices improved just at harvest time. In the western spring wheat territory, where no one has had a new pair of shoes since the winter of 1919-'20, there is particular rejoicing.

"All through the wheat country growers have hustled grain to market and new money is circulating rapidly in the process of paying debts. Men are inclined once more to regard the wheat country as good property."

CROPS MOVING QUICKLY

Conditions for marketing the wheat crop are favorable, according to Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, who has submitted a memorandum to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

"Regarding the adequacy of the machinery in the west for handling the marketing of the crops," said Mr. Meyer, "I am glad to be able to say that the reports are most optimistic, and that, in fact, the railroad transportation seems to be adequate to the task.

"Practically no substantial car shortages are reported, railroad efficiency in moving the crop being almost without precedent. Adequate financial support is being provided all along the line.

"A full supply of ocean tonnage is moving the surplus to export markets with all possible promptness."

"It is a matter of much satisfaction that this year's great wheat crop, grown as it was on a 10 per cent smaller acreage than last year's, is bringing the farmers a billion dollars cash at country points."

Armstrong's Linoleum
for Every Floor in the House

Look for the CIRCLE "A" trademark on the burlap back

For the Smart Shop
A floor of Armstrong's Inset Marble Tile Inlaid Linoleum.

Today, the Smart Shop Has a Modern Linoleum Floor

THE decorative note which the modern floor of linoleum so clearly strikes creates a bright, new influence in any retail shop.

A store with all new goods looks like an old-fashioned, antiquated store if it has a worn, soiled, or shabby floor.

The modern shop is quiet, clean, and harmonious in its appointments and in its visual appeal.

These are exactly the qualities to be found in a floor of Armstrong's Linoleum. The color and pattern of a well-chosen floor of Armstrong's Linoleum give a feeling of unobtrusive elegance to your store. All linoleum is quiet, as you know, and restful to the weary feet of shoppers and store personnel.

An economical floor

Your janitor will bless such a floor. It is easy to clean and requires only waxing now and then to keep it looking its best year after year. It does not spot, stain, crack, or splinter. It never needs refinishing.

Of course a fine linoleum floor must be properly laid.

Laying linoleum for permanency

Good linoleum merchants and contractors lay linoleum floors according to definite specifications—that is, cemented down, not directly to the underfloor, but over a lining of builders' deadening felt which is pasted to the wood or concrete underfloor. Waterproof cement is used at the edges. Cold-weather contraction or hot-weather expansion will not stretch or crack this kind of floor.

Armstrong's Linoleum in all the finer inlaid patterns is designed and made with the expectation that it will be bought with an eye to its beauty, will be laid with the idea of permanency, and will be waxed and cared for as a fine floor should be.

Talk to a merchant or write to us

Your architect, contractor, or any good linoleum merchant can give you information on the economy of linoleum floors and their low upkeep cost. You can select a business floor of Armstrong's Linoleum from many colors and designs—plain colors, Jaspés (two-tone effects), tile inlaids, marble inlaids—in keeping with any type of business.

Our 48-page illustrated booklet, "Business Floors," will be sent you on request. It shows colorplates of Armstrong's Linoleum and gives specific directions regarding laying linoleum floors and their care.

Why Does Coroner Wolff Attack the Chicago Motor Club?

Oscar Wolff, Coroner of Cook County, says the Chicago Motor Club has falsified figures in order to give the impression that most motor fatalities have been the result of negligence. He says in the Chicago Tribune of September 25th that no life was lost by jay walking during the first six months of 1924, and that no children met death riding kiddie cars, roller skating or playing in an alley.

The Chicago Motor Club has taken the figures as they were found in the coroner's office.

Ninety-five persons were killed while crossing the street in the middle of the block.

Thirty-one of the ninety children involved in accidents were killed while running across traffic. Forty-six were killed crossing streets in the middle of the block.

The statement that no children were killed while riding kiddie cars, roller skating or playing in the alleys is not borne out by the records of the coroner's office, which show that four children were killed in this manner during the first six months of 1924.

The practice of absolving pedestrians from blame is not only unfair to motorists, it is worse; it is not in the interest of safety; it keeps the pedestrian in ignorance of his faults.

Many of the victims of motor vehicle accidents would have been alive today had they or their parents recognized the dangers of the street.

The coroner is derelict in his duty if he objects to the Chicago Motor Club showing the pedestrian his mistakes; he is showing partiality if he objects to the pedestrian taking his just portion of responsibility for accidents.

IN these days when volume vies with volume, circulation figures use up so many sets of ciphers that a mere half million is apt to be accepted with a shrug of the shoulders.

Yet how few are the manufacturers who have been able to launch a nation wide business—with 1,200 wholesalers, a friendly, smoothly-functioning national sales organization of more than 100,000! How few would have been able to guarantee for the first six months of business life a weekly cash sale of more than 500,000 units! How few in four months would have increased that guarantee to 600,000 and lived up to it! How very few would have been able, in less than six months, to say with certainty that their weekly sales inside of a year would be a million units!

That is what Liberty has done, but it could not have done it—in so short a time—had there not been a definite place and a need for it.

The very fact that there was an opportunity for Liberty, the fact that it has utilized it, shows that there is a new advertising opportunity for you.

Now that this success is established, it cannot be ignored by advertisers because the public is not ignoring it.

The power of Liberty exists, ready for you to convert into sales energy to bring greater turnover for your merchandise.

And Liberty, great as its strides have been, has only started towards its peak of influence and circulation. Let a Liberty representative show you how your salesmen, jobbers and retailers can use it. Let him show you how you can get more out of your advertising expenditure.

YOUTHS COMMIT MOST OF CRIMES, BANKERS HEAR

Gotham Judge Talks at Closing Session.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Advocacy that the United States assume a larger rôle in international finance, economics and politics marked the close of the convention of the American Bankers' association yesterday.

Discussion of the desirability of this country entering the league of nations and a plea for wider investment of American capital in foreign enterprises cropped out.

A few rumblings of previous days' attacks on "radicalism" were heard. Those came from Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania. He explained the pending measure to curb branch banking. Justice James C. Cropsey of New York also assailed radicalism.

No Excess of Statesmanship.

"The hard thing in American public life is to think and act in terms of the whole," Senator Pepper said. "The representation of special interests is slavery. Political agitation in the interest of a class is the activity of self seekers. The reconciliation of particular interests with the general good is statesmanship, but of this commodity there is at the present time no overproduction."

"The bulk of the radical vote comes from young men born in this country, not from foreign born," Justice Cropsey asserted. "Eighty per cent of crimes is committed by young men under 25 years of age, and 95 per cent of these are mere boys. The need is for men who will give personal service to lead the boys to grow up right."

Richmond Man Favors League.

The league of nations was supported by Col. Thomas B. McAdams of Richmond, Va., at the meeting of the clearing house section.

"Fortunately the league is not a vital issue in the pending political campaign," he said. "Its merits and demerits can be considered dispassionately and free from party and other selfish obligations. Unfortunately, during the last few years our foreign policy has been intertwined with partisan politics, with expediency rather than coöperation, and a certain element of selfishness."

Investment in foreign securities was urged by George Woodruff, president of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago, as a means of preserving this country's prosperity.

"Europe will be able to compete with us after it has the necessary equipment and raw materials, largely because of the enormous differential in the cost of labor," Mr. Woodruff argued. "The United States is a creditor country. The world can pay us in three ways—with gold, with goods, or by selling securities.

"We are not anxious for goods, because that would disrupt our domestic markets. We do not want gold.

"Purchase of foreign securities is essential.

"Labor must understand our situation and help to reduce costs. Such readjustment should lead to a prompt reduction in freight rates, fuel costs, and manufacturing expenses. Capital must understand and help to protect our markets. This will enable us to meet European prices quoted in foreign countries and maintain our export trade."

Mellon Urges Economy.

Wider use of silver dollars to effect a saving in the cost of maintaining American currency was urged in a letter from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon read at the convention.

The demand for dollar bills now necessitates printing of 48,000,000 a month. This causes hasty manufacture and short life. The cost of making these notes is 1 7-10 cents each.

Mrs. William Laimbeer, assistant secretary of the United States Mortgage and Trust company of New York, was reëlected national president of the Association of Bank Women at the Drake hotel yesterday. Miss Jean Arnot Reid, manager of the women's department of the Bankers' Trust company of New York, was elected national vice president.

STORM GATHERS IN POLITICS FOR ENGLISH LABOR

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 3.—It is rumored at midnight that the government will refuse to accept the Liberal motion for a select committee to investigate the prosecution of Mr. Campbell. It is declared the prime minister is determined to force the issue and a general election at once. Dissolution of parliament is now spoken of three weeks hence.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A political crisis has arisen in England overnight through the decision of the Liberal party to vote against ratification of the Russian treaty. If the Liberal party sticks to that determination the Labor government must go. I say "if," because it is common knowledge that the membership of the Liberal party is sharply divided, nearly half believing the treaties ought to be ratified and half bitterly opposed.

It is considered significant that David Lloyd George was present at today's meeting but did not support H. H. Asquith's motion to vote against the treaty. It is believed that this masterful strategist is waiting to see how the country takes the announcement of the new Liberal policy before making up his mind.

May Force Issue.

The crisis on the Russian treaty cannot come, however, before November, when parliament will meet for its regular session, but it is considered likely today that Mr. MacDonald may force peace and choose his own fighting ground, precipitating the crisis next Monday. Then the Conservatives will put down a motion of censure of the government for the abandonment by the attorney general of the prosecution of a communist editor, J. R. Campbell.

If the Liberals support the government, of course this motion will be defeated, but it is rumored that Mr. MacDonald is planning to goad the Liberals voting against the government. This motion thereby will insure defeat. He will then go to the king, advise him of the dissolution of parliament, and remain in office to call a general election, at which he would say to the voters:

"See how I have been attacked on a mere triviality over the prosecution of an unimportant man whom I never heard of when I was in the midst of important affairs such as the Russian treaty, the Irish boundary question, and the Geneva peace pact. Can you afford to intrust the affairs of the country to men who are so frivolous as to plunge into an election at such a time?"

Much Popular Support.

Many Laborites, and politicians of other parties as well, believe he would stand a good chance to winning on this issue. There are thousands of middle class voters in England who are tired of the old parties, but who feared to vote for labor at the last election because of their fear of radical legislation or administration. Thousands of these now have their fears calmed by the conservative course of the Labor party while in office and are likely to follow their inclination in voting at this election.

Mr. MacDonald's alternative to dissolving parliament immediately while he remains in office is to resign and to advise the king to send for Stanley Baldwin, who would form a ministry and be defeated in the house at the first opportunity, thus causing a general election a little later.

Discovers Fountain of Youth

Walter H. Schenk, Prominent Lumberman, Declares It the

Most startling find of the age—Dynell Spring—a Clear, Tasteless, Odorless, Laxative Water, where the sick quickly restore themselves to health without drugs.

Chronic Constipation, Torpid Liver, High Blood Pressure, Rheumatism, Gastritis, Neuritis, Gout, Weak Kidneys, Gall Stones, Catarrh of the Stomach and Bowels and many other disorders.

Costs Nothing to Try It

COME OUT. SEE FOR YOURSELF. DRINK FROM THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH. IT'S FREE. BRING YOUR FRIENDS WITH YOU. HEAR WHAT THOSE WHO HAVE TRIED IT FOR DIFFERENT AILMENTS HAVE TO SAY ABOUT IT. But for those who cannot come to the spring, we give below one of hundreds of the most enthusiastic expressions of appreciation. Read every word. Then put a stop to your suffering by giving it a trial.

The photograph above and the letter below are from one of Chicago's prominent business men, engaged in the lumber business on the southwest side. Mr. Schenk has a lumber yard in Clearing, and one in Argo, and still another on Archer Ave., in Chicago. He has built up quite a business due to his sincerity in act and purpose. We have persuaded Mr. Schenk to put in writing his daily praise of this wonderful water of ours.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I counted more than 5,000 (FIVE THOUSAND) people at the DYNELL Spring recently, at one time, and I am only amazed that it was not five million, for not since the beginning of time has there been such a discovery made.

Being a sufferer of rheumatism and chronic constipation for more than 20 years, I KNOW WHEREOF I SPEAK.

DYNELL water for high blood pressure has no equal, for to my own knowledge in less than three weeks it reduced the pressure of a friend of mine 90 points.

Many of my friends who have suffered for years from stomach troubles are being restored to health and are likewise loud in their praises of DYNELL water.

I have been a frequent visitor at the SPRING for the past six weeks and have had occasion to talk to hundreds of sufferers of ailments and the tales which have been unfolded in my ears are simply astounding and seem almost TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

Besides restoring myself to perfect health, my wife, who has suffered for years from arthritis, is gradually being benefited, and I feel certain a cure will be effected in her case although doctors have given her up as incurable.

May GOD spread the news of this, THE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE, AND I AM NOT A STOCKHOLDER EITHER (much to my regret).

My honest and sincere advice to all those who are suffering such troubles as RHEUMATISM, HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, ARTHRITIS, CONSTIPATION, is GIVE DYNELL SPRING WATER A TRIAL and you will simply be AMAZED, as I was after searching for years for such a remedy, always hoping, but never finding it, until by chance I just stumbled on to the virtues of this LIFE SAVING, GOD-SENT BLESSING. And I will personally vouch for the purity and genuineness of the water as I positively know that nothing is added to it.

I am writing this letter in the hope it will lead some of my fellow sufferers to open their eyes and give it a trial and in deep and sincere gratitude for the wonderful good it has done me and mine. And to think that it costs nothing to give it a trial except your time in traveling 8 miles from the City limits, west on 95th St! IT'S THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH IN ALL ITS GLORY!

Sincerely yours,
W. H. SCHENK

And the above is but one of hundreds of similar letters from prominent Chicagoans who all write in the same enthusiastic manner as to the wonderful virtues of this veritable Fountain of Youth.

Test It Free

Don't Neglect to Fill Out Coupon Below for a Five Gallon Test of This Wonderful Water That Is a Veritable Fountain of Youth.

We want you to know that Dynell is odorless, colorless and tasteless, and yet it is the most wonderful mineral water yet discovered. It contains health-giving properties that cannot be obtained in any other way. These properties are as essential to well-being as sunlight and air. And it is for the lack of them that a host of men and women past middle life are on the verge of invalidism or already there. This wonder water can't help but bring them back to health and strength, a perfect rejuvenation. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, constipation, high blood pressure, gall stones, gastritis, torpid liver, anemia, and systemic conditions for which a thorough cleansing of the blood and consequent relief to the kidneys is called for, don't fail to either visit the spring or send for a Five Gallon Test container. The regular price of the five gallons is now down to only $3.00, delivered free to any point in Cook County, a slight express charge to outside points, and is the lowest price ever made for any high grade mineral water. The price at the spring is $2.50. Every container is sealed at the spring.

MARX MAY QUIT GERMAN HELM IF UNITY PLAN FAILS

Friends Boom Chancellor for Presidency.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—In connection with Chancellor Marx's effort to form a so-called people's government, consisting of a cabinet comprising all parties except the communists, a report is current in political circles that Herr Marx will resign if the plan fails. Thus far the social democrats have shown an unwillingness to join a cabinet in which nationalists are included.

Urge Marx for President.

Should Herr Marx resign a big movement is under way for him to take the presidency of the republic. Friends assert that President Ebert is anxious to return to private life and to his previous place in the social democratic party rather than to head a government in which his party plays no part. Herr Ebert has tried frequently to resign, but has been forced by popular opinion and the insistence of the leaders of all radical parties to remain on account of his patriotism, honesty, and capable leadership, which is above party lines.

The chancellor's friends believe Herr Marx is the same kind of man and that he will make a good president when the former quits. Moreover, Herr Marx is the leader of the Catholic party, which stands in the center of the seven warring parties and which has held the chancellorship a long time.

Besides the Catholics the nationalists would welcome Herr Marx as president so they could put in one of their leaders, Count Westarp or Herr Hargt, as chancellor.

Crisis Still Distant.

However, the political crisis which the nationalists are seeking to precipitate is still distant. The chancellor held a meeting with the government leaders tonight, who approved of the proposal for the social democrats, as well as nationalists, to join a people's government.

Manheimer Will Leaves $500,000 Estate to Widow

With the exception of a few charitable bequests, the $500,000 estate of Louis Manheimer, late head of the jewelry firm bearing his name, is left to his widow, Mrs. Augusta Manheimer of the Sisson hotel, it was revealed yesterday with the filing of the instrument for probate. Gifts are made to charities. After Mrs. Manheimer's death the estate is to revert to her children, Julian H. Manheimer and Miss May Manheimer.

FRENCH, GERMAN BURY HATCHET AT TRADE PARLEY

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Invoking success in the name of Europe's economic peace, Minister of Commerce Raynaldi, addressing the French-German delegations today, laid down the lines along which the French government proposes to frame a trade concord.

In response Herr Trendeplenburg, secretary of the reich ministry of public economy, expressed his views, and the second plenary session passed with scarce a hint of the difficulties before the laborious sessions now to be held in secret, no doubt, for many weeks.

The conference's object, M. Raynaldi said, was to restore a copious exchange of goods between France and Germany, which was interrupted by the war. He emphasized particularly the disastrous effects of the material destruction during the war in France, which Germany had not suffered.

Two Boys, 8 and 9 Years Old, Confess Car Theft

When Lincoln Park Policeman Byron Verding saw Stanley Mallas, 8 years old, and William Deming, 9, drive blithely past him at Lake Shore drive and Superior street their youth attracted his attention and he stopped them. They confessed to the Juvenile authorities they had stolen the car of O. R. Perkins, 3400 North Springfield avenue.

BURGLARS GET VALUABLE FURS.

Fifteen muskrat and Hudson seal coats and other furs valued at $8,000 were stolen from the Diamond Fur company, 939 Roosevelt road, early yesterday morning.

BOOZE TRADE FOR YANKS ONLY, RUM RUNNERS DECREE

BREST, France, Oct. 2.—[By Associated Press.]—Bootlegging and rum running are essentially American institutions, into which the New York "rum ring" will permit no foreigner to intrude, Max Jerome Phaff told traveling companions on a Southampton-London train last August, according to affidavits filed with Commandant Fournier of the French naval corps, which is investigating the Mulhouse piracy. Phaff is charged with complicity in this piracy, in which the French steamer was looted of 36,000 cases of whisky off the Canadian coast last July.

"I am one of the kings of the American bootleggers," Phaff is quoted as saying. "We don't want any foreigners horning into this business. We just wanted to give these Frenchmen a good lesson."

The "lesson," according to affidavits, which the rum runners wished to teach the French was administered in the piracy of the Mulhouse.

Commandant Fournier said he was inclined to believe that the defendant was somewhat boastful and that, instead of being a "king" of the bootleggers, was merely a cog in the huge machinery of American rum running.

VOLIVA SEIZES $100,000 REALTY FOR BACK TAXES

Waukegan, Ill., Oct. 2.—Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva of Zion City ordered seventy-three leaseholders today to restore to him vacant property valued at $100,000 for nonpayment of taxes and rentals. The leases, taken out recently, were to have run for 999 years.

Examination of the leases revealed that the lessee in each case was specifically forbidden to operate a distillery, beer garden, or saloon, or sell liquor, cigars, or cigarets. Gambling houses, dance halls, or shows of any kind also were taboo.

The leases also forbade erection on the property of drug stores or homes for physicians. The raising or selling of swine was further prohibited.

BY MORROW KRUM.

Dayton, O., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Three spectacular contests between ultra modern commercial airplanes and an exhibition of all that is new in gigantic aerial weight carrying craft marked the opening of the three day Pulitzer race meet here today.

B. G. PAGE.

More than 25,000 persons attended and many went home tonight with a firm conviction that in this, the twenty-first year of the industry's growth, flying is something more than an occupation of daredevils.

When the show was at its height this afternoon a roar never before set up by a single machine struck the ears of the crowd. It was poured into the auditory organs of the spectators by the six motors of the world's largest and most powerful airplane, the Barling bomber. This mammoth aerial ferry boasts of 2,400 horse power. It carried eight men and a pay load of 12,000 pounds aloft and kept them there as long as Lieut. R. H. Harris, the pilot, saw fit to deafen the crowd.

Passenger Plane Cruises.

Meanwhile three races brought out the advances in light carriers. In these races Chicago built planes were well placed. In the National Cash Register company trophy race, which was won by Walter Less of Dayton, Perry Hutton, flying a Laird commercial with a 90 horse power motor, took second place and Hans Hoyle, flying a Yackey special, took third place. The Laird and the Yackey were both built in Chicago.

Air Service Man Wins.

The third race, a contest between ships powered with the Liberty motor, was won by Lieut. D. G. Duke of the air service, who averaged 130 miles an hour.

The On-to-Dayton race, a contest for carriers bringing great loads from great distances, was won by Charles S. Jones. H. A. Hoyte, W. A. Yackey, and Elmer Partridge, Chicagoans flying Chicago built ships, took fourth, fifth, and sixth places in this contest.

LOANED POTHIER REVOLVER ON DAY CRONKHITE DIED

Wisconsin Man Is Witness at Trial.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 2.—That he loaned Roland R. Pothier his pistol and ammunition on the morning of the day Maj. Alexander P. Cronkhite died from a bullet wound on the Camp Lewis reservation, was the testimony of Dr. George C. Kreutz of La Crosse, Wis., this afternoon in the trial in federal District court here of Pothier, who is accused of murdering the major.

Dr. Kreutz said that he did not accompany the party of soldiers on the march on which Maj. Cronkhite met his death and knew nothing of the circumstances surrounding the fatal wound received by the major.

He said Pothier asked him for his revolver in the presence of others and that there was nothing secret about the transaction. Dr. Kreutz was with the 213th engineers at Camp Lewis at the time.

Present When Cronkhite Died.

Dr. Elmer W. Seaburg of Peoria, Ill., at the time of Maj. Cronkhite's death a first lieutenant with the 213th engineers, testified he reached Maj. Cronkhite about the time he was breathing his last. He did not attend the major personally, he said, and did not know for ten or fifteen minutes after he saw the major reclining, supported by Capt. Robert Rosenbluth, that he had been shot.

Much of Dr. Seaburg's testimony was not admitted because he failed to remember whether Pothier was present or not. The court held him to straightforward statements of what he saw. He was not allowed to relate conversations that took place.

Near Rosenbluth at Time.

James P. Crook of New Bedford, another witness, who was a private in the 216th engineers, testified that he was marching at the head of the column when he heard two shots fired in the woods. Capt. Rosenbluth was five or ten feet ahead of the column, he said, when the first shot was fired, and he declared that Rosenbluth started toward the place the sound was coming from immediately and was disappearing into the woods when the second shot was fired.

The question of jurisdiction, which is expected later to bring about a big legal battle, was brought up in the case for the first time this morning.

METHODISTS "AS USUAL" WAR OVER PEACE PROGRAM

Resolutions Divide Rock River Conference.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Sterling, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Resolutions today concerning peace brought the usual war at the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

DR. ERNEST F. TITTLE.

The public policy committee presented a report of 2,000 words dealing with peace, the duty of all citizens to go to the polls and primaries, the rights of ministers and churches to enter into politics, the duty of observing the law, condemning newspapers that fail to observe the eighteenth amendment while it is the law, the rights of all races, yellow, red, or black, to "being treated like brothers," industrial justice, and the need of religious education.

Stand By High Court.

The resolutions condemning attempts to destroy the independence of the Supreme court, which were printed in full in yeserday's TRIBUNE, were unanimously passed.

War on the peace proposition was started when Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, pastor of First church, Evanston, moved an amendment to the report on war declaring that "We are not in sympathy with mobilization or Defense day, and respectfully urge the government not to make the event an annual custom."

The Rev. A. M. Pennywell, pastor of Covenant church, Evanston, said he was willing to have the resolutions pass if a statement were added declaring our willingness to fight in self-defense.

"Loyalty to Be Assumed."

"It is not necessary for us to assert our loyalty to the government; this can be assumed," said the Rev. A. L. Seamans, Berwyn.

"We do not hesitate to assert again and again our belief in prohibition," said Dr. John Thompson of the Chicago Temple.

Red Riding Hood

. . . By . . .

ELIZABETH JORDAN

SYNOPSIS.

Mrs. Morgan Schuyler, one of New York's leading philanthropic and social lights, advertises for a young woman to work in her apartment mornings. The advertisement is answered by a girl evidently of birth and breeding. In spite of the fact that she admits a desire to hide her identity, Mrs. Schuyler accepts her on trust and tags her with the name of Hope Emerson.

Mrs. Schuyler's family consists of her mother, Mrs. Van Dorn; a young brother, Jim Van Dorn, and an older brother, Bertie, who is away. Sally Willis, Mrs. Schuyler's goddaughter, calls during the course of the morning.

The second morning of her employment Hope faints, after receiving a mysterious telephone call. Mrs. Schuyler summons Dr. Horace Osborne. Hope tells the doctor she is employed during the afternoon hours on East 70th street. He offers to drive her there. She refuses to tell him the exact location and asks him to let her out of the car at the corner of 5th avenue and 70th street. The doctor starts back downtown, but suddenly remembers he has an appointment on 70th street.

By a strange coincidence his appointment is at the house where Hope is employed. He has been called in consultation with two other doctors. The patient is a boy of five years, and the entire household mysteriously revolves about the child, whose closest guardian is an uncle named Scarwenka. All of the members of this household are foreigners except Hope, who is known here as Sonia.

INSTALLMENT XVII.

A QUEER SITUATION.

Both yesterday and today Hope had seen Doctor Hatch taking in everything his gray green eyes rested upon—the foreign furnishings of the place, the dark faced, rather sinister looking man in the hall, the volcanic, middle aged woman nurse, herself—O, not least of all, herself! Yes, Hatch's imaginative mind would work overtime, and if Osborne repeated to Mrs. Schuyler the specialist's surmises and theories, even as broadminded a woman as that noted leader might feel it was too great a risk to add Miss Emerson to her home circle. And if Miss Emerson lost the Schuyler work, where else could she find some one sufficiently confiding to employ her? How could she supplement her present earnings? And what assurance had she that if she found another place, she could remain in it? The reflection presented itself like a shrouded figure and waited for attention, while a sensation of despair filled her.

"Miss Sonia?"

Osborne had to speak again before she heard him, and came back to the moment as one returning exhausted by a journey. She looked around. Hatch and Phelps were talking to Madam Scarwenka at the bedside of their restless patient.

"We're going now," Osborne said, in a low tone. "But first I want to say that I haven't seen you here, and that I've forgotten meeting you anywhere else. Is that quite clear?"

She threw a startled glance at him, and met a pair of vividly blue eyes with a remote expression in them.

"Quite," she faltered. "Thank you very much."

"There's nothing to thank me for."

He swung on his heel and bustled back to the group beside the bed. She heard him say good-by to Madam Scarwenka, and watched him leave the room with the other men. For a moment their American voices, oddly out of place in this environment, came back to her, mingled with the sound of their footsteps as they descended the uncarpeted stairs. The front door slammed.

Now a bargain was struck.

She raised her head with a slight jerk, characteristic of her in difficult moments, and drew a deep breath. She was safe, then, a little longer. But even in that instant of gratitude she felt a sensation approaching acute dislike of the arrogant young man who had put her under such a heavy obligation. She had not liked the look in his blue eyes when he did it, and she liked it even less in retrospect. It was as if, having unconsciously pushed her veil of reserve to one side, he twicked it back into place with a scornful gesture—the gesture of one who had not approved of the revelation he had received. Well, obviously he hadn't approved of it. Hope Emerson did not approve of it herself. Still, he might have spared her that flick of something that was almost contempt.

The voice of the woman they called Madam Scarwenka aroused her from her reverie.

"It is not ker-oop. And there is nothing we must do," it was saying with relief, in its guttural, broken English.

"No, I was sure it wasn't," the girl agreed.

"I want all the stories in the whole world!"

The autocrat in the big bed had risen, had cast the bed clothing aside, and now faced them, with legs wide apart, like a resolute baby Colossus. His English was fluent, colloquial, and without accent. He apparently had a fine command of several other tongues as well—tongues unknown to Hope. In moments of excitement—and these were frequent—he drew on his entire vocabulary and poured forth orations that left the household dazed and vicariously breathless.

Now a bargain was struck. He was to get back into bed and remain there the rest of the day, while Sonia read to him and told him stories. Tomorrow, the doctors had said, he could play out in the garden. In another moment he was between the sheets, the bed covers up to his chin. Jack the Giant Killer, slim, eager, green coated, young—O, yes, just a little boy 'most five years old—had entered the room and was beginning his great adventure.

At the curb in front of the house the three doctors stopped for a moment before separating. Phelps, looking more depressed than ever, had intimated that there was a final word to say. He brought it out with evident embarrassment.

"I've a rather unusual message from the—ah—lady we've just left," he began, self-consciously, "the lady called Madam Scarwenka. She asks, gentlemen, if you'll both be good enough to make a point of forgetting that you've been here!"

Hatch chuckled.

"Can't do it, doctor," he objected. "Life's too monotonous, as a rule, to let anything like this get away. My mind treats it as a plaything." Then, seeing the disturbed expression on the other's plump face, he took pity on poor Phelps, who had no sense of humor. "But I won't speak of it," he promised, and with a nod entered his waiting car. Doctor Phelps, whose conception of his personal needs did not include an automobile, lingered a moment beside Osborne.

"Going down town?" the latter asked him.

"Yes. To East Thirty-eighth street."

"All right. Get in and I'll drop you there."

Phelps got in. He remembered that, unlike Hatch, this associate had made no promise in response to Madam Scarwenka's message; but the fact did not disturb him. If any one talked of this visit, it would not be Osborne.

"It's a queer situation," he began, without preface. "As you know, I've studied a lot on the other side and I've met shoals of Europeans. To all intents and purposes that establishment—aside from a few good pieces of furniture they've got in it—is just an ordinary lower class Balkan household. Most of the names are Balkan, too, though Scarwenka isn't. However, all the names are certainly assumed. There's always a reek of strong cooking in the place that turns my stomach. I've been in and out for six months—ever since they moved in, in fact—and I've never seen anything but the most commonplace family life. The kid's nurse has a bad temper, but there's nothing esoteric about that. The girl Sonia is out of the picture, because she clearly belongs to a higher class than the rest of them; but just as clearly she's under the Scarwenka woman's thumb, though the two Scarwenkas are pure peasants and the girl Sonia seems a thoroughbred. The rent of that house must be high, and yet see how these people dress! There's another man in the basement, a chap they call Mihail. He never seems to do anything except attend to the furnace, and I fancy he's simply a sort of guard. But what the devil are they guarding?"

The question was clearly oratorical, so Osborne remained silent. There was something he wanted to ask, but he would not ask it. As if he had got it telepathically, Phelps went on:

"I can't make out what the girl's position is, except that it's infernally uncomfortable. The Scarwenka purrs when strangers are around, but her claws are out the rest of the time, and I've been there so much that she doesn't take the trouble to purr at me. Her one soft spot is the child. Both she and her husband seem besotted about him, though I've never seen them show him any personal affection. They call me if he bruises a fingernail, and if he bumps his head they want a consultation. All that's natural enough, I suppose, since he appears to be all they've got. But what puzzles me is the atmosphere of secrecy they surround themselves with. It's enough to bring the whole police force down on them; whereas if they'd go about their business in a normal fashion no one in New York would pay any attention to them. It's their precautions that strike one. Why, they've a regular set of signals for me! I can't get across the threshold unless I ring the bell in a certain way. And did you notice the bolts and chains on all the doors and windows? The Scarwenkas themselves never leave the house. The kid plays out down in the fifty foot square of ground they refer to as 'the garden.' They've built a roofed pavilion there for him, and the fence is so high no one can look over it. The girl Sonia comes and goes pretty freely, though I've a suspicion they keep a closer eye on her than she thinks."

Stage Success Not So Much So in Picture

'The Warrens of Virginia' Rather Lackadaisical.

"THE WARRENS OF VIRGINIA"

Produced by Fox.
Directed by Elmer Clifton.
Presented at the Monroe theater.

THE CAST.

Gen. Warren	George Backus
Mrs. Warren	Dorothy Kingdon
Agatha Warren	Martha Mansfield
Arthur Warren	Robert Andrews
Ned Burton	Wilfred Lytell
Johnnie	James Turaler
Pap	Harmon Knight
The Hill Buzzard	Willard Robertson
Gen. Grant	Lieut. Wilbur J. Fox, U.S.A.
Gen. Lee	J. Barney Sherry
Gen. Griffin	Frank Andrews

BY ROBERTA NANGLE.

"The Warrens of Virginia," adapted from David Belasco's stage success, is a rather lackadaisical picture of the struggle of 1864. It has more of romance than bloodshed—the war in lighter vein, so to speak.

Agatha Warren, loyal daughter of the Confederacy, loves Ned Burton, one of the boys in blue. Ned is torn between his duty to Gen. Grant and his love for the southern girl. We see him in the painful position of carrying a false dispatch from the army of the north, under the pretense of making a friendly call at the home of the Warrens. This bit of strategy leads to Grant's capture of the confederate food supplies, and eventually to Lee's surrender. As the picture closes we are assured that wars may come and wars may go, but love lives on forever!

The late Martha Mansfield, who was fatally burned during the filming of this movie, is a lovely, aristocratic heroine. She demonstrates woman's inconsistency by alternating between bursts of patriotism and concern for her lover.

Wilfred Lytell resembles his older brother, Bert. He also has his brother's trick of posing at times after the fashion of the matinee idol.

Wilbur Fox is quite realistic as the brusque but kindly Gen. Grant. Most of the other players do fairly good work.

The battle scenes are not particularly impressive, but, then, as I said before, "The Warrens of Virginia" is primarily a love story.

CLOSEUPS

Mary MacLaren became the bride of Lieut. Col. George H. Young of Woodbridge, Suffolk, England, on Sept. 30. The wedding took place at her mother's home, and Katherine MacDonald, sister of the bride, was the attendant. After a short honeymoon in this country the former Miss MacLaren will leave the screen for the life of an officer's wife in India.

It is rumored that Fannie Brice will be a Metro-Goldwyn star, making her screen debut in "The Wife," an Adela Rogers St. Johns story that Frank Borzage will direct.

Rex Ingram is to screen another of Blasco Ibanez's novels. This time it's to be "Mare Nostrum," and work on the production is to start shortly. Most of the filming will be done in France and Spain.

Mrs. A. E. Bergland, state chairman of the women's auxiliary committee of the Democratic state central committee, takes exception to a statement which appeared in THE TRIBUNE yesterday. It was stated that no mention was made either of the Democratic candidate for governor, Norman L. Jones, or of the Democratic candidate for senator, Albert A. Sprague, at the Booster day luncheon. Mrs. Bergland says that "extended reference was made to both of these candidates by Robert M. Sweitzer."

Suppression of News Pays Best in Paris

French 'Pressman' Poor Figure, Medillians Told.

The English newspaper was held alongside the American newspaper by Prof. H. A. Herrington in his address last night at the Medill School of Journalism, and the American newspaper did not suffer by the comparison.

Prof. Herrington spent the summer in England and France, studying the differences between European and American journalism. While every American newspaper tries to print matter which will appeal to the widest number of persons, he found that each English newspaper caters to its own class. There's the paper for the workingman who likes his pail of beer and his picture paper, with plenty of tittle tattle about the doings of royalty.

Then there's the conservative paper which goes in for heavy editorials, art and literary reviews, for the conservative people, written by a little ring of writers who are revered and held a little in awe. Prof. Herrington found in England a great many free lance writers who find markets on many papers for literary discussion, poetry, and descriptive writing.

Prof. Herrington touched upon the striking contrast between "pressmen" of France and the reporters of England and America. Many French editors, Prof. Herrington said, make more money keeping things out of their papers than they receive for the advertisements they print. The reporters are a subsidized crew, poorly paid and in most instances working for four or five papers at once. Newspaper work in France, Prof. Herrington found, is a shabby profession.

The well known absence of headlines in English newspapers he mentioned, as well as the absence of vital "leads" to news stories. He found advertising in the best of British papers disguised as news in a fashion long ago discarded by reputable American editors. In the "picture" papers—the cheap paper for the laborer—he found crimes presented in all the most revolting details, and pictures of criminals in profusion.

Prof. Herrington said he found American papers with their democratic handling of news for all people in all papers, with their time saving headlines and fresh manner of writing, a most welcome change.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question E. T. Lerine, 545 North Michigan avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

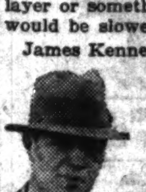
How much would you have to be paid to repair the flagpole on the Tribune Tower.

Where Asked.

Michigan avenue, opposite Tribune Tower.

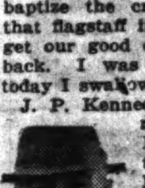
The Answers.

E. C. Erickson, 935 South Carpenter street, draftsman — I don't know whether I'd want to do it at any price; at any rate I should want a good sum. I'd prefer to make my money on a safer job, as a bricklayer or something. It would be slower but surer.



James Kennedy, 4110 Monroe street, unemployed — No sum would be big enough. THE TRIBUNE is as free from chances of getting me to climb up there as a frog is free from feathers. I'd be just lucky enough to fall off the thing. I'm not ready for heaven yet.

Nicholas Mueller, 2614 Logan boulevard, clerk—You are the Inquiring Reporter and I am the Inquiring Reader. I'll contract to climb, repair, paint and baptize the crown of that flagstaff if it will get our good old beer back. I was so dry today I swallowed a coca-cola.



J. P. Kennedy, Miles City, Mont., railroad clerk — Well, I've been star gazing at that flag up there, but I'm from Montana and I'd rather ride home in a Pullman than be shipped there in a baggage car. That's a job for an adventuresome lad; one who wants to break into the movies—or a casket.

Edward Davis, 410 North Michigan avenue, merchandise broker—I don't believe there's enough money in the world for that. I wasn't built for that stunt. They put it up; why not take it down the same way they put it up? That might save some one's neck, and save a lot of stiff necks down on the street.

THEATERS

Sunday has been taken out of the schedule of Walter Hampden's performances in "Cyrano de Bergerac," and the management suggests that buyers of tickets for that night change or redeem them. . . . The explanation is that Mr. Hampden thinks his voice will be better on Monday if he rest it Sunday after using it in two performances Saturday. As Cyrano is a long rôle and as he started the engagement with a cold, Mr. Hampden is probably right. . . .

And this is as good a place as any other for a word or two which a late performance and a limited acreage barred from Tuesday's review of Mr. Hampden's revival. . . . The acting of the comedy throughout is competent;—and this is an adjective of high praise when the long list of speaking-characters is considered. Some of the "bits" are acted with sharp definition, so that one remembers the impersonation even if hazy as to the especial impersonator. Miss Jeanette Sherwin, newly in the part of Roxane, doesn't make much of it —a neglect in which she was anticipated by Edmond Rostand, who wrote the play: I have seen Bernhardt, Miss Anglin, the late Ada Rehan, and Miss Katherine Grey in the part; and none of them made much of it. So, it isn't easy on the evidence to say how good Miss Sherwin will be when Mr. Hampden returns to Shakspere. . . . Another new-comer, Baliol Holloway, is capital as De Guiche: he knows the trick of acting a play in verse, and makes of the aristocratic rival for Roxane a figure of elegance and distinction. . . .

Attendance is none too good in the Great Northern; and for this I am sorry. Mr. Hampden has achieved a fine thing of the theater in restoring this play in such seemly and agreeable fashion, and deserves the best the community can do in his brief fortnight. . . . If you go, you will find the mise-en-scéne lavish and rich within reason, and the venture worth the price of a ticket and the three hours required for performance. Also, you will hear the lovely comedy in a fresh English text, made by Brian Hooker, the librettist: he has avoided the error of earlier translators of "Cyrano" by not seeking to write verse in the style of the play's period. . . . The whole enterprise is so satisfactory that I hope Mr. Hampden will have success here.

Although the management of "Tarnish" intimates that Mr. Dixey will cease to be a member of the cast in The Playhouse a week from tomorrow, Mr. Dixey is of the belief that he will remain in the cast as long as the play remains in Chicago. . . . Which is this morning's news about "Tarnish."

Miss Lenore Ulric is to act in "The Harem," another play by the author of "Grounds for Divorce," "The Little Angel," and "Fata Morgana." . . . This one is said to be of high popularity in Middle Europe; and Avery Hopwood has made the adaptation. . . . Miss Virginia Hammond, Lennox Pawle, Miss Marjorie Vonneguet, and Robert Fischer are well-knowns who will be with Miss Ulric in it.

Miss Cissie Loftus returns to the United States today for a tour in the varieties that will in time bring her to the Palace. . . . And Miss Martha Hedman, whom the late Charles Frohman tried hard to make into a star, will be next week's headline performer in that theater.

Jack Donohue, one of the stars of "Be Yourself!" in New-York, has been ill. They closed the theater one night, and reopened the next with Hal Skelly in his place: the latter was available through last Saturday's disbandment here of "Mary Jane McKane." . . . Mr. Donohue is recovered and at work.

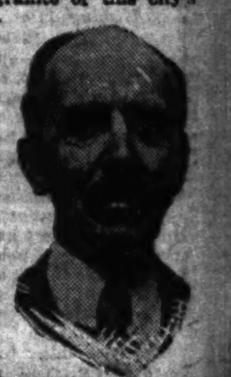
Angel in Stone Tells Glory of Gallant First

Warriors Trek to Capital for Dedication.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—"The commander in chief has noted in this division a special pride of service and a high state of morale never broken by hardship nor battle."

Those words now are carved deep in the everlasting granite of this city's newest monument.



DANIEL CHESTER FRENCH.

Six years ago the men of the First division, A. E. F., heard them read out in France from general order 201.

Today hundreds of those men are arriving in Washington, the advance contingents of a body of veterans which will exceed 10,000 by Saturday morning, when the division's memorial to its fallen will be dedicated.

The bronze angel of victory surmounting the sixty foot shaft of the memorial awaits the living who come to honor their dead.

An impressive coincidence is brought out by the name of the designer of the bronze angel which awaits the veterans. That name is Daniel Chester French. Many years ago Daniel Chester French executed the statue of the minute man which stands sentinel at Concord bridge in Massachusetts, where "the shot heard round the world" was fired on April 19, 1775.

Now in his old age, for he is 74, Daniel Chester French executes for the men who fired the first American shot in the world war the emblematic figure which stands in radiant benediction above the memorial to their dead.

The gaze of the surmounting angel of victory on the sixty foot column commands the scores of acres of lawn and trees which extend south and east from the state, war and navy building to the Washington monument. To the east of it is the gleaming White House; to the west the white marble Corcoran Art gallery, and directly behind, at a distance of 200 feet, the oppressive state, war and navy pile.

The north side of the memorial bears the illustrious words of praise which First division men first heard in France. On its south side are carved these words:

"Erected by the memorial association of the First division and patriotic friends to the memory of the dead of the division, who gave their lives in the world war that the liberty and the ideals of our country might endure."

East and west sides bear battle names, each with its special thrill of battle and service—Cantigny, Montdidier-Noyon, Soissons-Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne and Mouzon-Sedan.

On broad bronze tablets sunk into the four sides of the pedestal and in such a position as to be read easily appear the names of the division's 5,586 dead. Each of the four tablets bears the words: "The names of our immortal dead are here enshrined."

Base and column supporting Mr. French's angel of victory were designed by Cass Gilbert. The cost of the memorial was $150,000. Its height is seventy-eight feet and it was projected with the idea of attaining similarity to the memorial column at West Point.

The dedicatory address of Saturday morning will be delivered by President Coolidge. Gen. Pershing, who commanded the American expeditionary force, and Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, who commanded the First division, will also speak.

SENTENCE SERMONS—By the REV. ROY L. SMITH

We Change Our Minds—

—About people when we come to know them better.
—About jobs when we see how the other man works.
—About policies when our party gets into power.
—About children when we have some of our own.
—About education when we fail for lack of preparation.
—About religion when we get into trouble and have no God.
—About business after we have invested in some stock.

Make Him Think He Makes You Happy, or Somebody Else May

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A jealous and despairing wife said to me, not long ago, in trying to describe the woman she was afraid her husband was becoming interested in:

"There isn't much I can see in her. She isn't very pretty or very bright, and she doesn't even dress very well. I'd only say about her that she is an awfully cheerful, happy sort of woman. I can't describe her any other way—just happy."

She didn't realize it, of course, but that was about the only sort of woman she had any real need of fearing. Or that most wives have, for that matter. Cheer is what every man likes in a companion or sweetheart or wife. Perhaps it is because it is the thing most men are bankrupt in and they are always in need of new capital.

She couldn't see that, though. "A wife can't always appear happy. She has so many things on her mind."

So has the other woman, too, probably, only she is wise enough not to pour her troubles out to the man as soon as she sees him. Ever notice how so many wives, as soon as their husbands come home, take an emotional slump? The corners of their mouths go down, their eyes grow listless or peevish, and they begin to talk about their ailments or air their complaints. If a neighbor drops in they perk up a bit and look more cheerful, but as soon as the neighbor departs down drops the emotional thermometer again.

Every man that's at all normal likes to feel that he is making a woman happy. If he thinks he is successful at it, the mere reflection stimulates him. And the wife who is constantly reminding him by word or expression that he doesn't make her happy is making that man an easy prey to the woman who smiles with pleasure at his approach, and who gives him the extremely dangerous idea that he is making her decidedly happy by his mere presence.

The woman the average wife has to fear isn't necessarily the beautiful woman, nor the intellectual woman, nor the witty woman, nor the well dressed woman. With a little effort a wife can possess enough of these attributes to satisfy her husband. The woman she needs to fear is the happy woman.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Making Him Understand.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18 and have been going out with a man of 30 for five months. He loves me dearly and wants me to marry him. I do not care enough about him to marry him; however, I do like him as a friend, but somehow I cannot make him understand that. I do not wish to go out with him any more, as I only encourage him by accepting his invitations. How can we part and still be on good terms? He gets indignant when I say I am unable to see him. He lives right across the street from me, which makes matters worse. "HELEN."

The wise thing to do, Helen, would be to accept no more invitations from him, as you have explained your feelings, and he does not get your point of view. He is serious and you are not. Naturally, he thinks so long as you continue to go out with him there is hope. Perhaps you feel he is much older than you, dear, and are more attracted to boys of your own age.

Have Other Girls.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a boy of 16 and in love with a girl of 18. She says she loves me but that I am too young for her. Do you think I should go with her or give her up? ELI."

I think I would give her up, son—nor would I think of any one girl in preference to all others for some time to come. It's lots more fun to have several girls, and it's the only way to find out whom you really like. And, why not choose those younger than yourself, or your own age? You will have more in common with them than with the older girls.

Woman's Club Opening.

The Millard Avenue Woman's club announces its opening day at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Shedd Park community house.

Take Both Together

Milk of Magnesia and Mineral Oil now Combined

One of the most important medical achievements of recent years is the combination of milk of magnesia and mineral oil. Haley's Magnesia-Oil successfully combines the two, and makes them doubly effective.

The oil carries the magnesia straight to the lower bowel, the seat of most so-called stomach trouble. All of the antacid properties of the milk of magnesia are applied to correcting the trouble at its source. Poisonous acids are neutralized, clogged tracts are lubricated—at one and the same time. Action is prompt, but devoid of griping. Delightful to take; no oily taste. Can be mixed with milk and given children without their knowledge.

Get a bottle of Haley's Magnesia-Oil today. Most druggists sell it. If yours can't supply you we will mail a bottle postpaid on receipt of price. Trial size 35c; family size, $1. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

So Much a Minute.

I went into the drug store to make a long distance call. I had taken the amount of money I knew the call would be.

When I finished talking the operator said, "Two dollars, please."

I had talked overtime, and you cannot imagine how embarrassed I was, as the man who owned the store did not know me or want to trust me, but had to. F. L. H.

Safe for That Day.

I had always been afraid to go to a dentist; for years I had wonderful teeth, but the time came—I had to make up my mind and have a tooth treated. As I never had been in a dentist's chair, I naturally felt excited. When the doctor came near me, I opened my mouth and stuck my tongue out.

"I do not want to see your tongue," only your tooth," he said.

I got a laughing fit and could not stay in the chair and had to go home. I certainly felt embarrassed. W. E.

Offering Dress Clothes.

If to parties you must go, or if on tables you must wait, and if you need the suit so kindly offered, write your request for it without delay.

Clinging to the Children.

"I am a widow and am caring for my two orphaned grandsons, 4 and 6 years old, and the last year and a half has been but a series of reverses for us. We are now entirely without funds, and even so I cannot bear to part with the children. They are all I have. I would like to find employment by the day with sufficient pay to enable us to live in our present home, which is a lodging home for working women and their children, as the children can be left here in the day nursery and would have good care while I am at work. We need clothing of all kinds. The boys wear sizes 5 and 7, and I wear anything size 48-50 and a wide 5½ shoe. MRS. A. H."

Anything you can do for this grandmother and her two orphan charges will be help gratefully received, I am sure.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Whipped Avocadoes.

The growers of avocadoes have been doing some big exploiting of their fruit this year, and one of the ways they have been serving it in Florida is as a sherbet. We who believe that the avocado should receive more attention as a dessert fruit and a little less as a salad fruit can but be pleased with this idea. At present every high priced hotel in the country, and now all the better restaurants, have avocado salad on their menus but not avocado desserts as yet.

By the way, it is interesting to note that the name avocado has won out as against alligator pear, not so pleasant a term by a great deal, if we stop to think about it. This proves, seemingly, that we are growing more tolerant of words that have a foreign sound. We needed to.

For those who cannot eat eggs, and particularly for those who should not, the avocado is a great resource, and twice as easy to prepare as a cooked dessert. Whip it up, add sugar to taste, and a little lemon juice, and you have a custard like preparation, or you can use this—being sure it is well sweetened—as a cake filling or in a short cake. You will find it good as a spread for a plain roll or a biscuit. It was eaten that way long ago, whence the name "midshipman's butter," given it in the tropics. Its chemical composition justifies the name of butter, and it is really carrying coals to Newcastle to add an oil dressing to it.

It was in Florida that I became enthusiastic about the avocado as a fruit and a spread. Knowing its high caloric content, I considered it with bread an excellent luncheon for various and scientific reasons.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WORRIED: BY ALL MEANS have the adenoids removed if the doctor advises it. They interfere with your breathing and detract from your charm by making you keep your mouth open, giving a rather foolish expression to the face. It is not a painful operation.

CLARA: YES, WORRY WILL turn the hair gray, so the best thing for you to do is to stop worrying right away. If your hair is coming out, brush it every morning and night, wash it at least every two weeks, and send along a stamped, addressed envelop for my booklet on care of the hair.

MRS. E. S. R.: YOUR HANDS should not be in the condition you describe, from the work you do. You do none of the rough cleaning, and washing a few dishes would not be responsible, if you would use a little care. Do not have the water too hot, and be sure to use good soap. Cheap soaps are strong with alkali, and their use would ruin any skin. Keep in a handy place a bottle of equal parts of camphor and glycerin, and rub this on the hands several times a day. It will make them smooth and white.

Pandora Pauses to Note Some Society Comings and Goings

BY PANDORA.

It is restful now and then, in the midst of all the buds and brides, the benefits and balls, to glance about and find out just who is slipping away on brief visits and who else is returning to Chicago for the same purpose. And lo, one finds a host of such birds of passage.

The Insulls are off again on a batch of wanderings. The two Samuels, senior and junior, have left the rural delights of Libertyville for a short sojourn in England. And while the men of the family are away on their jaunt Mrs. Insull is seizing occasion by the forelock (I always have to stop and consider whether I am doing as Amy did in "Little Women," in having some one seize something most inappropriately by the fetlock), and is departing for the wilds of Gotham for a holiday of her own.

Among our returned travelers there is Albert Isham, who has a habit of deserting his Schiller street abode for months at a time, while he pursues the elusive thrill in South America or the orient or Europe. As usual, he is "very, very busy," but his leisurely air belies his words, and one suspects that he is managing to enjoy himself here despite the carking cares which he says beset him.

Another of the home-once-mores is Mrs. Eleanor Robinson Countiss, who arrived this week from the east, accompanied by her two youngsters, Henrietta and Frederick Jr., just in time to receive a visit from Mrs. Countiss' sister, Mrs. William A. Evans. The Countiss trio have spent the summer at Cannondale, Conn., in what sounds like a story book house, filled with rare and fascinating early American furniture.

From Connecticut came various of Mrs. Countiss' forefathers, so her love of New England is doubtless an inheritance, and accounts for her turning her footsteps thither each year. Though I haven't seen her since her return, I hear that the radiant Eleanor is lovelier than ever to gaze upon and that's saying, as 't were, a mouthful.

Day's News in Society

Whyte of Kensington, London, to make a short visit to this country during the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Whyte are now spending two months in Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Armin Brand and Miss Jane Brand left "Allview," also at Geneva, early this week for Chicago, from whence they plan to go on to New York for the winter.

Gen. Edwards Urges Year with Colors for Youth

Boston, Mass., Oct. 2.—The Military Order of the World War, at the first session of its annual convention here today, was urged by Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, U. S. A., retired, to oppose a proposal to prohibit by constitutional amendment the employment of children up to 18 years of age, with the added suggestion that if it meant that the youth of the country would serve six months or a year with the colors, it would be a good thing.

"A year with the colors would end bigotry, bring back the spirit of national fraternity, develop democracy and character, end pacifist foolishness, and make every lad better able to meet the battle of life," the general said.

Gen. Edwards recommended that the order also get behind the development of commercial aviation, to make America first in the air, and back the universal draft in any future war.

Golden Rule Dinner to Remind of Near East Need

Five thousand invitations have been issued for a "golden rule" dinner in the ballroom of the Hotel La Salle next Thursday evening by a committee headed by former Gov. Frank O. Lowden. Plans for the observance of Golden Rule week, starting Dec. 7, will be made. Golden Rule week had its inception in Geneva, Switzerland, as a reminder to the world that the orphans and refugees of Persia, Armenia, Syria, Turkey, Anatolia, and Greece are still in dire need. A typical Persian menu will be served, and Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, has been invited to deliver the principal address. No funds will be solicited, the object of the meeting being to initiate the state-wide movement for the observance of Golden Rule Sunday, Dec. 7, and the six days following. Two hundred women prominent in social and club life in Chicago and vicinity will serve the dinner.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Wear It Dizzily.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—So great an influence has the Prince of Wales upon men's fashions on two sides of the Atlantic ocean that no detail of his dress is too small to escape imitation. And it is one of the seemingly small points which will perhaps be more copied than the larger items, such as the cut of a suit. Long before four out of five men on the street have ordered from their tailors double breasted suits similar to that worn by his royal highness in these parts, will felt hats and derbies, not to mention top hats and caps, be worn at the dizzy angle affected by the prince.

There'll be scarcely a hat this season worn sedately on the head. We've always rooted in this column for the nonstraight wearing of a piece of headgear, with the warning that too much of an angle of the hat is not becoming or suitable for all heads. The Prince of Wales wears his hat far more rakishly than men of different types from him should dare to do. Therefore, do not push your hat gayly over one ear in too extreme a position, unless you feel that you look something like his royal highness, or unless you have found that such a style becomes you.

On the prince, this manner of wearing a hat or cap is entirely successful, attractive, and smart. So aristocratic and refined is his bearing and carriage that this giddy wearing of his hats is beyond criticism.

The prince sometimes wears his soft felt hat turned down in the front and up in back or turned up all the way around. When he wears it down in the front he is striking the informal note exclusively.

Whenever you, by accident,
Make trouble that you never

Alumni to Insure Lives in Favor of Drake College

New York, Oct. 2.—[United News.]—Colleges for a long time have obtained funds from their living alumni, but Drake university of Des Moines, Ia., is going to draw at least part of its endowment fund from the dead. The Metropolitan Life Insurance company has just announced the novel plan by which 5,000 alumni of Drake are expected eventually to give $2,000,000 to their alma mater. Each person will be asked to take out a twenty year policy in favor of the university.

School Changes Name.

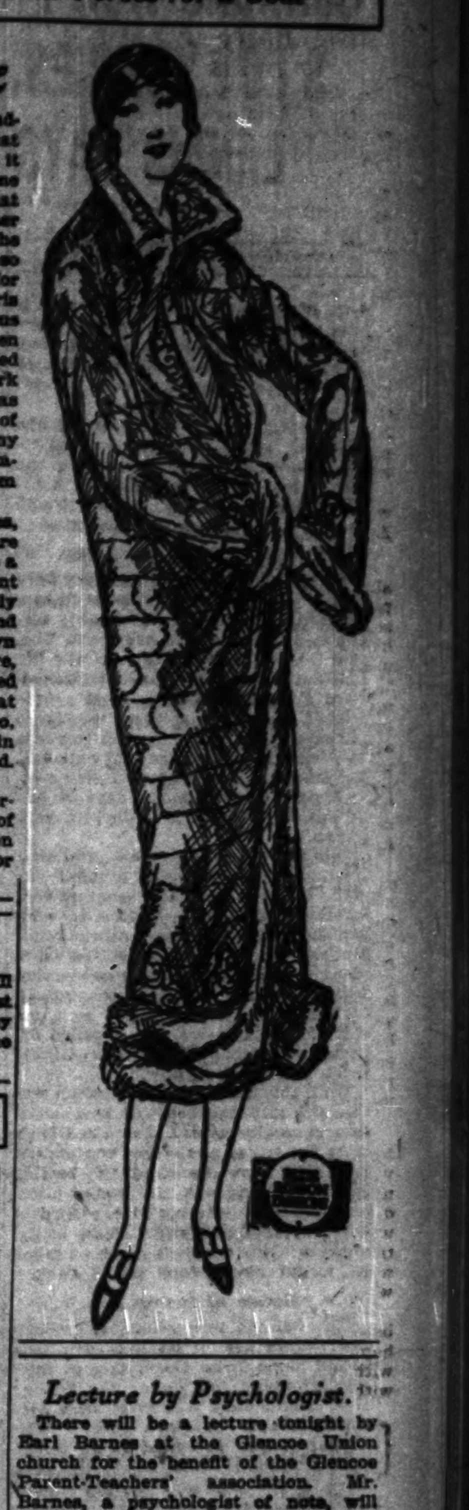
Duvetyn and Mole Join Forces for a Coat

by Corinne Lowe



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—There is some doubt as to what tint "Paris green" really is. For it happens that this year Paris has gone in for many shades of green and that one can't exactly say which is her most deep seated preference in the matter. There is the bottle green so much used for coats, and even for some daytime frocks. One of the Paris designers has, for example, given us a stunning costume of bottle green faille. Then there is the seaweed green, which some of our New York shops have been exploiting. This has just been washed up by the waves of fashion, and it is employed in many different types of apparel—most notably, perhaps, in an evening gown from Chanel.

As for the more accustomed shades, Lanvin green and good old jade are by no means neglected in favor of a more upstart aristocracy in verdant tones. Thus we see that today's lovely coat of moleskin faces its revers and lines its collar with jade green duvetyn embroidered in gray. Furthermore, appliques of this same embroidered duvetyn appear on the sleeves and at the border of the coat. Certainly, too, this combination of green and moleskin is one of the loveliest in the world. The coat is finished with taupe fox.

This trick of trimming the fur garment with touches of fabric is, of course, no new one, but it has been sustained with remarkable fervor throughout the season.

SCANDAL WON'T STOP SERIES, LANDIS SAYS

sion of the case, Landis said that it was substantially the same story O'Connell had told when he confessed. A request was made for the text of the confession, but the commissioner refused to make it public.

President John A. Heydler of the National league, who also arrived today, made special effort to give the newspapers all the information in his possession, but he was unable to add anything to that already published.

Scandal Overshadows Series.

Publication of the bribery story here turned an already crazed baseball center into a madhouse. Everybody forgot to study the dope anent the "heroes" who are going to start the big fuss Saturday. The scandal overshadowed everything because most people seemed to think that there was more to come and they were trying to guess just what might be the final outcome. No more need be expected, however. At least the commissioner says he has no reason to make a further investigation.

One thing now is certain, and that is that the ink spot of scandal has made the chances of the Senators considerably stronger. With two men banished, with a stigma on three other McGraw players because of the mere mention of their names in connection with the affair, and with the morale of the entire team lowered as a result of the explosion, the so-called experts are remarking, "The Giants don't look so good now."

Until this latest potion of poison was injected into the body of baseball it was generally agreed that the Giants were the better of the two contenders, that they have the speed, the batting and the fielding skill, the needed pitchers, and lastly the confidence born of three successive world's series struggles. All this does not mean as much as it did twenty-four hours back.

Morale of Giants Low.

The opinion now seems to be that the Giants are in danger of caving in not alone under the weight of their own troubles, but under the lashing that hostile fans will give them here and probably in New York. This verbal assault is bound to be relentless, particularly here where the fans, even under ordinary circumstances, stop at nothing. The Giants will have to prove veritable supermen to withstand the tirade and at the same time play ball up to their usual standard.

SEEK HIGHER UPS

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of organized baseball, exploded a bomb in New York Wednesday night that threw the great American game into another scandal rivaled only by the exposure of crookedness in the world's series of 1919, when he announced the blacklisting of two members of the New York Giants—Outfielder Jimmy O'Connell and Coach Cozy Dolan—for attempting to bribe Shortstop Heine Sand of the Phillies to throw a game.

The explosion was echoed yesterday from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and cast a cloud over the coming world's championship series between the Giants and Washington, just at a time when the fans of America were enthused over the annual classic as they haven't been in several years, because of the unexpected victory in the American league of the Washington club. Fans all over the country were speculating on the result largely because of their love for Walter Johnson, considered by many the greatest of great pitchers.

May Be Further Inquiry.

The general feeling, not only among fans, but among baseball men, was that there is something in this latest scandal, much deeper than anything shown so far. Commissioner Landis, in Washington, indicated that the case was cleared up and that further investigation was unnecessary. President Johnson of the American league, at his office in Chicago, not only stated that he believed the world's series should be called off but that he would demand a federal investigation, with the hope of ridding the game of all the crooks.

Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh team, which was in the fight for the pennant until the closing week of the season, declared that calling off of the world's series would not be going too far to get the right results, and added a charge that Manager McGraw of the Giants, together with Cosy Dolan, had tampered with his third baseman, "Pie" Traynor, last year.

Washington Fans Stunned.

Down in Washington the fans were in a stupor. They heard various reports during the day that the big series, the first one they ever got into, was to be called off. They heard that the whole Giants' team was to be disqualified and that they would play the Brooklyn team for the world's title. They were sore at heart to think that on this, their first, occasion to enter into the joys and festivities of a world's series had been blighted.

In New York Manager McGraw of the Giants said the matter was out of his hands and entirely in the keeping of Commissioner Landis. He described Dolan and O'Connell as "a couple of saps," adding that it was generally conceded his team could beat the Phillies without any crookedness and that the Giants at the time of the questionable game of last Saturday were about 100 to 1 favorites for the pennant. At a morning session at the Polo grounds with his players he talked behind locked doors and was said to have blamed only Dolan and O'Connell for the scandal and advised all the other boys to keep their heads up.

Only Approached by O'Connell.

At Wilkesbarre, Pa., Heine Sand, the Philadelphia shortstop approached by O'Connell with the offer of a bribe to throw the game, simply reiterated the information he had given the baseball authorities, saying that if there were more than the two men concerned in the scandal he did not know their names.

At the same time, young Jimmy O'Connell, who appeared at the morning practice session of the Giants in New York, because "he didn't know anything else to do," talked freely of his plight and declared he had been made the "goat" of the whole affair and that he understood the whole Giants team was in on the plan to bribe the Philadelphia player.

The lad, who is only 24 years of age, seemed hardly to realize that he has been placed on the blacklist of baseball, never again to take part on a field controlled by organized baseball.

It was the climax of a series of hard luck incidents that seem to have followed the California youth ever since he gained such great publicity nearly two years ago because the Giants paid $75,000 for him. The young fellow never has been able to live up to his reputation as a player and, in fact, has been a bench warmer most of the two seasons he has spent with the Giants.

Here's O'Connell's Story.

O'Connell's charges involving all of the Giant players was contained in his detailed story of the attempt he made to bribe Sand, who was his personal friend, and the refusal by the Philadelphia player to consider the offer. Here is the New York version of O'Connell's conversation:

"They were all in on it and they deserted me when they found I was caught," O'Connell said. "Dolan came to me and asked me if I knew Heine Sand very well, and I told him that I did, as we played together in the Coast league. Dolan then said to me, 'If you can get Sand not to bear down on us in the game today it will be worth $500 to him.'

"I asked Dolan where the $500 was to come from, and Dolan said, 'All of the players are subscribing to it.' So I told Dolan that I would go and see Sand, and I did.

"I met him out near the third base coaching line and I said to him, 'Heine, if you will not bear down on us today it will be worth $500 to you.' Sand said, 'You go to hell,' and he walked away. I went back to our bench and Dolan said to me, 'What did Sand say?' and I replied, 'He said there was nothing doing.' Dolan then told me, 'Well, Jimmy, forget it.'

Brings In Name of Young.

"Before I went to Sand, Ross Young came to me and said, 'Did Dolan say anything to you?' and I said, 'Yes, he did.' 'Well, you go ahead with it,' said Young. Then Frisch came to me and said to tell Sand that if he wou'l throw the game to the Giants he could have anything he wanted, and Kelly also told me to go ahead and speak to Sand.

"After I told Dolan what Sand said I forgot all about the thing and played in the game that day when we clinched the pennant. The next thing I knew Commissioner Landis called me to his room in the Waldorf and questioned me. I told him what had happened and then he called in the other fellows. That was on Tuesday and the next day I received word from Mr. Landis that I had been placed on the ineligible list. I don't know what I am going to do now and I guess I am in a fix."

Dolan according to New York advices visited the office of the Giants and was not loath to give his version of the affair. He denied he had a thing to do with the attempted bribery of Sand and declared that when he was called before Commissioner Landis it was the first intimation he had of the affair.

"Judge Landis asked me if I recalled a conversation with O'Connell on Saturday in which I had instructed him to try to bribe Sand" Dolan said. "I replied that I did not remember. And I told the truth, for I did not have any such conversation with O'Connell and it was all news to me and I am innocent of any connection with the affair at all. I am in a jam but I will go to see Commissioner Landis when the series is over and I hope to be able to prove that I am innocent.

It was the opinion of fans as well as baseball men of long standing that there is much more behind the plot than has been exposed, and that before the thing is sifted to the bottom there will be men much higher up in the game who will be implicated.

Landis Has Job on Hands.

It appears that for the first time since Commissioner Landis was appointed to the office of commissioner, he has a job on his hands well worthy of a man who is paid $50,000 a year. Landis was brought into baseball following the scandal of the 1919 world's series between the White Sox and Cincinnati, when eight members of the Chicago team were banished from the game for throwing games. He was brought in when the game needed such a man to restore it into good standing with the American public.

On the federal bench Landis had made a world-wide reputation for honesty and fearlessness, and when it seemed the game of baseball was liable to die following the exposure of crookedness in the 1919 series he was hailed as the one man in America who could take command and restore the faith of the fans.

Now America's fans are waiting to see what Judge Landis will do in this case. He already has banished Coach Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell, but not even the fans can believe that these two individuals took it upon themselves to offer a rival player a bribe of $500. It is almost impossible to believe that young Jimmy O'Connell would ever conceive of such an idea, according to their vision.

Dolan McGraw's Man Friday.

Cozy Dolan has been the right hand man of Manager McGraw of the Giants for a number of years. He has been referred to as McGraw's bodyguard, his stool pigeon, and his doorkeeper. Even before Dolan was employed by the New York club he often was seen assisting McGraw at his parties during winter meetings.

BASEBALL SCANDAL.

BASEBALL'S latest attempted bribery failed of consummation because the Philadelphia player approached, spurned the offer and exposed the conspirators.

It seems improbable that Dolan and O'Connell could have made such an attempt without connivance of others, or at least without knowledge of others that such action was contemplated. It should be definitely established whether others were identified with the plot—no matter where that investigation leads.

Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, faces a situation where the ability and courage for possessing which he is paid $50,000 a year has ample opportunity for a good workout. We await further investigation and announcement.

It is fortunate for baseball that the plot was quickly brought into the limelight. Baseball is not prepared for another affair of the 1919 brand, where full exposure was smothered until nearly a year later.

World's Series.

The Wake picks Washington to win the world's series. At the same time, we admit sentiment for Walter Johnson and Clark Griffith influences our decision in an event where the dope indicates "even Stephen."

The Giants are a better offensive team and the Senators a better defensive team. In a short series, pitching is an all-important factor. Washington has the great Walter Johnson, who has been through a severe strain on his not-so-young-as-it-once-was arm in clinching the pennant. Mogridge and Zachary also are sure participants because of the Giants' supposed weakness against left handers. Marberry, the youngster, is practically certain to appear at some stage.

Washington, on the other hand, is the American league team against which southpaws are considered most effective. That fact presupposes McGraw will use Bentley and Nehf along with McQuillan and probably Barnes.

Weakness of Giants' pitchers prolonged final decision in the National league flag race. If Johnson and Mogridge have not been worked too hard in the final bruising finish, Washington has an edge on the slab.

Frisch and Groh, at their best, are far superior to any understudies, especially under world's series strain. What effect the baseball scandal may have on the Giants is problematical.

Popular sympathy throughout the country is with Washington, because the Giants already have enjoyed so many honors. So is ours.

Dear Wake: Before you pick your scores for Saturday—just a tip. Ohio State will prove the surprise member of the Big Ten this year. No one expects anything much—that's where the fooling will come in. Marty Karow and Bill Hunt, sophomore full back and half back, respectively, are a greater asset than Chick Harley or Hoge Workman. I am speaking of their combined efforts. State should beat Purdue by as many touchdowns as it wishes Saturday, three as a minimum. Furthermore, State will "take" Iowa, too.

GIANT SCANDAL IS 2D BIG BLOW TO BASEBALL

Eight members of the south side team were alleged to have "thrown" the 1919 world's series to the Cincinnati Reds.

They were Cicotte, Williams, Gandil, Risberg, Weaver, McMullin, Jackson, and Felsch.

While there had been rumbles of thrown games and crooked playing at the time the series was decided, it was not until the fall of 1920, almost a year after the games were played, that action was taken against the allegedly guilty members of the White Sox team.

A probe into a National league game late in 1920, in which it had been alleged that certain members of the Cubs had agreed to toss a game to the Philadelphia team, brought to the surface finally the full details of the world's series scandal of the fall before.

Players Are Suspended.

President Comiskey immediately suspended the eight players who were said to have entered into the conspiracy to throw the games to the Cincinnati Reds. William Maharg of Philadelphia had confessed that he and Bill Burns were the go-betweens who arranged for the series to be thrown, having acted for a syndicate of eastern gamblers and for Cicotte, Williams, and Jackson, who were named by Burns as the originators of the plot.

Confessions were later made by Cicotte, Williams, and Jackson, but after the eight alleged guilty players had been indicted by a Cook county grand jury the confessions were repudiated.

The first indictments against the players were later quashed by Judge Dever. This action was followed by the voting of new indictments and the players with some of their alleged confederates were brought to trial in July of 1921.

"Confessions" Disappear.

Before the cases were called, it was discovered that the confessions said to have been made by Cicotte, Williams, and Jackson, together with other evidence, had disappeared. This left the state with William Burns, who had turned state's evidence, as its sole witness, and after the cases were heard the players were found not guilty.

All were banned from organized baseball, however, and despite desperate attempts to have one or two of them reinstated, all have since remained on the so called organized baseball "blacklist."

The third game of the series today will be played at Cub park, Addison avenue and Clark street. The starting time is 2 o'clock.

Unless rain steps in to cause a postponement, so that the players will be able to cut into a probably big Sunday gate, their share of the pelf will not be as big as usual. They share in only the first four games.

One thing good about keeping the players' share down is that no scandal is likely to result. No one can say this city strife isn't on the square.

George Grantham, a batting hero in the first game, couldn't get hold of one yesterday in five times up, though he did drive out a tremendous fly to Mostil the first time up.

The Cubs used three pinch hitters in the battle, and each one of them delivered a blow. Hartnett poled a single for Kaufmann, Miller swatted one for Grigsby, and Vogel walloped a double for Wheeler.

White Sox Even Up City Series by Batting Out 12 to 7 Victory Over Cubs

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

The strife for the baseball supremacy of Chicago now is even, because the White Sox yesterday, playing on their own lot, knocked the Cubs cold in the second game of the series and, with each club owning one victory, it begins to look as if a merry struggle will ensue before a decision is reached. The count yesterday was 12 to 7, with the Sox doing great damage to a quartet of north side hurlers, while their young star, Hollis Thurston, had to be relieved by Mike Cvengros in the seventh round, when the Cubs were on a rampage that threatened the game.

One thing has stood out prominently in the two games played, and perhaps it's one reason why neither Chicago team could finish in the money this year in their respective races. The pitching has been bad. In the first game the Sox used a lot of slab men, but Old Grover Alexander went through for the Cubs. Yesterday the Cubs had a host of men on the rubber while the Sox used two. It wasn't much like the battle of eighteen years ago this fall, when Nick Altrock and Mordecai Brown went through a terrific fight, Nick getting the verdict by something like 2 to 1.

Tony Gets the Air.

The Cubs attempted to win yesterday with Tony Kaufmann on the mound. They figured the Sox might hit his speedy shoots to distant spots in the field, but that the outfielders would have room to go and get 'em. The trouble with that deduction was that the Sox hit too many of them too far and too often. Tony was yanked after two rounds, and Vic Keen tried his luck. He didn't have any. He had bad control and got into a terrible mess in the fifth, when the Sox counted five times and practically clinched the victory right there.

Vic had to be withdrawn and Rip Wheeler was sent in. He was better, but not able to stop the Sox entirely, and he gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh, Young George Milstead finishing. Two more were tabbed with Young George on the rubber, so on the whole not a durned one of the north side hurlers was right.

Thurston might have waded through the combat and won it without help, but he was unsteady in the seventh and getting a lot of bad breaks, so Manager Evers called his midget southpaw, Mike Cvengros, to the rescue. Mike had quite a time of it, too, but managed to get through and keep the boys in front.

With another bit of swell autumn weather on tap, there was quite a throng out for the show, almost 1,000 more than attended the opening game on the north side. To be exact, there were 16,081 paid admissions, indicating there is the usual keen interest in the series and that, with good weather on Saturday and Sunday, the parks will be jammed.

If there was a hero in the game it was Bill Barrett of the White Sox, who was stationed on shortstop and had little to do in the field, but was a whale of a hitter. Anyway, he delivered a corking single in that fifth inning stampede that sent a couple of mates home and put the south side team in a commanding lead, and then in the eighth, when the margin for victory was none too big, he poled a home run inside of the fences with one mate on the bases. That blow settled the fight beyond a doubt. His homer was to the far corner of center field and he made it good for four bases by splendid leg work.

For the Cubs little Sparky Adams stood out prominently, both in offense and defense. He accepted eleven chances in the field without an error and some of them were sparkling plays, while he contributed a pair of two baggers and a sacrifice in the offensive play.

That Awful Sixth.

The Sox got off to a three run lead in the first two rounds, scoring one in the first when Falk singled following a two bagger by Collins, and two in the second when Schalk singled, Thurston doubled and Hooper singled. This lead was cut to a margin of one run when the Cubs tallied twice in the third on hits by Bob Barrett, Hartnett, pinch hitting for Kaufmann, and Heathcote, with a base on balls to Cotter sandwiched in the assault.

That made the game close until Keen blew up in the fifth. Eleven Sox batters were up before the side was retired by Wheeler. There was a double by Hooper and singles by Falk, Barrett, and Thurston, while Sheely and Mostil were hit by pitched balls and Kamm and Schalk walked.

That made the game seem safe, but the Cubs scraped a couple around in the sixth, passes to Weis and O'Farrell and a single by Grigsby doing the big damage. Two more came over in the seventh when Adams doubled and Weis, O'Farrell and Hack Miller singled. This put them close, but the Sox immediately scored two in their half when Cvengros and Mostil slapped doubles following a pass to Kamm. The Cubs got one in the eighth on doubles by Vogel and Adams, but in the Sox half Bill Barrett poled his homer with one mate on and then the folks began going home.

The third game will be played today at the north side. Vic Aldridge is slated to pitch for the Cubs. Faber may work for the Sox, but Robertson and Blankenship also are candidates.

GRIFFS, GIANTS, FANS READY FOR WORLD SERIES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The thermometer of excitement in Washington bubbled only a few deg below the bursting point tonight. T unexpected charges of attemp bribery by two members of the Ne York Giants added more kindling to a already excited city, and the natio capital was prepared for almost an thing after passing through a day i which rumor ran rife.

However, despite the hubbub, a rangements were carried forward f the opening here Saturday of th world series between the Senators a the Giants.

Fans Fight for Seats.

Thousands of Washingtonia stormed in front of the gates at Griffith stadium clamoring for seats, an the internal revenue bureau got bus to suppress an epidemic of tick scalping that was alleged to have b ken out in the downtown section o the city.

In all the city apparently only tw men retained their composure—Clar Griffith, president, and "Bucky" Ha ris, manager of the Senators. At th ball park this pair were as calm as pennants were won every day. Bot expressed regret that any briber again had developed among players major league baseball, and declar that Commissioner Landis should b complimented for the "fearless" ma ner in which he tackled the matter.

Pour into City.

Throughout the day baseball fa from all parts of the country bega to pour into the city. With Commi sioner Landis and President Heydler already here, other officials of th game were en route to the city, an hotels were beginning to feel the pr sure of the incoming crowd.

The Giants arrived tonight an added all that was needed to mak Washington the center of the bas ball world. They were hurried to th Wardman Park hotel which will b the team's headquarters.

Commissioner Landis today inspe ed the grounds of Griffith stadium an placed his stamp of approval on th arrangements that have been made f the series. He examined the tem porary seats which have been add at every available place in the par and pronounced all to be satisfactor

Finishing Touches on Park.

Clark Griffith made another inspe tion of the park later in the day speed workmen who are putting th finishing touches to the constructio work that will give the stadium a sea ing capacity of 37,000. He said th despite the addition of the temporar seats, the actual playing field woul be the largest on which a world's championship was ever fought out.

The Washington ball club took a snappy workout in the afternoo Manager Harris pronounced his tea to be in first class condition for th series. He said that the players wer confident of victory but realized th it would be the toughest fight th were ever up against.

Coolidge Rabid Fan.

President Coolidge, who yesterday led in the welcome home celebratio for the team, again showed that he couldn't quite keep his mind alto gether on the government's busines by contributing to a fund that is being raised for a testimonial to be presented to Walter Johnson just before he starts to pitch the opening game. The President also let it be known that he expected to toss the first ball in the series.

W-G-N STILL GOING

THE third game of the city series will be broadcast today by W-G-N (formerly WDAP), THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, from the Cub park. Announcer "Sen" Kaney will be parked on top of the press box again with a microphone to recite every movement of the players and the crowd.

BIG 10 GRIDIRON OFFICIALS MEET ON RULES TODAY

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

In order that all officials will work alike, have the same interpretations of rules, and assume a greater responsibility, arbiters who will officiate in western conference football games this fall will meet at the Auditorium hotel this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meeting is open only to those who have received invitations from Maj. John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Big Ten.

JOHN L. GRIFFITH.

Prof. Ralph W. Aigler of Michigan, chairman of the committee which appoints all officials, will preside, while Maj. Griffith, secretary of the committee, and Prof. Long of Northwestern, the other member, will also be present. No efforts will be made to discuss rules until plans are adopted whereby there will be more coöperation among the four men who will handle each game.

Rules Under Discussion.

Shoulder pads and shoe cleats will be on exhibition to determine just how far the officials can go in ruling the pads unyielding or the cleats too sharp and long. As soo as a vote is taken on all points, copies will be sent to the various conference coaches, who are expected to live up to them.

The advisability of the referee carrying a towel on rainy days will be discussed and voted on. In this connection it will be voted that centers may pick up the ball to dry it after first obtaining permission from the referee. The field judge will be instructed to keep a list of all substitutions and the number of times out. The field judge will also be given the responsibility of downing all punts down the field and help the referee as much as possible. On all kickoffs, the umpire will be on the 50 yard line, the field judge on the ten yard restraining line, the head linesman down the field, and the referee back of the receiving team.

Start Games on Time.

The referee and field judge will be held responsible for warning the teams that three minutes remain during the intermission between halves. In this connection each official will go directly to the coach and tell him in person. If either team fails to report for play at the beginning of the third period, that eleven will be penalized 15 yards and forfeit its option. It also was agreed that both teams be notified fifteen minutes before the start of the games in order that the struggles may start promptly.

In case of time out for an injured player the captain of an opposing team may not grant extra time. The leader of the team which called for time may call for another two minutes, which will be charged against him. Officials will as far as possible encourage the removal from a game of a player who is too seriously injured to play in his usual form.

Act on Forward Pass.

Just what constitutes roughing the forward passer will be discussed and also the point of when a player has control of a forward and when it is either a clean fumble or incompleted pass. The point of whether an official shall shout "free ball" when the oval has been touched by one of the opposition will be acted upon.

It will be voted that the pistol to be used by the field judges for denoting the termination of quarters be furnished by the home teams. Many other points which will lead to more coöperation on the playing fields will be discussed, with the result the games should be handled better and faster.

Take Up Old Rule.

Following the voting on various angles of officiating, a rule will be brought to the attention of the officials. This ruling is contrary to the old one regarding a player being struck by a ball kicked by one of his own side.

For the last twenty-five years it has been the custom to award the ball to the defending team when a member of the offensive eleven kicked the ball into one of his own team. In other words, the player who was struck was offside, and the defending team could either take the ball where it struck the offside player or where it was retrieved.

It will be readily seen that the kicker could continually keep kicking the ball into one of his own team with members of his eleven having the best chance to recover. A definite ruling will be enacted at today's session, as it is believed the rules committee erred in permitting the rule to get into the book.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Campbell [30] beat Lippett [30], 30 to 18, in the second night of play for the diamond medal at Foley's billiard hall.

Mittleman [12] beat Schaffran [28], 12 to [illegible] in Mussey's, 10 West Jackson, three cushion billiard tournament. The game lasted 130 innings. The second match was won by Maupome [60] when he beat Horton [42], 60 to 22, in sixty-eight innings.

Al Taylor defeated George Sutton, 400 to 311, in their final balk line game at Sutton's last night, averaging 25 flat, as against 19½ by Sutton. Taylor will leave Sunday for Sacramento, Cal., where he will manage a room and give exhibitions.

AT THE FOOTBALL CAMPS

ILLINOIS.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Ready to give battle to Nebraska in the new stadium of the Cornhuskers, the Illini started for Lincoln this afternoon. The Illini are in fair shape as far as the linemen are concerned, but the backfield candidates are rather mixed up, due to the crippled condition of McIlwain, Dancy and Kinsey. With Gallivan and Leonard supplanting Hall and McIlwain at the start at least, the 1923 backfield is broken up.

IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Little optimism existed in the inner circles of the Hawkeye camp as Coach Bert Ingwersen lightened work tonight and dressed down the defense in preparation for the opening of the Iowa schedule, when Southwestern Teachers' college comes here for Saturday. The greatest discontent is felt with the line, which was left almost intact from last season but which has not come up to expectations. It is heavy and powerful, but lacks lots of speed and precision. This will be more than usually disastrous in the Oklahoma game, since Southwestern comes with a line reputed to be very fast. It is composed largely of Indians.

INDIANA.

Blomington, Ind., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—With the Depauw game slated for the local lot Saturday, Coach Bill Ingram sent the Indiana varsity through its last hard scrimmage of the week today against the freshmen. Three teams were pitted against the youngsters in one of the longest workouts of the year, and it is likely that today's showing will decide the eleven which will represent the Crimson against the Tigers.

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Coach Jack Ryan will use twenty-eight of his thirty-six players against Ames on Saturday in an effort to give football practice under actual fire to as many of his men as possible. The coach made this announcement after he had weeded out the squad and left but thirty-six. Tomorrow's scrimmage and the usual skull practice on Saturday will end the training of the Badgers for the second game of the season. Both Pulaski and Solbraa are on the injured list and it is doubtful whether the latter will be able to get into the game Saturday.

PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Purdue university students, greatly enthused over the team's showing against Wabash last Saturday and confident of victory in Saturday's game at Ohio State, gave the Boilermaker squad a rousing sendoff tonight when Coach Phelan and his retinue of football players left for Columbus. The Purdue coaches aren't optimistic about the outcome of Saturday's game, but the Boilermaker team looks capable of giving the Buckeyes a stiff battle.

MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The Wolverines had a busy afternoon at their last hard practice before the initial encounter of the season with Miami Saturday. Coach Yost pointed out many individual defects as well as team play defects in the scrimmage against the freshmen yesterday, and the coaches spent their time today correcting them. Line Coach Wieman took the forward wall and polished it up, while Assistant Coach Little worked with ends and backs.

OHIO.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Fearing that his Gophers are getting a little to fine, Coach Spaulding eased up on them today as they worked out in the new stadium for the first time. Nothing but a signal drill and steady practice in throwing and catching passes were given the regulars today. After the workout it appeared that Spaulding is figuring on starting Matthews and Wheeler at ends against North Dakota Saturday. The athletes seemed lost in the new stadium field.

Loyola Gridiron Squad Is Hard Hit by Injuries

In the scrimmage held last night at Loyola field several of the varsity men were injured, and it is doubtful whether they will be in shape for the Millikin game which will be played on the Loyola campus Oct. 11.

Capt. Marvin Adams is out with a sprained instep. Whitey Wiatrak, who was being groomed by Coaches Kiley and Larson, to do the punting for the squad, is out with a sprained ankle. Dan Lamont, star end, also is nursing an injured ankle, while Trahan, Kelly, and Greene will also be absent from scrimmage and signal practice for some time, due to injuries.

MAROONS WORK TO STOP MISSOURI PASS

To frustrate the aerial attack of Missouri when the Tiger grid outfit invades the Midway tomorrow was the principal aim of the University of Chicago squad yesterday. While Fritz Crisler, assistant coach, did the hurling in what was intended to be Missouri fashion, Coach A. A. Stagg perfected the defensive work of the backs and ends with meticulous care, assigning each defensive man his particular duty.

This drill continued until dark and even then the veteran coach was far from satisfied with the ability of his men to block the aerial sallies, the full backs receiving the brunt of his displeasure with the greatest frequency. Every man on the squad had his share of the practice.

The defensive drill was followed by a snappy signal session, three teams rapidly pacing the length of the field under the skippership of Dutch Burgess, Bob Curley, and Fulton until after dark. For a time yesterday Capt. Gowdy worked at tackle though it's probably that his place tomorrow will be at center.

PURPLE COACH SATISFIED

Apparently well satisfied with the offensive qualities of his men, Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite placed particular stress upon defensive work during yesterday's football practice at Northwestern university. The Purple mentor devoted most of his time to perfecting the defensive work of the tackles and ends, while the backs also came in for defensive directions.

For the first time this year the men used the regular playing field for practice. Coach Thistlethwaite trotted the varsity for a short signal session, and then called in a team of frosh, which went through slow motion plays, while effective means of defense were shown the varsity.

After finishing with the frosh, the Northwestern coach lined two varsity teams, which were sent through kick off formations. The backs were ordered to receive the ball and return it through the opposing team on each kick off. Capt. Wienecke again was in togs after being out with an attack of boils.

Ames Enrtains for Madison for Big Game with Badgers

Ames, Ia., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—News that W. Anderson, star 200 pound tackle on the Lowa State college, had been declared ineligible for the Wisconsin game Saturday raised Ames football stock considerably as the squad entrained tonight for Madison. The Behm brothers, half backs, around whom the Ames offense is built, made the trip, but as they did not appear in uniform all week it is not considered likely that they will start against the Badgers.

Five Games on Grid Card of Marquette Freshmen

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The first freshman football team in the history of Marquette university will play the following schedule, according to announcement of Coach Lloyd Scott, the former Colgate star:

Oct. 4, Milwaukee Normal at Normal; Oct. 11, Lake Forest academy at Lake Forest, Ill.; Oct. 24, Milton college at Milton, Wis.; Nov. 8, St. John's Military academy at Delafield, Wis.; Nov. 27, Campion college at Prairie du Chien, Wis.

Cook County Horseshoe Tourney Is Postponed

The Cook county horseshoe pitching tournament planned for Sunday at Ogden park has been postponed until the playground council can act upon it and better arrangements can be made to take care of the large entry expected. Mrs. Laura Lanhan, the national woman's champion, will be invited to compete.

Motordom Today

by J. L. JENKINS

SAFE operation of traffic depends first of all on the understanding and direct coöperation of millions of individuals and must be based on the good will and desire to obey the law on the part of drivers themselves, according to George H. Pride of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. He urged the promotion of good will among motorists as the first essential in any safety campaign yesterday in speaking before the Louisville convention of the National Safety council.

"Most automobile driving is careful and considerate," he declared. "There were approximately 16,000 motor fatalities last year. The average annual mileage of a motor vehicle is estimated at 5,000 miles. Applying this to the 15,000,000 cars registered in the United States gives a total of 75,000,000,000 car miles for the year. From these figures it is apparent that there is a motor fatality on the average of every 4,000,00 miles of car driving. This average must be reduced by eliminating the factors which we know cause accidents and by the interested coöperation of the whole public."

Canadian attractions—scenic, historic, liquid, and otherwise—took 2,863 American touring cars into the province of Quebec between Sept. 10 and 17, according to an official census reported by the provincial department of roads. The check proved that United States cars far outnumbered those of any other Canadian province. The daily average of all cars using the main routes in Quebec was 26,380.

KENOSHA ENTERS NATIONAL GRID LEAGUE BATTLE

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Kenosha, which has been widely known as the home of two teams in the Midwest Baseball league, also is to be on the professional football map this season. Announcement has been made here that the Simmons and Nash companies of this city, each of which has had a baseball team, have joined in backing a professional football team which will be in the national pro grid circuit.

The team is to be managed by George Johnson, former chief of umpires of the Midwest league and at one time manager of a professional football team at Toledo. The Canton franchise has been secured in the Nation grid circuit.

Bears Ready to Battle Cleveland Eleven Sunday

The Chicago Bears will leave for Cleveland tomorrow to tackle the strong Cleveland club of the National Football league at the Ohio city Sunday. The Bears have spent the week drilling on an open style of game under the coaching of Dutch Sternaman and George Halas. Jim Kendrick, former Texas A. and M. half back, and for two years Moran's assistant at Centre college, is now playing with the Chicago Bears. His last playing was done with the Canton Bulldogs.

ENGINEERS TAKE RIFLE TITLE FROM MARINES

Camp Perry, O., Oct. 2.—The United States engineer corps brought the National Rifle association's matches for 1924 to a close today by winning the national rifle team match with a total of 2,782, 6 points better than the score of the United States marine corps, which had held the trophy since 1916. The coast artillery was third with 2,749.

The marines took the lead at the opening of the match over the 200 yard slow fire range yetserday, but were unable to hold it. Once in the lead, the engineers were never headed, but the marines decreased thir lead of 12 points, which the engineers held when firing on the last stage started today.

The Ohio National Guard landed the Hilton trophy, being high among teams of that class, with a score of 2,692. Washington National Guard was second with 2,687, and New York third with 2,669.

The Seventh corps area of Nebraska was high among the reserve officers' training camp teams with a score of 2,676, and the Idaho team led the civilian teams, with Ohio second.

MIDWICKS LOSE SEMI-FINAL TO ORANGE COUNTY

Westbury, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The California polo team was eliminated from the tournament for the Monty Waterbury cup today on Cochrane field, at Meadowbrook, failing to hold a handicap of four goals which it received from the Orange county horsemen and losing in the semi-final match by a score of 12 to 8.

By virtue of its victory over the westerners, holders of the national junior and American open championships, Orange County will meet the Shelburne four in the final match for the trophy on Saturday, winding up the eastern polo season of 1924. Today, in the other semi-final on International field, Shelburne defeated the Hurricanes, 8 to 7.

Champaign Eleven Expects Hard Tilt with Lindblom

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Champaign High expects a hard battle with Lindblom High of Chicago when it meets that team on McKinley field here Saturday afternoon. Woods and Waters

SOME NOTES ON THE RUFFED GROUSE.

RUFFED grouse or partridge are not so plentiful this year, according to some residents of the north woods country. The rainy, cold spring that we had was far from ideal for baby chicks and it is not surprising that birds are not as numerous as they were last season. The partridge has enough enemies without the weather man doing his dirty work, as the fox, weasel, hawks, owls, and even a species of woodtick, kill many young birds.

The Latin names that the ornithologists have given birds frequently give us strong clews on a particular bird's characteristics. The handle that the ruffed grouse bears is a striking example of this. Bonasa umbellus is the combination handed Mr. Partridge. Bonasa, a bison, refers to the resounding, bellowing noise produced by the cock grouse; umbellus refers to the nifty umbrellalike tufts on his neck.

However, a name alluding to the strong flight of the grouse wouldn't have been so bad. The grouse gang are noted for their ability along this line. We have hunted two species of grouse in Alaska and two in the far west, including the sage hen, the biggest member of the grouse family on the American continent.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

SHOO PULLETS OUT OF TREE; GIVE 'EM ROOST FOR WINTER.

IT'S roundup time in the poultry yard. Pullets should be brought in from their summer housing quarters and put in roomy houses with plenty roosting poles and fed the right kind of a ration to encourage early laying. Many of this season's hatch have already started laying. Every pullet in the yard should be laying by the middle of next month at the least.

The most desirable time for pullets to start laying in this part of the country is the latter part of this month. Then they will molt at the proper time and produce eggs in late fall and early winter, when prices are the highest.

Grain is needed by the pullet that shows indications of laying soon. Where milk is not fed use mash containing about 10 per cent tankage or meat scraps. Kempster of Missouri recommends for late hatched pullets all the grain they can eat at night and a moist, crumbly mash once a day. His scratch feed for early winter consists of two pound of corn, a pound of wheat, oats, or barley, and a laying mash made of two pounds each of bran, middlings, and cornmeal and a pound and a half of meat scraps.

BANKERS TALK GOLF, NOT MONEY, TODAY

Between 300 and 400 bankers are expected to compete in the annual golf tournament of the American Bankers' association which will be held at the Olympia Fields Country club today.

They will compete for the St. Louis cup at present held by Tom Sherman, formerly of Utica, but now of the State bank of New York. A decade ago Sherman was one of the leading golfers of the country.

Lawson Watts of St. Louis, who competed in the national amateur championship at Philadelphia last week, was runner-up last year, and will compete again today. Among the Chicago players listed are Albert Seckel, A. K. O. Cochrane, and Eldredge Robinson.

The players will be divided into two classes, A with handicaps of from 1 to 15, and B from 16 to 30. Special trains will be run to the course. Luncheon and dinner will be served at the club. Play will be held over three of the four courses of the club.

BADGER CREW TO RECEIVE VARSITY 'W' AND SWEATER

Madison, Wis., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The University of Wisconsin athletic board has approved the recommendation of Coach Harry E. Vail that nine major "W's" be awarded the Badger crew which last spring upset predictions in eastern rowing circles by finishing second to the University of Washington in the Poughkeepsie regatta on the Hudson.

Capt. Ralph Schuetz, H. L. Coulter, coxswain; Howard Johnson, O. L. Jones, H. C. Sly, Oscar Teckemeyer, E. M. Plettner, Harold Bentson, and C. J. Jax are the men who will shortly receive their varsity sweaters. E. C. Schuman and E. Grunitz, substitutes, were given their "W's," while Commodore Kenneth Gardner will receive a managers' "W."

In their single innings the Incogniti players scored 243 runs for seven wickets, while Germantown was dismissed in its initial attempt with 125 and lost six wickets in the second innings for only 76 runs, or a total of 201. The Incogniti players plan to sail for home Saturday.

NO EVIDENCE IN FIRPO CASE, U. S. OFFICIAL FINDS

New York, Oct. 2.—Immigration Commissioner H. H. Curran today recommended to Secretary of Labor Davis that the deportation proceedings instituted against Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight boxer, be dismissed.

Ellis Island officials said that this would entitle the pugilist to remain in the country, provided the commissioner's recommendation is not overruled by Secretary Davis. Another action against Firpo, charging him with perjury in connection with his entry into the country last July, still is pending before the United States Commissioner Hitchcock.

Paper Backs Fight.

A New York newspaper was said by Mr. Curran to have been the figure behind the Firpo prosecution. The commissioner declared that Canon William S. Chase, who appeared as the ostensible prosecutor, had testified at a recent hearing before an immigration board that he had waged his fight at the instigation of the newspaper.

Canon Chase also testified, the commissioner said, that the same publication paid counsel fees in connection with the case.

The clergyman, Mr. Curran said, had refused to give the name of the newspaper that had backed his crusade, nor did he name the sum paid by it to his attorney, Bernard H. Sandler. The canon denied that he had been paid anything by the publications.

"No Evidence," Curran Says.

Canon Chase charged that Firpo had brought a woman to the United States for immoral purposes at the time he came here from Buenos Aires for his fight with Harry Wills. The special board of inquiry that heard the case concluded "that there is no evidence upon which a recommendation to the secretary of labor to order deportation of the alien may be based."

"Five of us have been through the case with the greatest care," Commissioner Curran said, "and each of the five has separately come to this opinion."

Canon Chase is not in the city. He is understood to be in Middletown Springs, Vt., with his family. His attorney, Mr. Sandler, refused to comment on Commissioner Curran's statement that a newspaper had paid his fees. He characterized the commissioner's recommendation as a "somersault," adding:

Washington Is Mum.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The report of Commissioner Curran on the deportation proceedings against Luis Angel Firpo had not reached the department of labor tonight and pending its receipt officials declined to discuss the case.

EPINARD LANDS IN KENTUCKY FOR THIRD BIG RACE

Latonia, Ky., Oct. 2.—Epinard, the French champion thoroughbred, who will represent Europe in the third international race here on Oct. 11, set for the first time his nimble feet on Kentucky soil today. With him came Ladkin, winner of the second international at Aqueduct; Diagram and Blind Play, from the August Belmont stable, and the horses Idle Hour and Silver Slippers.

Eugene Leigh, American trainer, who brought Epinard to this country, was on hand to meet his great performer, and Louis Fuestel, who trained Man o' War, was here to look after Ladkin. Both trainers reported that the horses shipped were in excellent shape.

TEX PLANS BOUT BETWEEN FIRPO AND FULTON SOON

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—A bout between Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, and Fred Fulton is the next important match that Tex Rickard will stage in Madison Square Garden if plans the promoter now has in mind are completed. Announcement of these plans was made today by Rickard as soon as news was received that Firpo had straightened out his difficulties with the United States immigration authorities. Rickard said the bout was practically clinched and would be held some time in November, probably on the 14th.

BOUT POSTPONED.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 2.—The ten round bout between Fred Fulton, Minneapolis heavyweight, and Martin Burke of New Orleans, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until Saturday night.

KAUILA WINS SOCIETY DAY RACE AT AURORA

BY FRENCH LANE.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Special.]—The Society handicap, a garland of roses and a trophy cup going to its winner at the Fox River Valley races, tonight are in the custody of E. E. Major, a Texas turfman.

His four year old Gold Oak colt, Kauila, under the featherlike impost of 94 pounds and hustled along by the energetic jockey, J. Majestic, raced to victory today in the $1,250 race at a mile and a sixteenth, the richest event of the season here. He triumphed in a field of four and throughout the speculation in the Palm Garden the Texas thoroughbred was the most neglected of the lot.

Prince Til Til was the favorite, Billy Star was the second choice and there had been a plunge on the Chicago owned Dustabout at post time.

Prince Til Til Is Second.

Prince Til Til and Dustabout got away from the barrier first but before they had reached the judges stand Young Majestic had crowded Kauila into the lead and from then on he was always the front runner. Prince Til Til moved up until he was only a neck back of Kauila at the wire. Billy Star beat Dustabout out of the show.

The Society day program proved to be a good attraction. It was disastrous to the talent, however, as six favorites in a row were beaten.

A secondary feature was also offered which brought into conteition the best sprinters quartered here. It also brought another bad defeat to the famed dash artist, Dr. Hickman, as Wild Bill Weant's Lady Fox showed her heels to him throughout the five furlongs trip. Peter J. got the show, finishing back of Dr. Hickman.

Longshots Win.

Sorline and Corto deserted the public in rapid fire order in the first two races and while the players had supported both, as if they were already home in front, neither was able to claim any part of their purse. Lady Newton won the two year old opener with Mitzie McGee and Labelle getting the rest of the honors, while the overlooked Crescent scrambled out of a field of eleven in the second to win. Voorgeria and Golden Pine were next in order under the wire.

Ousiders kept right o coming down in front in the last two numbers, Fred Kinney being the victor in the fifth and Virgo winning the last. Isaman and Victor M. finished back of Kinney, while Bluebird and Furor divided up the rest of the purse after Virgo had taken down the long end of the last race.

GERMANS ANXIOUS TO SEE STEINKE MAT GO

When Hans Steinke takes holds with Charley Lepannen at the Coliseum on Wednesday night in the feature bout of the wrestling show to be staged by Joe Coffey and Ed White, the majority of spectators will be Germans, according to the advance demand for tickets.

As it will be Steinke's first real test since he hopped into the spotlight by taking a one fall encounter from Stanislaus Zbyszko at the stockyards last winter, his countrymen intend to give him the proper support. If Hans cannot down his lighter opponent he will be eliminated from all consideration as a fit opponent for the champion, Ed "Strangler" Lewis.

Jim Londos and Renato Gardini, Greek and Italian heavyweights, respectively, are training industriously at local gymnasiums for their clash in the semi-windup and the same is true of Whladek Zbyszko and Andreas Costanos, who take holds in the opener.

An eight round opener, to be closed today, will complete the card and tickets will be placed on sale tomorrow at the usual places.

Pete Sarmiento, the Filipino featherweight who meets Joey Sangor in Milwaukee on Monday night, passed through Chicago yesterday. Pete worked out at the Mullen gymnasium, where he boxed four rounds. Sol Gold is acting as the fighter's manager in the absence of Frank Churchill, who has been detained in New York for business reasons. Fighter and acting manager left for Milwaukee last night.

Eddie Shea of the west side and Earl McArthur are slated to box ten rounds in Sioux City tonight. Shea will return to Chicago on Sunday to resume training for his fracas with Frankie Garcia at East Chicago one week from tonight.

Opal A. A. Eleven Will Play at East Chicago

MAKE A SAFE CITY

Hundreds of suggestions are pouring in to the Safety Editor of the Chicago American, in response to the great Safety Contest the American is conducting.

The American has selected a Jury of Judges to help pick the prize-winning suggestions. $1000 offered by the American is to be divided, $750 for the best suggestion, $150 for the second best, and $100 for the third.

These Judges are civic leaders, experts in traffic problems. They were chosen by the American with great care.

ALDERMAN FRANK J. TOMCZAK, chairman of the Mayor's Safety Commission.

GEORGE W. DIXON, president of the Arthur Dixon Transfer Company and a member of the Mayor's Safety Commission.

G. W. STRATTON, president of Stratton-Keenan Peerless Corporation, one of Chicago's most prominent automobile men, and former president of the Loop Traffic League.

DR. WM. E. BUEHLER, director of the Chicago Motor Club and a member of the Mayor's Safety Commission.

S. D. KENNEDY, president of the Metropolitan Automobile Service Corporation, who are spending $10,000 of their own money coöperating with the Chicago American in advertising this contest so that everybody in Chicago will know about it and send in a suggestion.

If the Mayor called you into his office and said: "What can we do to cut down this terrible, daily loss of life and limb on Chicago's streets?"—what would you say?

It's YOUR problem, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Citizen. Until we solve it YOUR life is in danger every time YOU venture out of doors. And if YOU drive a car YOU are constantly and needlessly in danger of killing a careless pedestrian—PERHAPS A HEEDLESS LITTLE CHILD.

Give this matter some real solid thought. If we need newer, more rigid laws, WHAT SHOULD THESE LAWS BE?

The contest closes midnight, October 11th. Only a few days more. For the sake of the lives you'll save—the heart-breaking mourning you'll save—the conscience-stricken remorse you'll save—enter this contest and contribute YOUR SUGGESTION.

WILD BULL TRADE PUTS MAY WHEAT OVER $1.50 MARK

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wild bull markets were on in grain with wheat, rye and barley selling at a new high on the crop on buying headed by exporters and foreigners. Immense profit taking sales in wheat and rye were readily absorbed, and the close was at the top with wheat showing net gains of 4¼ to 4⅝c, corn 2⅝@3⅛c, oats 2⅝@2⅞c and rye 7¼ to 7⅝c.

Foreign news was largely responsible for the wild wave of speculation which swept over the grain markets, and each break brought in renewed buying. At the top wheat showed 10⅝@15c; corn, 11⅝@13¼c; oats, 8⅝@8⅝c, and rye, 25½@25⅝c above the low of last week. Winnipeg wheat again showed more strength than Chicago and gained 5⅛@5⅜c.

Exporters Short Wheat.

It develops that many exporters who had made speculative sales of wheat abroad had failed to hedge against the business by purchases of futures, and there was considerable buying credited to short covering. Liverpool was up 2⅝@3½d, with claims of locust damage and dry weather reports from the Argentine the main influences.

May wheat sold up to $1.51½ here, the best figure since May, 1921, and the highest known during the month of October, with the exception of 1916, trading being suspended during part of the war period. The finish was at $1.51¼@1.51⅜. December touched $1.46½ and closed at $1.46¼@1.46⅜, while July was $1.37⅞@1.38. Cash wheat sold at $1.50 and over at St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Duluth, and Winnipeg. Liverpool December closed around $1.65⅝, or about 22c over Chicago at the time Liverpool closed.

Corn in Strong Close.

May corn sold at $1.14 ten times before offerings were absorbed at that figure, but the finish was strong at $1.15½@1.15⅝, or ⅛c under the top, with December at $1.12⅝@1.12⅞, and July at $1.16⅛. Strength in other grains was the main bullish influence, although there were scattered damage reports from Iowa.

Oats for May delivery sold up to 62c, or within ⅝c of the best price on the crop, and closed at 61⅞@62c, while December finished at 57½@57⅝c. There was aggressive buying of futures by strong commission houses, and, with bullish advices from the seaboard regarding prospective export demand, the advance was easily attained. Minneapolis sold 50,000 bu for export. The country sold oats to arrive freely on the basis of 3¼c under Chicago December for October-November shipment.

America Oversold on Rye.

Based on the department of agriculture estimate that the United States has only 20,000,000 bu rye for export, the trade figures that this country has already sold more rye than it theoretically has to spare. Buying on this view, combined with export sales of 1,000,000 bu, advanced prices rapidly with little pressure except from profit taking longs. December closed at $1.30¼@1.30⅜, and May at $1.35@1.34⅞, highest price of the day and season being made at the last.

Export houses were good buyers of October and November lard and, with a decrease of 24,000,000 lbs in local stocks during the last month, prices advanced rapidly. Closing trades were 32½@50c higher. Ribs were 42½@45c, and bellies 25@42½c higher. Cash demand was good. Deliveries on October contracts were 2,500,000 lbs lard and 50,000 lbs ribs. Prices follow:

LONDON WOOL AUCTION.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The offerings at the wool auction today amounted to 11,222 bales. There was a large attendance and comptition was keen for fine merinos at steady rates, while inferior grades were irregular and in the buyers' favor. Frequent withdrawals took place owing to the high prices asked.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

An immense export business was on in cash wheat, with the seaboard estimating sales of hard winters and domestic springs at 2,000,000 bu, but there were trade reports of 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 bu for the day, including Manitobas, part of the estimate being based on buying of futures. Rye sales were 1,000,000 bu, with Austria credited with having taken two cargoes, Sweden a cargo, and Germany two cargoes, the latter raising its bids toward the last. Foreign inquiries were for large quantities of rye. The continent and United Kingdom took the wheat.

Chicago handlers sold 425,000 bu wheat, 15,000 bu oats, 100,000 bu rye, and 10,000 bu barley to exporters. No. 2 hard winter bringing 3¼c over Chicago December c. i. f. Buffalo, against 2¼c on Wednesday. Domestic shipping sales were 123,000 bu corn and 40,000 bu oats. Charters were for 240,000 bu wheat to Buffalo and 130,000 bu to Georgian Bay. Deliveries on October contracts were 3,000 bu corn and 15,000 bu oats.

Demand for cash wheat here showed improvement, with the basis ½c better as compared with December. No. 2 red bringing 3½@4c over and No. 3 hard ½c over to ½c under. No. 3 red was 2@3c over and No. 3 hard ⅝@1c under the future. Receipts were 130 cars. Outside markets were up 2@5c.

Offerings of cash corn were not large and were readily absorbed, with the basis somewhat firmer at 3c over December for No. 3 mixed, 3½@4c over for yellow, and 3@3½c over for white. Receipts were 345 cars. Outside markets were 1@3c higher.

Cash oats sold readily, with the basis firmer at 1@1½c under December for No. 2 white and 3@3½c under for No. 3 white. Receipts were 161 cars.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Despite the heavy buying by speculators and foreigners, with the later leading, wheat and rye prices are regarded as on the up grade, although moderate recessions are in order. On all recent dips of late foreigners have taken the offerings and caused prices to advance higher than ever.

It is the belief of rye speculators that the bulk of our exportable surplus has been sold and that we have oversold ourselves or are nearly at that point. These specialists predict that rye will sell as high if not higher than wheat before the end of the season.

Corn traders are more disposed to work on the buying side and regard the market as in better shape for an advance than for a month. Crop damage has been severe in Iowa and some of the other states, but the extent will not become known until husking returns tell the story. In the meantime, with other grains advancing, corn is expected to move up.

Hard winter wheat, c. i. f. Buffalo, sold late yesterday at 4c over Chicago December, the highest premium so far. Two weeks ago it was 1c under December.

A New York exporter says American oats are so cheap in comparison with Winnipeg it is a joke. He regards it as only a question on a short time until we will run into the largest export demand in years. On the basis of the close Wednesday No. 2 white Canadian oats f. o. b. New York figured 72c, against 61½c f. o. b. New York for 38 lb No. 2 white clips. There were numerous inquiries for American oats for shipment via Montreal, and the exporter says there is more or less doing all the time via New York. Paris and Berlin were after oats here late yesterday.

La Follette Cutting Down Coolidge's Lead

689,019 Votes From 18 States in the 'Digest's' Nation-wide Poll Are Tabulated and Analyzed This Week

California a Hotly Contested Battle-Ground—The "Solid South" May Turn Tide for Davis

Interest in the "Digest's" nation-wide Presidential poll is mounting to great heights as the hundreds of thousands of votes are being received and tabulated weekly. An interesting side-light upon the La Follette strength and whence it is drawn is shown in the "Digest" this week by the opinions and observations of editors throughout the country, especially by those in California.

The "Digest" also carries a detailed record of the previous affiliations of those who vote in this largest of Presidential straw-vote polls, and this record is shown weekly in the tabulations. It will become increasingly illuminating as the vote mounts up. As the Richmond, Virginia, Times-Dispatch says, this poll "is an undertaking of real value." At its conclusion it should point unmistakably to the winner in the Presidential election in November.

Hog values scored another advance of 10@25c yesterday and the market, after an easy turn in mid session, closed at high point of the day with some late shipping orders unfilled. Several loads averaging 190@220 lbs reached $11.15, equaling the high point on July 29. General average price, however, went to $10.35, being 60c above the high average in July when the market was erratic and the price range extremely wide. Shippers were the life of the trade again, yet all the packers purchased with more freedom. Receipts at 15,000 were short of expectations and an estimated run of only 10,000 for today was disappointing to the trade, especially after an advance of 75c@$1.00 compared with a week ago.

Yearling Cattle Strong.

Choicest yearling cattle met with a good call, selling on a strong to 25c higher basis. Swift paid $12.00 for 1,011 lb yearlings and a Pittsburgh packer went that high for 984 lb steers. Next highest was $11.90, averaging 1,068 lbs, while no heavy steers were good enough to go above $11.25. Both packers and shippers purchased freely early, but after urgent orders were filled the market weakened some, especially on weighty offerings. Several loads of 631@795 lb steers and heifers went at $10.50@10.60. Comparatively few beef steers sold below $9.50. Butcher stock was generally steady, calves strong to 25c higher and stockers and feeders firm.

Better grades of killing lambs held steady to strong, with the top 5c higher at $13.65, which stands highest in over two weeks and 65c above the low point last week. A liberal increase in offerings, which swelled the supply the first four days of the week to 111,200, against 88,721 a week ago, checked further upturns in prices. Best natives to city butchers reached $13.50 and to packers $13.25. Fat aged sheep sold stronger with handy western range ewes at $6.75 and heavy natives at $4.50. Feeding lambs were steady, good kinds bringing $12.50@13.00.

Seven western markets received 32,000 cattle, 54,000 hogs and 61,000 sheep, against 35,000 cattle, 65,000 hogs and [illegible] sheep the previous Thursday and [illegible] cattle, 91,000 hogs and 68,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 4,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 18,000 sheep, against 3,917 cattle, 26,753 hogs and 10,524 sheep the corresponding Friday a year ago.

Mr. Richard Kelly, President, summarizes his letter of September 29, 1924, as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: The business of R. Hoe and Co. was founded over 100 years ago, about 1818, and has been developed into the largest manufacturer of newspaper printing presses in the world. The Company also manufactures other important types of printing machinery and has a large and stable business in repairs and renewal parts.

The majority of large newspapers throughout the world are printed on Hoe presses, among the leading users being the following:

Baltimore Sun	Hearst Publications	Philadelphia Bulletin
Boston Post	New York Times	London Times
Chicago Daily News	New York Herald-Tribune	Paris Petit Parisien
Curtis Publishing Co.	Philadelphia Public Ledger	Tokio Daily News

Unfilled orders now on the books represent over twelve months' output at present capacity.

PLANTS: The Company's plants are located in New York City and Dunellen, N. J., and the plant of the British subsidiary, R. Hoe & Co., Ltd., in London. Recent additions and improvements nearing completion increase manufacturing space about one-third, but have not yet been reflected in earnings.

FINANCIAL: The Class A Stock, together with $4,500,000 of First Mortgage Bonds and 160,000 shares of Common Stock, is to be issued by R. Hoe & Co., Inc., a successor Corporation, in connection with its purchase of the assets and business of R. Hoe and Co.

ASSETS: The consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 1924, adjusted so as to give effect to this re-financing, shows net tangible assets (without allowance for valuable patents and goodwill) amounting to $86 per share of Class A Stock to be outstanding. Net current assets alone are equivalent to $72 per share of Class A Stock, and the ratio of current assets to current liabilities is over 5.4 to 1.

EARNINGS: Consolidated statement of net earnings available for bond sinking fund and dividends, after depreciation, interest charges under the new capitalization and all taxes (Federal and State income taxes figured at present rates), as reported by Messrs. Barrow, Wade, Guthrie & Co., New York, and Messrs. Charles Comins & Co., London, is as follows:

Calendar Year	Net Earnings	Calendar Year	Net Earnings
1919	955,069	1922	979,497
1920	430,365	1923	1,001,929

Average net earnings for the six years, after deduction of annual sinking fund of $135,000 on bonds, were $667,960, over twice Class A dividends of $4 per share, while 1923 earnings were nearly two and three-quarter times such dividends.

After deduction of initial dividends of $160,000 on the Common Stock, the proportion of 1923 earnings applicable to dividends on the Class A Stock in excess of $4 per share was $128,976, or sufficient to pay an additional dividend of $1.61 per share.

MANAGEMENT: The present management, which has developed for the Company the largest business and greatest profits in its history, will continue in charge.

Appraisal of plant, equipment and patterns by Messrs. Sanderson & Porter, and of land in New York City by Brown, Wheelock; Harris, Vought & Company, Inc.

We offer the above shares, when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to approval of legality by Messrs. Stetson, Jennings & Russell.

It is expected that delivery will be made in temporary form on or about October 15, 1924.

When night comes down over the city

Lengthening shadows • • • • • darkening sky • • • • • a light gleaming through the window of a tall office building • • • • • then row upon row of lights as the dynamos in some distant power plant hum to the evening load. The work of men goes on by night, as by day, because of electricity.

To the investor in the bonds of Electric Power and Light Companies the lights of the city represent income—as steady and sure as the demand for the electricity which makes it. In these safe bonds investors find the ideal investment.

"The Ideal Investment," our new booklet, contains 10 reasons why you should buy Electric Power and Light Bonds. Sent on request for Booklet T-1

The New York Times.

New York, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Pretty much all interest was diverted from the stock exchange today to the extraordinary demonstration on the grain and cotton markets. Neither on the stock market nor the bond market did any movement of consequence occur.

The reaction in stocks after an early rise, and the steadiness of bond prices at a virtually unchanged level, embodied merely a natural attitude in view of the general situation.

Declines of 1 to 2 points on the stock exchange, almost exclusively in the stocks which professional experts have lately been bidding up without the financial public's coöperation, were intermingled with a few advances of similar proportions. The one movement was as negligible as the other, and the effect on the general run of investment issues was wholly unimportant.

The overnight news was generally constructive, including the starting of dividends on the preferred issue of the Frisco, which was reflected in an overnight advance of 6½ points.

In the bond market prices came pretty much to a halt again, with no sign of weakness, but with total transactions less by fully one-third than in last week's active days.

Money rates did not change; they are not apt, after a "monthly settlement," to change until a week of redistributed credits has shown exactly what the resultant situation is.

WALL STREET NOTES

Heavy selling of public utility issues brought about sufficient liquidation and bear selling in other sections of the list to check effectually the upward movement of prices in yesterday's stock market, leaving closing quotations irregularly lower. However more than a score of issues attained new peak prices for the year, including such widely diversified stocks as U. S. Distributing common and preferred, Commercial Solvents "A" and "B," Montgomery Ward, Railway Steel Springs, St. Joseph Lead, Foundation Co., Radio Corporation, Simmons Bed common and preferred, Goodyear Tire preferred, and Spicer Manufacturing.

An opening gain of more than 6 points in Frisco preferred, which touched a new high at 73½, in reflection of the inauguration of dividends, was the outstanding feature in the railroad group. The stock eased later to 71¼. The common, which touched a new top at 31, eased nearly a point from the high. Missouri Pacific preferred and Gulf, Mobile & Northern preferred also bettered their previous top prices. Most of the other rails moved within rather narrow limits, "Soo" preferred standing out with a gain of 4 points on one sale.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Top grades of butter were in fair demand and firmer in all markets with as much as 1c advance paid here on 90 scores or better. Lower grades showed little change and the undertone was generally easy. Demand for cheese was slow and the market easy. Stocks are generally liberal.

Fresh eggs were unsettled with prices generally unchanged. Demand was somewhat less active. Receipts were 6,210 cases. Sales of 362 cars of refrigerator standards for December delivery were made at 37@37⅝c.

Spring chickens and old roosters were ½c higher and other poultry unchanged. Receipts were 8 cars and 1,440 coops.

MRS. BLACKSTONE SELLS HER LAKE SHORE RESIDENCE

BY AL CHASE.

Mrs. Timothy B. Blackstone of 1912 Prairie avenue yesterday sold her residence at 1416 Lake Shore drive for $105,000, according to the county records, through Eugene A. Bournique & Co. Considerable mystery surrounds the deal. The brokers say they can't possibly disclose who the buyer is. Title was taken by the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustees, and the seller was named as "Isabella F. Blackstone," which is Mrs. T. B. Blackstone's name.

The residence is of brown stone and is being remodeled and redecorated by the new owner, whoever he or she may be, which promptly settles the usual rumor that the property is being bought as the site for a tall apartment building, at least for the present.

$200,000 for Darlington Hotel.

Edward P. Lundstrom and Leonard H. Roach have bought the Darlington hotel, a four story, sixty-five room hostelry at the northwest corner of Leland and Racine, from Herman J. Berghoff for an indicated $200,000. The lot is 71x150. The Sheridan Agency and Loan corporation was broker.

Three apartments at 450 Belmont were sold by Mrs. Della Cook, widow of E. B. Cook of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company, to Mrs. Jane Frances Tilkington for $50,000. F. F. Overlook of McMenemy & Martin, also negotiated the sale of the three apartment building at 706 Junior terrace for John A. Thorstenson to Patrick O'Malley for $70,000.

Buys Former Armour House.

The residence at the northwest corner of Ridge and Davis, in Evanston, lot 100x210, was sold by the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee, to Arthur E. Anderson of Wilmette for $65,000. This was at one time the home of M. Cochran Armour. George W. Johnson was attorney for the buyer.

The Olympia apartments, twenty-one of them, at the southeast corner of Oakenwald and 44th place, lot 100x138, have been sold by Edgar L. George to Joseph L. Duplissis for an indicated $113,200, subject to $57,700. Mr. Duplissis built them eighteen years ago and three years later sold them to Marvin Farr. He took in exchange several acre tracts. Yesterday he gave in part payment one of these tracts, twenty acres, in Calumet City (West Hammond) at $45,000. The First Realty company was broker.

BETTER OUTLOOK FOR TRADE SEEN IN NEWS OF DAY

Indications that business generally is reaching higher and firmer ground were again presented in yesterday's news budget. Protruding facts of a significant nature are the monthly report of business failures, which shows a decided drop, and sharp revival of purchasing by the railroads, together with renewed activities by agricultural implement manufacturers.

Commercial failures during September dipped to a new low for the year in the United States, the total being 1,306, a decrease of 14 per cent from August, the previous minimum, according to R. G. Dun & Co. This is a decline of 38 per cent from January, which was the high month of the year, with 2,108.

$70,000,000 for Rail Equipment.

The jumping of railroads into the market for equipment during September brought orders for 115 locomotives, 23,000 freight cars, and 250 passenger cars, the total value of which is $70,00,000. Liberal tonnages in rails, track supplies and other equipment were also recorded. The business in sight leads manufacturers to believe they will be kept busy for the remainder of the year at least.

Plans for the resumption of activities in many agricultural implement plants now idle are being made as the result of the improvement in the condition of the farmers. Several plants of the International Harvester company will be in operation within a few weeks, it is announced.

Better Textile Trade in Sight.

Better business in the textile trade is seen with an advance of 7½ cents a yard in worsted goods by the American Woolen company. Price increases for fancy worsted uniform cloth and specialties were also announced. This effects the production of fifteen mills of the company. The product of six mills is announced as sold out.

Among the large pieces of financing this week is the flotation of $50,000,000 of bonds by the Pennsylvania railroad, which will be offered today by a syndicate at 98½ and interest, to yield 5.10 per cent. The proceeds will be used to retire a part of the 6 per cent bonds now held by the director general of railroads and with the reduced interest rate will effect a saving in annual fixed charges of the company.

Increased Credit Demand.

Although money rates continue abnormally easy for autumn, some increase in the demand for credit is noted in the weekly report of the federal reserve system. This probably is largely the result of quarterly and month-end settlements.

The consolidated statement of the twelve banks shows loans increased $6,893,000 and bills bought expanded $46,360,000. Government securities increased $1,361,00. Earning assets rose $54,614,000. Deposits expanded $18,120,000, with member bank reserve credits and government deposits increasing $7,613,000 and $9,616,000 respectively. Note circulation rose $15,115,000. Gold and total reserves declined $23,924,000 and $24,990,000 respectively. The ratio of reserves to liabilities fell to 79.1 from 80.4 per cent in the preceding week.

SUPREME COURT FOES ATTACK THE THING THEY URGE

BY SCRUTATOR.

Discussion of the agitation for a curb on the Supreme court may prove of educational value, if it brings home to the average business man, the small property owner, and the workingman the fact that his daily life is largely based upon the legalistic foundations of our society.

But some of the discussion has been a bit wide of that mark. We hear much of the personal guarantees of the bill of rights, and the dangers of their impairment. Vital as such an issue undoubtedly is, it is hard to "sell" it to the average man. He cannot visualize the craziest congress in the act of formally denying such abstractions.

Such theoretic rights are also honored with lip service in lands which provide no such safeguards for them as our Supreme court—although it is true that modern constitution makers in Australia and elsewhere have leaned toward our system of judicial guardianship of such rights against legislative action.

Then it is unfortunately true, and most of us know it, that the personal guaranties of the constitution are in practice violated every day by usurping police authorities and by the zealotry of communities or groups.

Every observant criminal lawyer and police reporter knows that the reason why our formal government has been honey combed by a feudal system of "gangs" is that the friendless or penniless man still has to seek out a lord or patron to get his "rights" under the law, as in the dark ages it behooved him to build his hut under the shadow of the castle to get "protection." The bill of rights and the decisions of our Supreme court are still a century or so ahead of our actual political and social practice—which is the fault of the people, not the sin of the constitution or the omission of the court. It has done its best.

The most pressing menace in the present agitation against the Supreme court may be less direct but more insidious than is frequently assumed. It is highly significant that the decisions that are most criticized are those based on the constitutional clause that forbids the taking of the citizen's property at the whim of the state and on the fourteenth amendment—a provision expressly adopted to prevent the reëstablishment of slavery or any similar social status, and to establish for all men a social nexus of free contract as distinguished from any group standing or classification in law or in fact.

But just such legislation, classifying men in groups and according special privileges, is the sort of legislation that the foes of the Supreme court want.
